Santa Clause Headquarters,

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY STILL LIVES.

Buffalo, Sept., 13--President McKinley's death is expected hourly.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The president at 6:15 p. m. was very low and his death is expected hourly.
The latest official bulletins from the sick room convey little hope of recovery. The news of his death may come at any moment, and none of the physicians express hope. They regard the heart failure as significant of the approaching end. All the resources of the eminent scientists in charge of the case have been exhausted and there is little more that can be done. The city is filling up with people and all in coming trains are crowded.
Senator Hanna, the president's sisters and dozens of his relatives are here or are hurrying to Buffalo from Ohio.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—From a scene of utmost quiet and tranquility, the Milburn residence became one of rush and suppressed excitement this morning. News of the president's relapse spread throughout the city like wild fire and by daybreak crowds had begun to gather. All again were wearing the look of sympathy and expectancy that marked their countenances during the first days following the tragedy. When the doctors reached the president's bedside, a superficial examination was sufficient to impress them that he was near death's door.
A salt solution to stimulate the heart immediately was injected into a vein.
This seemed to have no decided effect.
The heart was unresponsive. At 5:15 the president was in a semi-stupor, exceedingly weak, and the heart beats were erratic. Occasionally he rallied very slightly, each rally being followed by a relapse no more alarming than those preceding.

At 9:30 it was unofficially announced the president had only a bare fighting chance. Through a mistake, some one put a flag on one of the principal buildings in the city at half mast, and for some time all Buffalo believed the president was dead.
This morning the doctors prevented Mrs. McKinley from going to the president's room. She felt very disheartened because she could not see her husband. Soon after Senator Hanna arrived, Dr. Rixey said:
"The president has a good fighting chance, but for his heart. God knows what it will do." Later, Dr. Rixey said: "If the president lives through the day it will be a point in his favor."
Eminent Heart Specialist Goes.
North Creek, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Dr.
Edward Janeway, an eminent heart specialist, has left for Buffalo.

At noon—Dr. Wasdin says there is no appreciable change in the president's condition beyond the fact that his heart action is slightly stronger, a condition which is regarded most favorably.
JUST BEFORE THE CHANGE.
A Bulletin Last Night at Ten o'Clock Was Favorable.
Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Last night at 10 o'clock the following bulletin was issued by the physicians:
"The president's condition continues favorable. Blood count corroborates clinical absence of any blood poisoning. He is able to take more nourishment and relish it. Pulse, 120; temperature, 100.4."
At the conclusion of the night conference the doctors gave another extremely gratifying report of their patient's progress.
The physicians did not begin to leave the Milburn residence until shortly before 1 o'clock. The reports which they had to communicate could hardly have been more gratifying than they were. Dr. Wasdin and Dr. Mynter came out together. The latter was louder in his all sides by the eager newspaper men.
"Good news," "Good news," he cried, "Nothing but good news. We have washed and fed the president and moved him to another bed."
"Is he still improving?"
"He is, and to prove it, I desire to say that a count of his blood shows that it is in a normal condition and we feel that we can announce definitely that there is not the least indication of blood poisoning." He referred the reporters to Dr.
Wasdin, of the marine hospital service, who was standing at his stand, for a scientific interpretation.
The latter explained that a count of blood was a microscopic examination of the relative number of white and red corpuscles in the blood, to determine whether inflammation of any sort existed. An increase of white corpuscles, relatively speaking, would show inflammation and deterioration of the blood that might indicate peritonitis.
He said that yesterday morning a few drops of blood were taken from the lobe of the ear and microscopically counted under his direction. "We found," said he, "that the number of white corpuscles was just about normal, while the red cells were slightly below normal, due to insufficient nutrition since the operation. The count was not made," continued Dr.
Wasdin, "to verify the fact that blood poisoning did not exist of which we felt certain, but to remove every shadow of doubt. The result is that we feel safe in announcing that not a trace of blood poisoning exists. The I

