The threshing machine of A. Good burned Saturday on his farm, two miles from La Grande. Two grain wagons were also consumed, making a total loss of about $1000, with no insurance. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

The La Grande sugar factory has just completed a run upon the syrup remaining in the vats from last year's cutting, as a result of which there are now in the warehouse 1500 bags of fine commercial sugar. The sugar is the best yet made by the factory.

Twenty-five girls employed by the Walla Walla produce company as fruit packers caught the strike fever and demanded three cents a box instead of 2 1/2 cents. The affair did not come to a walkout, the girls serving notice and promptly getting their demands.

Charles Hindburg and Eva Googin, the latter of this county, were married at the court house Saturday by Judge Hartman. County Clerk Chamberlain was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Hindburg went to Ada county, Idaho, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Maria Smith of Walla Walla is being sent to the asylum for the insane, unless her friends be found soon. She labors under the hallucination that the Mormons are after her. She says she has a husband in Walla Walla.

L. Erickson, a farm hand employed on the ranch of A. J. Puffer, one of the largest wheatgrowers on Eureka flat, was instantly killed, his body being frightfully mutilated by being caught under the wheels of a heavily loaded wheat wagon on a steep grade, the man being thrown from the wagon by the breaking of the brake bar.

Weather last week was hot enough for anyone. The maximum range was 88 to 106, while the minimum was from 48 to 59. The highest temperatures were: Sunday, August 18, 98; Monday, 91; Tuesday, 88; Wednesday, 91; Thursday, 102; Friday, 106; Saturday, 96. The minimum temperatures were: Sunday, August 18, 58; Monday, 59; Tuesday, 48; Wednesday, 55; Thursday, 56; Friday, 56; Saturday, 58. Five days were clear, and two part cloudy. The wind prevailed westerly.

We want to call your particular attention to our special tailoring department. This department is a great help to men who are unusually tall, or thin or short, or stout, who are otherwise out of the ordinary shape. It is also a satisfaction to men of perfect shape. It enables them to secure a perfect fit without being obliged to pay the prices of a high-priced tailor. An expert cutter from the "Best on Earth" tailors, Chicago, will be with us and give us a sale on Thursday, August 29. Come and see his samples. Alexander & Hexter.

If Portland's grain fleet keeps up its steady growth, at the present rate, a record tonnage will be listed by the end of the month. The latest accessions were reported Saturday as the German ship Carl, J. Hashagen master, and the French bark Les Adelfes, Canever master. Both are steel craft, the former registering 2019 tons and the latter 1353.

Judge Hartman and Mayor Vincent started for Portland Friday night. They went to sleep in the Pullman and at 3:30 in the morning Saturday awoke and thought they would get up and see the landscape. They supposed they were near Portland, and yet were amazed to see sagebrush on all sides and not even vigorous rubbing of the eyes would dispel the apparent delusion. Inquiry revealed that they were at Unatilla landing, the train having laid there with a broken wheel on one of the cars.

Gus Lafontaine came home on Sunday from Butte, Montana, leaving his string of runners, Gus L., Grace W. and Pauline, to be shipped to Spokane when the Butte meet ends. Mr. Lafontaine has won some good money, taking $1500 one day when Gus L. won the one and one-eighth mile hurdle in 2:09. Frank Frazer had his two horses, Hassalo and Mt. Hood, at Butte, and will have them at the Spokane meet. Hassalo and Hood have developed into very speedy animals and won their share of the purses. Mr. Frazer is now in Spokane.

Rev. G. S. Innis, D. D., Ph. D., of Hamline university, St. Paul, Minnesota, is here today, and will leave this evening at 6 o'clock over the W. & C. R. R. and Northern Pacific for the east, going via that route to St. Paul. He has been in Baker City and Sumpter, leaving his son, Homer C. Innis, in Baker City. The latter has purchased the assay office of D. W. C. Nelson and will conduct it. Mr. Innis was trained at Hamline university and Golden, Colo., where is located the Colorado school of mines. Mr. Innis is a competent assayer and mineralogist, and is qualified to perform the duties incident to analysis ores. He is an alumnus of Hamline, and also took special work at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

THRESHING MACHINE BURNED

M. H. Gillett Meets With a Loss of $1600. M. H. Gillett's new thresher, which had been in use only three days, was burned on the W. D. Voorhies place, 16 miles northwest of Pendleton, a little before noon, on Saturday. The fire started while the machine was in operation. In addition to the destruction of the machine, cleaner and derrick, about 300 bushels of Mr. Voorhies' wheat was destroyed. The wheat was insured. Mr. Gillett carried none. It is not known what caused the fire, which broke out very suddenly and burned fiercely. The loss is fully $1600.

