FRANK M'BRIDE RELEASED

Frank M. McBride, the Salt Lake man arrested yesterday by City Marshal Bennett in company with a woman from the same place, was released last evening. The inspectors secured some keys which McBride said were believed to belong to the postoffice in Salt Lake and which were also taken, and used to determine if they were in Salt Lake at the time of the robbery. It appears that little evidence was had against McBride when taken into custody beyond the fact that he has served time for postal offenses and was a former resident of Salt Lake. He says that he was not in the city at the time of the robbery, as he is able to prove.

When he reached here he was accompanied by a woman who is said to have largely been the cause of his arrest. He was intimate with her before he was arrested, and she was to have a child by him, notwithstanding the fact that he has a wife and two children in Utah.

McBride is the nephew of ex-Senator George McBride of Oregon, and the son of Judge McBride of Spokane. He was arrested in Salt Lake since his release, and says he will remain here in the custody of the firm he represents, Miller Publishing Company.

In cases of cough or croup give the little one One Minute Cough Cure. This is not only easy and has no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe and almost instantaneous in effect. Tallman & Co.

HARVEST 70 PER CENT DONE

EARLIER FINISH THAN IN FORMER YEARS.

Many New Combines Sold This Year Enabled More Rapid Gathering of the Grain.
"Seventy per cent of the grain raised in Umatilla county this year is now in the sack," said E. L. Smith, implement dealer, in this assertion made by E. L. Smith, the implement dealer, concurred many farmers and other men in a position to obtain accurate information. Mr. Smith's estimate is an average of estimates given by a large number of well posted men in Pendleton, grain dealers, implement men and farmers. This being the case, the harvest will end much earlier than in former years. It began on June 25, although only a few at that time commenced cutting. By the fourth of July, the harvesting became almost general, and a week later about everyone in the county who had wheat was engaged in gathering the grain.

The beginning was therefore at the usual date, and ordinarily the harvesting would have extended much farther into the fall. As it is, two weeks hence will see the virtual end of the 1901 crop gathering.

Combines Helped.

One reason why the harvest has gone so rapidly is the sale this year of 32 combines by E. L. Smith. If the average for each machine be placed at 25 acres a day, and it be assumed that there were already as many machines used as were sold this year, 32, the 64 would cut during 70 days of harvesting 112,000 out of the 180,000 acres, approximately, that were cropped for this year. The balance was cut by headers and threshed either from the header wagons or from the stack.

The harvesting has progressed with little interruption and the grain comes from the machines in good condition.

THE TEACHER'S EXAMINATION

Weston Leader's Reflections on the Questions and Answers.

Of the 20 applicants for teachers' certificates at the recent county examination in Pendleton, 19 were successful. This is a remarkable showing, says the Weston Leader, compared with the previous examination, when there were many failures, and is accounted for by the fact that the questions were less difficult and the class better prepared.

The examination may not have been difficult, but such mathematical questions as this, on a hot day, must have caused considerable annoyance to perspiring school ma'ams:

"What is the cost of the lumber and posts to fence the NW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of a section with a four board fence, posts eight feet apart and costing 25 cents each, fencing at $18.50 per M?"

"It's not very hard, of course, but the average layman, who doesn't have to teach school, would rather build several real fences than figure the cost of this hypothetical one. Then something like this is apt to bother a person who is not in training to climb the ladder of educational fame:

"A 40-foot ladder placed between two poles reaches one of them 24 feet from the ground and the other 28 feet. How far apart are they?"

The first question in grammar immediately stumped a member of the Leader staff who has strung together a billion words, truthful, grammatical, or otherwise, but never has known a real fence then figure the cost of this hypothetical one. Then something like this is apt to bother a person who is not in training to climb the ladder of educational fame:

"Write a complex declarative sentence having an adjective clause, an adjective phrase, an adverbial phrase, and a conjunctive pronoun."

Or this, in geography:
"Name and give the general course of the following rivers: Two flowing into the Caspian sea; three into the Black sea; one into the sea of Azov."

How many of you could get up and glibly reel off a correct answer to the following query in mental arithmetic? Even to read it induces a sort of paralysis in the average brain:

"Thirty-six is four fifths of how many times three-fifths of 30? Seventy-eights of 48 is how many times three-eighths of 16?"

