Sales are being made at $20 per ton and some are holding for $30 before bargains will be closed. The eyes on the many nice furniture reations and secure some Yakima potato grower is regarded as richer than a Klondiker and his wealth. will be counted by the thousands. One man on the Yakima Indian reservation will get $10,000 over cost of producing the crop and others having less acreage are equally favored.

The potato crop of Yakima is more than double what it has been in preceding years and the price has set the growers wild. Telegrams are received almost daily from Butte, St. Paul and other eastern points, asking for ship ments of several carloads. The price does not appear to be an object with eastern commission men. Buyers are busy trying to engage potatoes at fancy prices and stipments are made daily the prices ranging about $20 per ton on board the cars. Men taking raw sage brush land last spring and planting to potatoes have received more than enough to pay for the land and build homes on their purchase
