A CONTENTED FARMER.

W. M. Scott Has a Finely Appointed Home at Helix.

W. M. Scott of Helix spent a few days in Pendleton on Monday afternoon. Mr. Scott says that he is well pleased with his wheat crop this year, which he harvested 23 acres of wheat, yielding 100 bushels to the acre. When the wheat is harvested, he said that he did not expect to be able to find a home more content than his present home. The house and farm are furnished with a perfect water system including one well containing twenty thousand gallons and another of five or six thousand gallons. His house has modern conveniences and Mr. Scott says that he is perfectly content to spend the winter on the farm.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Most European Authority on Skin Diseases, Says It's a Germ. The old idea was that dandruff is a skin disease, but a dandruff in the condition of the scalp is excluded. Prof. Uuna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ borrows under the scalp, forming a little scale of cuticle, depriving the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's "Eucalypti." Destroy the cause, you cure the effect. Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and restores luxuriant growth. Delightful dressing.

THE LIFE OF JOHN McRAE

DIED AT SALEM ON SATURDAY, AGED 68.

A Native of Scotland—Was Stricken by the Indians—Worked in Gold Fields in Early Days.

Athena, Sept. 10.—At Salem, Saturday morning, September 7, 1901, John McRae, died, aged 68 years. Mr. McRae was born in Applecross, Ross Shire, Scotland, in 1833, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McRae, came to Cape Briton in 1835. Shortly after arriving at that place he was stricken by the Indians, but was rescued from the savages just as they were in the act of staining his skin. His parents then went to Prince Edward Island, Canada, and there he made his home until 1872, when he came to the gold fields of California and Nevada. He went to San Francisco and resumed his trade of shipbuilding. Mr. McRae was a thorough mechanic and for a number of years worked in the leading shipyards of the Pacific coast. In 1897 he was sent by the Canadian Pacific Navigation company from Victoria to St. Michaels, Alaska, where he worked until July 7, 1898. At this time he met with an accident from the effects of which he never fully recovered. He visited at the home of his nephew, A. M. Gillis, in this city in August of 1898, for a short time, and afterward made his home at Salem until the time of his death. Mr. McRae was a man who was liked by all and leaves many friends. He also leaves two sisters and one brother, who now resides at Prince Edward Island.

WALLA WALLA'S BUILDING

Citizens Hope to Secure One and Will Work for It.

Walla Walla, Sept. 9.—The Union says: The citizens have not yet given up the idea of securing a federal building for Walla Walla. Congressman W. L. Jones will be here September 10, for the purpose of addressing the students of Whitman college on the occasion of the convocation. It is then that an effort will be made and which many believe will prove successful. A committee is at work and has for some time been securing data as to the amount of rent paid by the government for buildings in this city each year. This data will be furnished Mr. Jones in the hope that he may present it at Washington and secure favorable action.

On the other hand there is a sentiment that all efforts will be useless along this line. By those who do not favor the project the claim is made that it is the policy of the government to place buildings only in the larger cities, beginning with the largest. This would indicate that several years may elapse before the dream of a federal building in this city is realized.

However, the people of Walla Walla have unbounded confidence in Mr. Jones and the manner in which he has stood up for this city through thick and thin has won their hearts. They recognize and realize the fact that they are indebted to him for the present rural mail service and many of them say that "if Jones will only take the matter up we will get the building."

ACADEMY'S ATTENDANCE.

First Day Saw 140 Enrolled, 60 in Academic Department.

The faculty of the Pendleton academy was pleased on Monday morning with the fine attendance that was enrolled for the first day of the year—140 in all departments, with 60 in the academy. This is better than ever before. One year ago the first day's enrollment was 107, and on the first day of 1899 it was 70. Of the students now in attendance fully one-half are from out of town. This indicates the benefit the academy is to Pendleton, in that it brings here many young people and their families to live. Quite a number of families have located in the town solely to educate their children in this school.

The excellent showing thus made will stimulate the work of securing subscriptions to the $10,000 fund it is desired to raise here to be supplemented by outside donations from wealthy persons who are interested.

Columbia College at Milton.

Will C. Howard, well known here, is in town from Weston, where he attended the M. E. church, south, conference. He holds the chair of science at the Columbia college at Milton, and feels good over the fine prospects that are held out for a large attendance this year. The college opens next Monday, and it is confidently believed that the attendance will exceed that of last year, when it was 130. The college was organized last year. The college is under the patronage of the M. E. church, south.

