GENERAL NEWS.

Andrew Carnegie has offered $20,000 to Riverside, Calif., for a free public library.

Sir William C. Van Horne, chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific railroad, estimates that the grain crop in the Canadian Northwest will reach a total of 100,000,000 bushels. "This is a bumper crop," said Sir William, "and will allow the farmers a surplus for export trade."

Senator Clark wants to buy the Bitter Root stock farm formerly run by Marcus Daly. The ranch consists of 125,000 acres of the best land in Montana, of which about 25,000 are under cultivation, and upon which Mr. Daly spent millions of dollars in improvements. It is said that Senator Clark's intention is to cultivate sugar beets on the ranch.

General Manager Krottschmitt of the Southern Pacific company, has announced that all the company's locomotives will be equipped to burn oil instead of coal, as soon as possible. To that end storage tanks with a capacity of 30,000 barrels each will be erected at Oakland, Fresno, Mendota and other points south and east on the line.

The Turkish ambassador in London, Costaki Anthopolis Pasha, has been instructed to inform Great Britain that the action of a commander of a British warship in the Persian Gulf, in preventing the Turkish corvette Sehob from entering Koweyt, is incompatible with friendly relations. The British side of the controversy is that the Sehob was trying to land Turkish troops on the territory of a Sheikh, who is independent of Turkey.

Dartmouth college will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the graduation of Daniel Webster from that institution on September 25 and 26. Addresses will be delivered by former Governor Frank S. Black of New York; Senator Hoar, Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court; Congressman McCall, Judge Alfred Russell of Detroit and others. One thousand of the alumni will parade, dressed in revolutionary costumes. There will be singing by a chorus of 200 voices. Samuel Appleton, the only living grandson of Daniel Webster, will lay the corner stone of Webster Hall, the new administration and alumni memorial building.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

The Harvest Home carnival, under the auspices of the Modern Woodmen of America, opened in Albany on Thursday.

James O. Guild, a pioneer of '47, who died at his home at Albany Sunday, September 25, was born in White Plains, Ill., in 1840, and came across the plains with his parents.

A. B. Hammond has bought 50,000 acres of timber for $500,000 on Tualatin and Trask rivers in Oregon, and will mill the 2,000,000 feet standing thereon in Portland.

A Portland business man, just returned from the east, says that the projected 1902 exposition at Portland has already attracted more attention to the Pacific Northwest than all the other advertising it has had in many years.

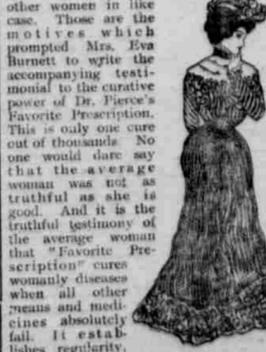

E. C. Greenman, ex-fish superintendent for the Oregon fish commission, has organized a company, with H. H. Trembly and W. S. Jennings as incorporators, to propagate fish. Mr. Greenman was recently removed by State Fish Warden Van Dusen.

Rev. Fung Chak, who has been in charge of the Chinese mission work in Portland for the past three years, will leave for Canton, China, to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist church at that place. This church has a membership of 1000, 700 of whom are residents.

From the present outlook, the solution of the strike question which is costing this city so many thousands of dollars is as far off, if not farther, than when the trouble first commenced. Both sides are determined not to give in, and already there is talk in certain quarters that it will be months, rather than weeks or days, before the end is reached, says the Telegram's San Francisco correspondent.