PERSONAL MENTION.

John Jordan of Pilot Rock is here today. Geo. Hartman, jr., came home this morning from Portland.

Bert Carl is now in Portland, having gone there from Seattle. Gary L. Judson, a sheepman of Pilot Rock, is in the city today.

Frank Smith of Pilot Rock is very sick, caused by his horse falling with him. Cloyd Oliver, Geo. Lambrecht, Late Lambrecht and Mark Dwellingier of Echo are here today.

Miss Harriette Thompson and Miss Laura Chapman came down from Bingham springs on Sunday evening's train.

Homar Reeves was in Pendleton Saturday evening on his way home to Baker City from Portland and the seashore.

G. E. Stocker of Alta is in town. Mr. Stocker is now in the stock business, having bought the J. L. Bisher ranch.

L. Monasterilli came home from Elgin Saturday, where he has been cutting stone for the Roberts building at Heppner.

Miss Edna Baskins arrived on Sunday morning's train from Chicago, where she spent several months since she left Pendleton.

H. C. Guernsey left this morning for the mountains south from Pendleton, to remain two weeks. Mrs. Guernsey leaves tomorrow. They are supplied with camping outfit.

Billie Roberts and J. Archibald & Son are taking their threshing outfit and crews to the Paton country. Roberts will go to Harrington and J. Archibald to Colfax.

Geo. Darvau returned Saturday from Portland. While there he purchased fixtures for the St. George restaurant which will be opened by Mat Taylor and W. W. Pangburn of La Grande.

Gratifying word is received from Victoria, B. C., that Miss Bell Bishop is much improved and will soon be able to return to her home here. Mrs. E. P. Marshall, with whom she went to Victoria, remains with her.

Jay Yost, who for the past six weeks has been here making changes in the opera house left for Baker City, there to assume the stage management of Mr. Baker's new house. Mr. Yost understands the business thoroughly.

D. C. Gurdane of Heppner was in the city Sunday. He brought over with him one of the finest specimens of horseshell ever seen in the county. It was a year and weighed 1700 points, perfectly shaped. She readily sold for $170 to a Seattle man.

J. H. Raley, wife and two daughters will leave tonight for Grab camp at the head of California gulch to camp for a couple of weeks. Mr. Raley is taking plenty of ammunition for grouse, as it is said that around California gulch is the best grouse hunting in the county.

E. B. Maple is here from Seattle for a week's visit with his sons, George and Doc Maple. Mr. Maple crossed the plains in 1851, and went to Seattle that same year, and therefore has been in the Sound country 50 years, since the time when it was only a prospect on the map.

Miss Imogen Boyer, principal of St. Paul's school, at Walla Walla, arrived in Pendleton on Sunday evening's train from a trip to Honolulu en route home. There being no connecting train on Sundays she was compelled to remain over until this morning, when she continued her journey.

Haldane Dickson, west of Bingham springs on Saturday evening's train, to remain over Sunday and accompany Mrs. Dickson and their children home this morning. Mrs. Dickson gave a pleasant party Saturday evening, at which a huge camp fire was built and the guests given an enjoyable time.

A. M. Stringer, who was in Pendleton last year and served the street fair association as decorator and designer, passed through Pendleton on Sunday en route to Boise, where he will be employed in connection with the street fair to be given in that town. Mr. Stringer has been in Astoria pursuing his vocation in preparing for the regatta and street fair. He intends to go to St. Louis after completing his work at Boise.