After reading the supreme court's decision as to whether the constitution follows the flag, or the flag the constitution, or whether they play tag with each other among the islands, just run over the above for mental recreation. If you escape the asylum your intellect is invulnerable.

In orthography a man who can spell aethogamus without a tremor would hesitate to rush blindly into this:
"Define the following: Vowel, consonant, diphthong, syllable, accent, prefix, suffix, primitive word, derivative word, compound word."

The numerous questions in the list are all practical, and those relating to United States history and civil government are something which every citizen as well as school teacher should know—but almost invariably don't. The few queries published above were merely selected at random to show that even an "easy examination" requires diligent preparation and a trained memory on the part of the teacher, who must literally arm himself with knowledge of the subjects covered. The average citizen would climb a tree if bombarded with the interrogation points comprised in the list.

THE WESTON NEIGHBORHOOD

Five Families From Missouri Arrive at Athens This Week.

The East Oregonian is indebted to the Weston Leader for the following items:
Joe Baddley returned yesterday afternoon from the Walla Walla hospital. He submitted to a severe surgical operation there and is now recovering.

James S. Jones, a Pendleton buyer, purchased a carload of beef cattle yesterday from Henry Stumper of this city at $3.00 per hundred. The cattle will be shipped to the sound from Athens. Mr. Jones is also in the market for a carload of fat hog, but was unable to pick them up in the Weston neighborhood.

Prof and Mrs. B. E. Smith have arrived in the city from Arlington to make their home. Prof. Smith will have charge of the work in penmanship, bookkeeping and drawing at the normal school, and is recommended

WHO IS THE WHEAT KING?

SOME INCLINED TO QUESTION PERINGER'S RIGHT TO THE TITLE.

Is it Walter Pierce or A. C. Cockburn or Some Other Farmer Who Has More Wheat?
George Peringer's right to the crown as king of Umatilla county's wheat men is questioned. Several persons refuse to bow down and worship him, intimating that the title "King George" is distasteful to them. If they establish their disloyal contentions, then Mr. Peringer must abdicate or be compelled to descend from the throne and take his rank as a mere prince of the blood royal. No one will deny his right to a preeminence. The fact, undisputed, that he threshed and stored 64,400 bushels from 1700 acres, at an average of 38 bushels to the acre, certainly entitles him to a duchy or an earldom, while a common baronetcy would not be high enough to place him in a rank commensurate with his wheat holdings.

A Deep Mystery.
It is a mystery why women endure backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Chertsey of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself but Electric wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I am now able to do all my work." It overcomes constipation, improves appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at Tallman & Co. drug store.

ROBERT POND LOST--FOUND

Missed His Way in the Meacham Mountains.

Robert S. Pond came home from Meacham this morning, ending a pleasant two weeks' camping outing. Mr. Pond expresses his gratitude to the star that led him a few days ago back to camp from the maze of unknown mountain trails. He had gone to the tunnel, and thence desired to proceed to the ranch owned by Rev. F. L. Forbes. Soon Mr. Pond was lost, and day advancing to its close, the sun went down and the darkness fell from the wings of night. It grew chilly. Cold winds blew from snow-crowned peaks that are bathed in an eternity of frigidity. Mr. Pond was clad in white duck trousers, barn leather belt, a shirt waist and a straw hat. Light canvas shoes encased his feet.

A bout 10 o'clock Mr. Pond found himself at the head of a deep dark canyon, high up where beans would boil and snow gets 20 feet deep in winter. He heard the growl of the bear, the wail of the coyote, the lazy sound of the rattler that was stifled by the cold, and the screech of the owl as he split from the wind, whistled about the rocky points and warned of a coming storm.

Had he been not alone he would not have been in a plight so serious. But he is prone to wander off alone and spends most of his vacations in solitary walks to view the landscape 'er.

He had not eaten since breakfasting at 6 a. m., therefore he was hungry. After a while he heard the holed passenger train send out one of those heart paralyzing shrieks that echoed through the mountain heights and showed him where was Meacham station. He was not long in hurrying down that gulch and joining his fellow campers who were just about to organize a searching party to bring in his mangled body for decent burial.