LOOKING BACK

To the time when she was plucked from the very grasp of death, the natural impulse of the womanly heart is thankfulness for the means which saved her, and a desire to help other women in like case. Those are the motives which prompted Mrs. Eva Burnett to write the accompanying testimonial to the curative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is only one cure out of thousands. No one would dare say that the average woman was not, when all other means and medicines absolutely fail. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, restores the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

"I have intended for some time to write to you," says Mrs. Eva Burnett, of Kensington, Leavenworth, Mo. "I had given a testimonial to regard to what your medicine has done for me. My baby came in July, 1898, and after everything had been done I had been given up to die. I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. He had no faith in it, but he got it, and when I had taken three weeks I was able to walk to the dining room to my meals, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was able to cook for my family of four. I can never praise Dr. Pierce and his medicine enough."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY HAS CHANCES FOR RECOVERY.

Buffalo, Sept. 7--6 p. m.--President McKinley, so the physicians believe, has passed danger of blood poisoning and will recover.

BULLETINS OF THE DOCTORS

First One Today Told About the Wounds and Their Location.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—A bulletin issued at 7 o'clock this morning by the physicians said: "The president was shot about 4 o'clock. One shot struck him upon the upper portion of the breast bone, glancing but not penetrating. The second penetrated the abdomen five inches below the left nipple, one and one-half inches to the left of the medical line. The abdomen was opened through the line of the bullet wound. We found the bullet had penetrated the stomach. The opening in the front wall of the stomach was carefully closed with silk stitches, after which search was made for the hole in the back of the wall of the stomach, which indicated the bullet in the same way. The further course of the bullet could not be discovered, although careful search was made. The wound was closed without drainage. No injury to the intestines or other abdominal organs could be discovered. The patient stood the operation well. His condition at present justifies hope of recovery."

Mrs. McKinley Would Attend Him. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Mrs. McKinley slept well, but with her it was a forced sleep. She wanted to spend the night at her husband's bedside, but, in her feeble condition, this was not to be thought of. In the president's chamber there were watchmen every second. Dr. Rixey was with him until daybreak. All bulletins that came from the bedside during the night showed the president resting comfortably. He was under the influence of strong opiates which induced sleep, and while he slept the injuries were being tenderly cared for by the physicians and nurses.

Word to the White House. Washington, Sept. 7.—Secretary Cortelyou sent the following to the White House this morning: "The president passed a fairly comfortable night and no serious symptoms have developed."

Unchanged This Morning. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—At 7 o'clock the president's condition is unchanged. Dr. Rixey announced that the operation would be able to decide during the day whether or not the wound would likely prove fatal.

Buffalo, Sept. 7, 6 a. m.—The president passed a good night. Temperature, 102; pulse, 110; respiration 24; signed, Rixey, Park, Cortelyou.

May Use a Knife. Buffalo, Sept. 7, 10:30 a. m.—The surgeons are talking of using the X-ray to locate the bullet in the president's body. If that fails, they will resort to the knife.

Condition at 3:40 o'clock. Buffalo, Sept. 7, Milburn house, 3:40 p. m.—The president continues resting quietly with no change for the worse, pulse, 140; temperature, 102 1/2; respiration, 24. Signed, Dr. Rixey.

Mrs. McKinley is lying down. She has remarkable fortitude. The president has taken some liquid nourishment.

Condition at 3:45 p. m. At 3:45 p. m., Dr. Rixey authorized Secretary Cortelyou to notify Secretary Long that there is much encouragement.

A Starting Rumor. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Mrs. McKinley sat on the veranda a few minutes this morning, talking with friends. This is taken as a reassuring sign, but the fact that the members of the cabinet are now here, gathered at the president's bedside, has started a rumor that he is dying. His temperature has gone up to 105 or 106.

Fearing Blood Poisoning. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—The surgeons announced this noon they feared blood poisoning. If it set in, they say the president will die. The bullet has lodged in the muscles of the back. The police fear another riot if this is made known and are calling out the reserves. Later, however, it was rumored he had passed the critical stage.

Crowds About the Milburn House. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—The Milburn home is now surrounded by a guard of infantrymen. The crowd in front of the house at an early hour was quite large and was constantly augmented. Persons who gathered in the streets, and upon surrounding lawns were there in sympathy, and moist eyes were visible everywhere in the crowd.

