MINING NEAR CIRCLE CITY
T. K. FELL TELLS THE EAST OREGONIAN READERS.

Something About His Experiences in Alaska Where He Joined John Dodson at the Mastodon Claims.
Portland, Sept. 7.—Theron B. Fell, formerly manager of the Pendleton woolen and scouring mills, who has just returned from Alaska, told the East Oregonian correspondent the following about his journey:

"The principle diggings in the Circle City district are located along the heads of streams emptying into Deadwood, forty miles southwest of Circle, and on Mastodon, Independence and Eagle Creeks, ten to twenty miles beyond."
"While during winter there are excellent trails to these camps over which dog teams freight from Circle City at five to eight cents per pound, in summer they are almost inaccessible, owing to the marshy lying between the Yukon and the foothills of Mastodon mountain."

"Reaching Circle City in June, I was advised to wait until July for the trails to dry, before starting to Bachelor Creek, new diggings on which I was to meet John Dodson. But finding an old timer who was to hit the trail for a camp within a day of Bachelor, we put on hip boots and light packs and started out."
"A short distance back from Circle we struck the marsh and mosquito, and for thirty miles waded in water from two inches to two feet deep, over a spongy growth of mosses. Why walking in Alaska is called 'mushing' is easily understood."

"On the summer trail everyone wears a thick net veil, and heavy gloves. A cloud of mosquitoes constantly swarm around, millions of them. The only refuge is to build a smudge and stand in the smoke."
"Reaching the foothills we left the trails and took up the ridge to Porcupine dome, across many ice glaciers. At midnight on June 19, we made camp on the edge of a glacier and saw the light appear at 11:25 p. m. and rise at 12:35 a. m., scarcely dropping below the horizon."

WHERE HE FOUND DODSON.
"After reaching the mountains we exchanged gum boots for walking shoes, which we carried in our pack, frequently having to change back to hip boots on account of melting snow drifts which had to be crossed."
"The last day I mushed alone by a rough map and compass, but struck Bachelor diggings just as John and his men came up for supper. I failed to recognize him in long whiskers. The whole outfit looked like pirates. No one uses shears during the mosquito season."

"Going from Bachelor to Mastodon creek, where the richest ground is located, I saw the first real mining. Although a short creek, about half million is taken out each season in an extremely primitive manner, simply pick, shovel and sluice box. The name of the creek is due to the finding of numerous bones of mastodons in digging. I have two teeth and a portion of a jaw bone in perfect condition. The face of the teeth measure four by nine inches. At some time Alaska was evidently a tropical country."

"The Circle diggings were discovered in '94, but little was done until '96, when over a million was taken out. Then every one stampeded to Dawson. Many returned there in '99 and the camp was again lively. Last year the stampede was to Nome. One man who took out over $60,000 on Mastodon, expecting millions at Nome sold his claims cheap. This year he is back, broke. Quite a number are returning from Dawson, so Birch creek district boom again. However, it is only a matter of time until the average miner has to stampede to a new strike. They are like moose, cannot remain long in one place."

ROADS IN WALLA WALLA
Citizens Will Vote on Manner of Paying Annual Tax.
Whether the citizens of Walla Walla county pay their road tax in cash or continue to turn out each year and work out their assessments with plow and scraper, says the Union, will depend upon the result of an election to be held on October 12 at which time the people will be given the right to choose. If the negative receives the greater number of votes things will remain as they are, if the contrary is the case there will be a radical change.

NEWS OF VARIOUS CHURCHES
Rev. Dr. Brown Acquitted at Walla Walla Conference.
The Methodist conference committee at Walla Walla decided to clear the Spokane presiding elder, Rev. Henry Brown, of the charge of maladministration brought against him, the ballot standing eleven for acquittal and none for guilty. Four refused to vote. This action came after five hours of debate behind closed doors, not even the witnesses hearing the argument.