When a man is drowning his rescue is a question of timely help. It is the same thing in disease. Many a time the doctor says of a man whose condition is hopeless, 'If you'd begun in time you might have been cured.'
This is especially true when the disease affects the lungs. Delay is dangerous. The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will result in a quick cure of deep-seated coughs, bronchitis and weak lungs. Even when hemorrhages have been frequent and profuse "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used time and again with the result of a perfect and permanent cure.
Mr. McCauley, of Leesburg, Ariz., writing Co., Pa., had eighty-one hemorrhages, and after other medical aid had failed he was completely cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery." Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine just as good for "weak" lungs.
"I was in poor health when I commenced using Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mr. Elmer Lowe, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had stomach, kidney, heart and lung troubles. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery then and last spring I had Grippe and it settled on my lungs, leaving me with a severe cough. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any, so I commenced your medicine again and took three or four bottles of the 'Discovery' and two vials of Dr.
Pierce's Pellets, and that straightened me up.
I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers for I know it cured me."

Advice, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R.

THE ALARMING BULLETINS

Record of the President's Condition That Set the Nation to Sorrowing.
Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Bulletins issued today at different times were: 7:10 a. m.—At 8 o'clock last evening a change for the worse was noticed in the president. By 2 o'clock this morning everybody was in terror. Heart failure indicated a complete collapse. stimulants were given plentifully.
Members of the cabinet, the doctors and extra nurses were summoned.
Roosevelt was telegraphed for. Hanna and Mr. McKinley's sisters left Cleveland on a special train.

7:20 a. m.—He had rallied somewhat. Heart action is still unsatisfactory, but the doctors are hopeful.
8:25 a. m.—The surgeons met for consultation. All were present except Dr. McBurney. He has been recalled from New York. Mrs. McKinley does not yet know of the president's relapse.
At 9 o'clock Dr. Sawyer left the Milburn residence and said: "The president is now a great deal stronger than he was three hours ago. Physicians are now in his room dressing his wounds."

8:40 a. m.—Mr. McKinley realizes his condition. When given a hypodermic injection of strychnine he asked feebly: "What is that, doctor?"
"Heart stimulant," was the reply.
"Is the necessity great?" asked the president.
"Yes," answered the doctor.
"You are a brave man and a very sick man," said the president resignedly but cheerfully.

9 a. m.—"The president's condition is somewhat improved during the past few hours, better respiration and stimulation. He is conscious and free from pain. Pulse, 128; temperature, 99.8."
When Doctors Mynter and Stockton left the Milburn house shortly before ten, Mynter said: "The president's heart is affected. At the present time, the patient is highly stimulated with oxygen, etc., showing a slight improvement over the early morning.
It is so slight, however, there is practically no material change." He adds that the president's condition is not absolutely hopeless.

1 p. m.—An official bulletin just issued says the president's condition is unchanged. He is sleeping quietly.
2:30 p. m.—An official bulletin says the president has more than held his own since this morning, and his condition justifies the expectation of further improvement. He says he is better than at this time yesterday.

The Bulletins at Noon Were Cheering in Their Nature.
Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At noon Dr.

improving.

PUNISHMENT OF CZOLGOSZ

New York District Attorney Tells About
The Law.
New York, Sept. 13.—John D. Lindsay, ex-district attorney, gave the world this morning regarding Czolgosz's crime and the punishment:
"The attempt upon the life of the president of the United States is a no more serious offense than an attempt against the life of a private citizen.
There is no federal statute which covers it, and the only law which can be restored to is the penal code of this state, which designates an attempt at murder as an assault in the first degree, the punishment for which is imprisonment for not more than ten years."
"On a number of occasions the desirability of amending the federal statutes as to increase the penalty for an assault upon the life of the president or a cabinet officer has been discussed, but nothing has ever been accomplished."
"I think there can be no question of the desirability of some action by congress in this direction. In all civilized communities—it is certainly so in England, Germany and most of the monarchical forms of government—an attempt against the life of the sovereign is high treason punishable by death. There is no reason why a similar law should not be passed here, of course not upon the president or any member of the cabinet, but upon the president's life is any more valuable from the humane standpoint than that of a private citizen, but because of the tremendous interest the public at large has in the safety of the head of the government."
"An attack upon a private individual is merely an attack upon him and his family, while an attack upon the president is an attack upon every American citizen throughout the nation. In this case it is not an attack upon President McKinley; it is an attack upon the government, and a most serious attack. Nothing could be more serious."
"Of course, treason can only be committed in this country or any other country by a citizen of the country in which the act is perpetrated. As most of these offenses are committed by foreigners, it would be only necessary to pass an act whereby an attack made by any person upon the president, the vice president or any member of the cabinet should constitute a capital offense. I certainly and most strongly think such a law adviseable."