Englishmen Give Sympathy. London, Sept. 7.—London feels almost as much sorrow over the shooting of President McKinley as if the king had been assassinated. The subject is on everybody's lips and expressions of sympathy are constant. The feeling among tourists at Glasgow runs high. They assembled today and passed resolutions of regret that the assassin had not been lynched.

Sympathy From Sovereigns. Washington, Sept. 7.—The state department has received messages from the president of France, and the emperor of Germany expressing sympathy for the president.

Mrs. McKinley Stood It Well. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Mrs. McKinley was informed of her husband's shooting and stood it bravely. She went to his bedside.

Day of Prayer in Maryland. Annapolis, Sept. 7.—Governor Walter Smith issued a proclamation setting next Tuesday as a day of prayer for the swift recovery of the president.

This Fiend Was Gled. Scottsville, N. Y., Sept. 7.—A crowd tried to lynch a stranger for saying he was glad the president was shot. He was rescued by a deputy sheriff.

LATEST REPORT ALARMING

Cleveland, Sept. 7, 4:30 p. m. Dan R. Hanna, son of the senator, just received a telegram from his father at Buffalo that the president is worse and cannot live.

HIS DIABOLICAL SCHEME.

Czolgocz Boasts of His Bloody Deed to the Police. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—This morning the police at headquarters became still more fearful as to the safety of Czolgocz and it was decided to move him from the third floor cell to a dungeon in the cellar. It was decided by the police in case an effort was made by a mob to get at the assassin it would be safer to have him in the cellar than on the third floor. Two officers are near the cell and several officers are guarding the entrance to the cellar. The prisoner in it is said declared in his confession that he was alone in the deed.

"I planned it long ago," he boasted, "and planned it well. I followed the president to Niagara Falls on Thursday morning and could have shot him there, but a terrible example was needed, so I waited until thousands surrounded him. I have been following him three days to get a proper opportunity."

Czolgocz has lost his fear and talks freely with those who come near his cell. He appears calm and self-possessed.

WHEN ROOSEVELT WAS TOLD

Only Exclaimed "My God!" and Turned His Head. Burlington, Vt., Sept. 7.—When Vice President Roosevelt was handed a dispatch yesterday afternoon informing him that an assassin had attempted the president's life, his face turned white. For a moment he was speechless, then a single exclamation escaped his lips and he turned away his head. "Probably fatal," shouted the man who had brought the news to the vice president. "My God!" was all that Roosevelt said.

CHANCE IS FOR RECOVERY.

Physicians Made Thorough Examination. No Vital Part Was Touched—A Declaration of the Anarchist of No Remorse. Buffalo, Sept. 7, 1:30 p. m.—The president's physicians just finished a thorough examination, and find that his vital parts, which entered the abdomen, touched no vital part. They are very hopeful and in the present conditions can see no reason why the president shall not recover. The second bullet is not located.

Czolgocz said this morning, after another session in the sweat box: "I shot him for an example and hope he dies. I shot him because it was my duty. The man who succeeds him must not be the slave of capital, or he will perish, too."

Rixey Said "Crisis Has Passed." Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Dr. Rixey is authorized for the statement the crisis has passed. From 9 to 12 o'clock the president's pulse had made a phenomenal fall from 146 to 136. The surgeons say he is taking all necessary nourishment and is getting along well.

Condition at 3:30 o'clock. Buffalo, Sept. 7, 3:30 p. m.—The president's physicians issued the following bulletin: "The president continues to rest quietly. No change for the worse."

Roosevelt Arrived in Buffalo. Vice-President Roosevelt has arrived. Last Night's Later News. Buffalo, Sept. 6, 5:50 p. m.—The president is reported to be resting easily. Anesthetics were administered. Dr. Park has begun probing the abdomen for the bullet.

