one is about the same as last year. Pendleton academy begins its work September 9, with two changes in the corps of teachers. G. W. Dowry, who is to succeed W. H. Bleakney in the Young Lord Marmion to the Rescue.

A party of young people in Pendleton went horseback riding Tuesday evening and had quite an exciting ex-visit from Dr. D. K. Pearsons of Chicago. Dr. Pearsons, you know, is the individual who lays awake nights trying to think of some good college to which he can give money. He has been exceedingly liberal to Whitman college, and informed me that he expects to give it much more womey. Inpects to give it much more womey. Incollege ending in the former winning, so pects to give it much more money. Indeed, although he has never visited Walla Walla and does not know what the place looks like, both he and his wife insist that they are going to build there the finest and largest school in the Pacific northwest. He is deadly the Pacific porthwest. He is deeply interested and has the utmost confi-dence in President Penrose."

The Union says further: "The foregoing will doubtless bring joy to the hearts of those who are interested in Whitman college. Mr. Marvin sent this valuable piece of information in a private letter which arrived in Walla Walla yesterday. Doubtless, it has never yet reached the ears of the trustees, faculty or any of those who have worked so long in the interests of Walla Walla's great educational institution. It is good news.

"All told, Dr. Pearsons has given fully $125,000 to Whitman college already. To other struggling educational institutions in the country he has given thousands and thousands. He is one of the genuine philanthropists of the world. He gives for the pleasure of giving, not for what the world will say about him.

This means much to Whitman college and to Walla Walla. Through the generosity of Dr. Pearsons and those who made up the necessary $25,...

000 to secure his donation of $50,000, the college today has the beautiful memorial hall, which, only a year ago, was formally dedicated. the college today has the beautiful memorial hall, which, only a year ago, was formally dedicated. Not satisfied, the doctor sent word if $25,more could be raised, he would add still another $50,000. President Penrose is now east securing this $25,-000, and from the tone of his letters he is meeting with success. The money thus raised will be expended to ward the erection of the much-needed girls' dormintory.

"From what Dr. Pearsons told Mr. Marvin, Whitman is assured the gymnasium, the training quarters, the fixing up of the big campus back of the main buildings and other improvements which were to be the next objective point after the girl's dormitory had been built. And what is more to Walla Walla, Dr. Pearsons and his wife both say it shall have the finest and largest educational institution in the Pacific northwest. A statement like this coming from such people is nothing but facts. What Dr. Pearsons says he means—Walla Walla will have the finest and largest school in the Pa cific northwest.'

Wednesday evening at Medical Lake will occur a wedding to which much interest attaches in Walls Walls. The principals in the happy event will be William Worthington of Spokane and Miss Carrie A. Mr. Worthington entered Whitman as a freshman and graduated in the class of 1900. Last year he spent at the college as assistant professor of Greek and English. He has severed his connection with the college to become a student in the Chicago Theological seminary, and will take his bride to Chicago to live. Miss Palmer, during three years in Whitman conservatory, became one of the best known in Walla Walla's musical circle. She graduated in music in the class of 1900, and has since de-voted herself to vocal teaching in Dayton. She is the possessor of a fine so

THE DUTCH TREAT.

Fad of Eastern Girls to Pay for Their own

Recently a Pendleton young man was asked by a bevy of young ladies to accompany them to an ice cream parlor here and have a "Dutch treat." He thrust his hand into his pocket, in an apparently absent minded manner and quickly ran his finger over the silver that was there to see if he had enough cash to pay for five sodas for the ladies and nimself, with a possible second order, making the bill $1 in all. He found he had the requisite amount, and said: "Yes, certainly, delighted, I'm sure. Let's go down to — 's." While he had counted his pocket change, he had been mumbling somechange, he had been mumbling some-thing about a protended engagement with his employer at that

He didn't know what was a "Dutch treat," which proves he has not traveled in Germany, where the people are accustomed to go in companies to the big beer halls each one to order and pay for just what he wants.

CONDITION OF WEBB STREET

GRAVELING CONTRACT WAS NOT CAR. RIED OUT.

Rock Crushing Will Be Tried as an Experiment and the Streets Greatly Improved.

The laying of four blocks of Webb street with gravel was not an unqualistreet with gravel was not an unqualified success. The gravel, according to the terms of the contract, was to be sifted, but if it has been it was through a barb wire fence and the siftings taken for the roadbed. A man with four of the large pebbles in his trunk would have to pay for excess baggage. A light wagon passing over the gravel pulls like a 2-ton load and makes more noise than a circus and makes more noise than a circus band, and on account of the size and roundness of the stones the roadbed is not at all stable. Teamsters willingly drive several blocks out of their way to avoid passing over it. It has not exactly made a speedway of upper