TUTULLA NOTES.
Correspondent Tells About What the People are Doing.
Henry Schroeder was over from Ritor last week as witness for a neighbor who made final proof on some land. James Anderson and Chris Nelson have returned from a vacation at Hildaway springs.

O. P. Bowman after a very successful run with two headers has stored those machines and pulled out his thrasher last week.
M. H. Gillett's steam combine has returned to Tutuilla after a run in the Adams neighborhood.
Anderson, a former resident of Tutuilla who has been over from North Yakima on a visit, returned home on Saturday.

Do Turner is finishing up the few jobs of threshing skill left at Tutuilla before starting his machine to the Palouse country, where a number of machines have already preceded him. James Clark, who has been in the employ of M. H. Gillett, tendered his resignation last week, and has gone to the Palouse country.
George Duggan, fireman on M. H. Gillett's steam combine, has returned to work after a week of enforced layoff in Pendleton, where he went for medical treatment.

Fred Webber, a sheepman of Nolin, was a Tutuilla visitor on Tuesday, piloting a number of stockmen who were hunting strawstacks and winter range for cattle; an article which the increasing number of combines in use makes very scarce. William McElbannon was over from Yacopis on Wednesday in quest of necessary article he had run short. Unable to procure them here, he took the train to Walla Walla the same evening. Receiving thirty bushels to the acre when he had figured on twenty, accounts for Mr. McElbannon's shortage.

Charles Foster was down from Gilliland on Tuesday on his way to Stage gulch for a band of cattle which he is taking to winter.
HARVEST ON WESTON MOUNTAIN.
Yields Were Good and Threshing is About Ended.
W. W. Carille's outfit will finish threshing this week on Weston mountain, and the threshing here and there has been uniformly good, and like their brother farmers below, the mountain men are well satisfied—but want wheat to go a little higher.

An enjoyable reception was given last night in the Presbyterian church parlors in honor of Mrs. Mary Moulton, who will soon depart for the east. Mrs. Moulton was presented with a spectacle case by her Sunday school class and a gold thimble by the Ladies' Aid Society. She will leave next Wednesday night for Kanakoo, Ill., where she will spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Decker. Her return is indefinite.
On this date the O. R. & N. Co. will sell round trip tickets to Spokane at $8.50, which will include one admission to the fair. Children between the ages of 5 and 12 one-half the above rate. Tickets expire September 23.

BYER'S ESTIMATE OF WHEAT
NEW WAREHOUSE INCREASES STORAGE CAPACITY TO 300,000 SACKS.
He Says Quality is Better Than Ever Before in the History of Umatilla County.

W. S. Byers, who owns the largest milling plant in the state, has recently added a large grain warehouse to his property. The structure was completed only about a week ago and already 15,000 sacks of wheat have been stored. The owner figures that the elevator and three sections will accommodate 300,000 sacks. He says more over that the amount of wheat he will use this year will fill the elevator and all the store houses twice. This represents approximately 1,200,000 bushels. If Mr. Byer's prophecy is correct, that there will be 6,000,000 bushels in Umatilla county, then he will utilize one-fifth of the entire crop.

When asked concerning the quality of the wheat this year, Mr. Byers said that it has not been surpassed at any time in the history of the county, and as to quantity it is far above the average. There is some snort, but that is done away by his estimate, which the owner says is the only one in the state. If 6,000,000 bushels is the true estimate for the county, then the average will run from 30 to 35 bushels to the acre.

He Kept His Leg.
Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, but he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 1 1/2 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For eruptions, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. Tallman & Co. will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

ANNOUNCEMENT
We will open with a complete line of staple and fancy groceries in the store formerly known as the White House on Thursday, September 5th, 1901. Having purchased the same some time we have been enlarging, painting, etc., to accommodate our new fresh stock which is on the road. We hope we may merit a continued patronage of all former customers, and we also trust that a great many of those whom we now do not know, may so favor us with a trial that at this time next year we may be intimately acquainted with them.