Buffalo, Sept. 7, 6:30.—The president is conscious and resting easily, being much improved.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—The first bullet fell from the wound in the breast bone as soon as the president was placed on the operating table. The president picked up the bullet and handed it to Mr. Ellis. The president took no anesthetics while the doctors were probing for the second bullet, and immediately after it was taken out showed marked signs of improvement.

Buffalo, Sept. 6, 7 p. m.—The following bulletin just issued by the attending physicians: "The president's condition is safe. He passed the operation in good shape. The second bullet was probed for, but not found, and is probably in the muscles of the back. The intestines are not injured."

Buffalo, Sept. 6, 7:25 p. m.—The president was moved to the residence of President Kilburn of the exposition, on Delaware avenue. The streets are closely guarded.

At 7:30 p. m., Secretary Cortelyou said: "Everything favorable, so far."

8:15 p. m.—Dr. Rixey, personal physician of the president, telegraphed Secretary Hay the president's condition is very serious.

Surgeons Parmenter and Park announce the president's wounds not fatal, and is probably in the muscles of the back. "The president is out of danger. He will live."

THE ANARCHIST CZOLGOZ

Name Found to be Not Nieman—He Said Not Sorry for Bloody Deed. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—The real name of Nieman is Leon Czolgocz. He was born in Detroit and came here from Cleveland.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—There was talk of lynching Czolgocz. Men and boys last night were parading the streets with ropes and clubs, shouting, "Lynch him!" Thousands of people were in the vicinity of the jail, held in check by the police and soldiers.

Description of the Shooter. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Czolgocz has brown hair and blue eyes; is five feet, seven inches in height; wore a badge of the Knights of the Golden Eagle. After the shots were fired the crowd set upon him and knocked out his teeth, battered his face and broke his nose. When asked about the shooting Czolgocz said: "I made up my mind this morning to do it."

When Czolgocz was taken to headquarters a crowd of 300 excited men followed the patrol crying, "Lynch him!" The crowd was quickly dispersed by the police. Czolgocz when arrested said to a secret service man: "I shot him because I am an anarchist and only did my duty."

It was given out last night that the Buffalo police were warned of a plot of the anarchists to take the president's life during his visit. The exposition gates were closed last night and the electric tower and other lights put out.

In Detroit Organized Anarchists. Detroit, Sept. 7.—There are three Fred Nieman living in Detroit. All of them are Polish laborers, employed at the Delta Salt Works. The anarchists have no organization here, although it is known that several enthusiastic followers of the cult reside here.

Portland Man on "Nieman." Portland, Ore., Sept. 7.—C. E. Bortle, 352 Morrison St., says he knows a Fred Nieman. Nieman lived in River Rouge, a suburb of Detroit. His family lived on a farm near Chicago Falls. Czolgocz is aged 25 and has nine brothers, six of whom live here. His step mother said this morning that Leon, since he was three years old, was always timid and sickly and liked to sit by himself and mope. He never had any associates here. Two weeks ago he wrote his parents from an Indiana town he was going far away and they would never see him again. One brother is a soldier in the Philippines.

Leon's stepmother said he was weak in mind and he shot the president because he was insane. He never told his family he was discontented with anything. Had no ill will against the rich or the country's chief magistrate and liked this country, and so far as she knew, had never read the teachings of Emma Goldman. From 9 to 12 o'clock the president's pulse had made a phenomenal fall from 146 to 136. The surgeons say he is taking all necessary nourishment and is getting along well.

Probably Made a Confession. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—It is pretty well known the anarchist made a detailed confession, but the officers are guarding jealously.

Arrested Nine in Chicago. Chicago, Sept. 7.—Nine anarchists were arrested here last night on instructions from Buffalo. They are believed to know something about the attempted assassination. The leader is a man named Isaak, editor of an anarchist paper, denies he knew anything about the assassination or the plot, but is being awaited.

It is said Czolgocz was here in July and followed Emma Goldman when ever she went and expressed a desire to join the inner circles of the anarchists and kill a ruler.