Judge Hartman and Mayor Vincent started for Portland Friday night. They went to sleep in the Pullman and at 3:30 in the morning Saturday awoke and thought they would get up and see the landscape. They supposed they were near Portland, and yet were amazed to see sagebrush on all sides and not even vigorous rubbing of the eyes would dispel the apparent delusion. He is an alumnus of Hamline, and also took special work at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

The Dates Conflict. Pendleton is talking of a horse meet for the third week in October and about $5000 will be subscribed for purses in order to catch the horses of the Sound, Spokane, Yakima and Lewiston. The Pendletonians have not informed themselves very thoroughly on fair dates or they would have discovered that this date conflicts with that of the Grande Ronde fair, but as so little of the noise has been made over the Grande Ronde fair the fault is not altogether theirs.

RAFFLING AL GOLDMAN.

Popular Walla Walla Business Man in Demand Among the Ladies. Through the pervasivity of the linotype, says the Walla Walla Statesman, and the inadvertence of the proof reader, the Statesman last evening said that "Al Goldman was the fellow that was raffled by Mrs. Mellin." What a reporter had written in his almost unparelleled chirography was that "Mrs. Al Goldman won the pillow that was raffled by Mrs. Mellin." As soon as the paper containing the egregious error appeared on the streets, Mrs. Mellin was besieged with calls by ladies in person and over the telephone, clamoring for chances on Mr. Goldman. The pillow raffie was a tame affair in comparison.

Al never realized before how popular he was with the fair sex, who all agree that he "looks good" to them, and that they would like to take a chance on the winning pillow raffie, if his wife will consent to dispose of him in that way.

THE CEMETERY ROAD.

Funds Sufficient in Hand for Considerable Improvement. From the benefit ball game the other day the net proceeds were sufficient to make considerable improvement in the road leading to the cemetery, and the next game will add to the fund enough to do considerably more. It is thought the improvement will be such as to obviate all dust there for the immediate future. The good work done is much appreciated, it being about as much needed as anything lately brought to the public's attention. Many now hope the citizens will take up the matter of improvement of the cemetery, and save it from its present disgraceful condition.

At Bishop's Oil Well

E. R. Bishop, a former business man of Heppner, who is now an oil operator in Kern county, California, said to a reporter in Portland that the oil business is suffering from overproduction and so there is very little money in it, though he hopes for an improvement in a few years. His oil well is situated within 40 miles of Bakersfield, in the foothills along the western slope of the Sierra Nevada mountains, and so is somewhat remote from the market, though there is some talk of a pipe line to the coast and San Francisco. He says his well is 1200 feet deep and the cost of sinking it was about $7000. The well is not a gusher, but there is an evidence of the recent abundance of oil, and the fluid can be pumped out at small expense when the price justifies. At the present value of 16 cents a barrel, however, there is nothing in raising it to the surface. Crude oil a few years ago it was worth $1 a barrel in the San Joaquin valley, but overproduction has brought it away down.

New Trial for Cattle Thief.

Hannie Howard, the notorious stock raiser of Eastern Oregon, was taken back to Baker City from Salem by Sheriff Huntington on an order from Judge Eakin, who released him under $5000 bonds pending an appeal of his case to the supreme court. There has been no attempt at violence, and there has never been any danger of any. A number of prominent cattlemen were in Baker, and in view of the recent rumors of violence, the officers were prepared for trouble, although they did not fear an outbreak. Howard's mother, ever faithful and true, was on hand to welcome her boy. Judge Eakin approved the bond, and directed the sheriff to release the prisoner, and he was immediately escorted away from the court house by his mother. He had been in the penitentiary about six weeks.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to the firm of Duquis & Thompson, former proprietors of the White House Cash Grocery, are hereby notified that the said accounts have been assigned to me. My agent, H. S. McCutcheon, who is now at the office of E. B. Clopton, Main street, is the only one authorized to receive payment of these accounts. Kindly call on him and settle immediately and save unnecessary costs.

Rigby Barn Burned.

A barn on the reservation farm of W. T. Rigby, seven miles southeast of Pendleton, was burned Friday night, with its contents, 40 tons of hay. The loss is about $500. Mr. Rigby succeeded in saving several head of horses which were endangered for a time by the fire. There was no insurance. The cause of the fire is suspected to be cigarettes.

Mrs. S. H. Allport, Johnstown, Pa., says: "Our little girl almost strangled to death with croup. The doctor said she couldn't live but she was instantly relieved by One Minute Cough Cure, Tallman & Co."