Stock Market Rattled.
New York, Sept. 13.—The bad news stock market at the opening. Prices tumbled from one to six points, but steadying buying orders braced it somewhat.

The World says that J. P. Morgan does not fear the worst, but he is prepared for it. It is said that he has money panic in the city of New York.

The millions of Wall street are de-

Theatrical Manager Says in London
What He Heard Here.
New York, Sept. 13.—A special to the World from London says: John R. Rogers, the theatrical manager, now in London, tells a story that is interesting in view of the tragedy in Buffalo.
Rogers says he was travelling from Detroit to Cleveland with "Strange Adventures of Miss Brown" theatrical troupe last Thanksgiving, when he overheard two anarchists discussing the proposed assassination of President McKinley and Senator Hanna. He says he got off the train at Toledo and went to the station at Cleveland and would point out the men.

When the train arrived at Cleveland Rogers says he got off and made inquiries, but no attention had been paid to his telegram.
A few weeks later, when the company was playing in Cleveland, Rogers said Senator Hanna, who asked Main what he meant by sending him a crazy telegram, and laughed at the idea of anarchists injuring the president or himself.

Rogers says that the truth of his story may be proved by the records of the telegraph office in Toledo, whence he sent the telegram. He says further that there were eight anarchists on the train and that he could identify them among a thousand men.

CHANGES IN FOOT BALL RULES.

Announced by the National Foot Ball Association.
The committee of the National Foot ball association has announced the changes in the rules for the coming season. The committee is composed of Paul J. Dabille, of the United States naval academy, Alexander Main-let of Princeton, J. O. Bell of Cornell university and Walter Camp of Yale.
Few important changes were made.
The most important changes were in the definition of "safety." It provides that "safety" is made when the ball, kicked by a man behind his goal line, crosses the extension of the side line behind the goal line. Another change of importance is in the rule which provides that no delay for any purpose whatever shall continue over two minutes under penalty of five yards for any further delay, however slight, or the forfeiture of the game if delayed another two minutes.

Geo. W. Lane, Pawamo, Mich., writes:
"Your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. In recommending it to friends who suffer from indigestion I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never paid." Tallman & Co.

Steamer Erik Crew Saw Him Safe at Etah.
Sodney, New Brunswick, Sept. 13.— The steamer Erik, which left for the north in July to search for the explorer Peary, returned this morning. They found him safe at Etah. He had penetrated so far north as 83.50 degrees of latitude. Peary was left at Cape Saliban.

Peary's wife and child returned on the Erik. The explorer failed in his attempt to reach the pole, but his work is of vast importance, nevertheless.
He rounded the northern limit of the Greenland archipelago, the most northerly known land in the world, and reached the highest latitude yet attained in the western hemisphere.
This achievement, he claims, is second in importance only to discovery of the pole. He will try again next spring.

EXPLORES PEARY IS FOUND

Paris, Sept. 13.—Plans for the mili-

France indicate it will be the most splendid show of the kind ever seen on the continent of Europe. It includes a great sham battle, which will last four hours. Thirty thousand men will hold the line with three forts, and will endeavor to defend Rheims from an attacking force of 120,000.

now sought are those of Schwab, and in substance are—All mills now on a strike and not open are to be signed as union. Open mills are to be considered as nonunion. Employees are not to be discriminated against on account of the strike.

Howison. It is understood the court will resume on Monday.