CHANGE IN SCHOOL BOOKS.

Principal Conklin Makes Some Suggestions to Parents.

Regarding changes in books in Oregon public schools, Principal E. B. Conklin said today: "I desire to call parents' attention to a change in the school law relating to books. The change is to take effect this school year, beginning in Pendleton on Monday next. It incurs a small expense to the patrons, but not very large. It would be well to keep this in mind and be prepared. The new books are exchangeable at half price. For example, the 25-cent first reader is exchanged for 13 cents, a new one being obtainable at 15 cents by leaving the old one. A 35-cent language book is exchangeable for 18 cents. The large arithmetic is exchanged for 23 cents. It formerly cost 65 cents. Thus, it will be seen that the new books are cheap, by fifty per cent than were the old ones. "It will be my effort to arrange to make the change in the best manner and to cause as little expense to parents as possible. In this connection, allow me to make a suggestion, that no new books be bought or exchanged until the lists are furnished by the teachers. It will save mistakes and confusion. Nearly all of the books we have used as supplementary have been adopted and of course will necessitate no change or expense."

A Fortune to Be Given Away.

A noted philanthropist has started to give away his fortune to charities in all parts of the country, and no doubt much good will be accomplished. There is another agency that has also accomplished a great deal of good, namely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the medicine which has been curing stomach troubles for the past 50 years. No doubt it has accomplished more real good than any other remedy. You cannot be entirely well unless your stomach is in good condition, and the best medicine to bring this about is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It promotes appetite, insures digestion, cures dyspepsia, regulates the liver and keeps the bowels regular, also prevents biliousness, heartburn or flatulency. Don't fail to try it, but be sure you get the genuine.

DEATH IS THE PUNISHMENT

BRISBO IF CONVICTED WILL HANG BY THE NECK.

Federal Statutes Provide Such Penalty for Crime of Rape on Government Territory.

Ed Brisbo, ex-chief of the Indian police on the Umatilla reservation, would hang were the United States court at Portland to prove him guilty of the crime of rape upon the person of Anna Blamont, a white girl on the reservation who is under sixteen years of age.

The crime for which he was arrested is under the federal statutes, which, unlike that of the state of Oregon and other states, provides a punishment of death by hanging for the person convicted of rape on territory exclusively under the control of the United States, such as Indian reservations.

Brisbo was placed in jail by Sheriff Blakley pending the examination before United States Commissioner John Hatley, jr. Brisbo asked the sheriff put into the jail with the other prisoners. Brisbo remarked that he simply would not go into the jail, but himself would pay for a guard. The sheriff then informed him that he was a prisoner of the United States, that he was held for a crime for which the penalty is death, that he would not be allowed to go out on bail and that he was apparently not in full realization of the serious situation in which he had been placed.

Brisbo Was Faint.

At this Brisbo practically fainted, and was weak and limp when he was later taken into the woman's department of the jail. He was taken there after Sheriff Blakley had discovered what was the reason for Brisbo's aversion to being put in the usual place.

Brisbo last August arrested Columbia George and Toy Toy, Indians now in jail here charged with the murder of Annie Edna, an Indian woman they admittedly killed because they regarded her as a sorceress. Brisbo was afraid Columbia George and Toy Toy would do him harm. Sheriff Blakley then went into the jail and consulted those Indians, and with malice in their eyes, they told him that it would be better not to bring Brisbo into the part of the jail in which they were confined, that they would not answer for what might happen.

The arrest of Brisbo explains why he left the reservation suddenly ten days ago, saying that the friends of Black Horn had threatened his life. He said that they had declared a feud against him on account of Black Horn's death and that it was best for him to get out of the country.

"Nerve Waste."

One of the most helpful books on nerve weakness ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. Sapper of San Francisco, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in agreeable contrast to the vast mass of false scolding which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity.

It is endorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advance says: "A personal of this book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering through nervous impairment."

The book is $1.00 by mail postpaid.

One of the most interesting chapters—chapter 22, on Nervousness and Nerve Tonics—has been printed separately as a sample chapter, and will be sent to any address for stamp by the publishers, THE PACIFIC PUBLISHING CO., Box 2020, San Francisco.
