NO POLITICS JUST NOW.

Two of the East Oregonian's exchanges already have contained bitter partisan references to matters connected with or alleged to be connected with the shooting of the president. Gentlemen of the press in Oregon, for the sake of the tender sorrow over the death of William McKinley, for the sake of the people plunged into profound grief, for the sake of common humanity, for the sake of our fellow citizenship, for the sake of all that is dear to the American heart, sacred to the country mourning for its dead, reverential for the kind, Christian man who stood for such ideal personal character, let us for the nonce eschew bitterness. Let us forget that we ever had differences, and come closer together in sympathy, not go farther apart in untimely bickerings.

If there be one thing for which William McKinley stood, and for which all but the one lonesome, isolated school of anarchists had deep respect, it was his fine sense of courtesy. From his grave he cries for the exemplification of the principles for which he lived, who, even when wounded unto death, could ask forgiveness for his assault.

This is not time for contumely. It is time for fellowship and kindred mourning.

LET THE CONTEST BE DIGNIFIED.

Two American gentlemen of personal dignity and high character will contest for the supremacy at the primaries next spring in Umatilla county, looking towards the republican nomination for governor of Oregon.

Politics in these days, "pity 'tis 'tis true," has degenerated to a plane such that men too often look askance at the operations of those who go before the people in the capacity of office seekers.

Office seeking is the prerogative of the American citizen. It is honorable for him to aspire to represent his fellows in places of distinction. Ambition to do so is laudable. When men such as those now mentioned in this connection come forward to offer their bright talents and conspicuous abilities for the public weal, the public is to be congratulated. Would that more men of like uprightness did the same.

In this contest an opportunity will present itself for the exemplification of the ideal phases of our political system. It will be possible to make the fight one in which courtesy and good will shall stand forth as the most noticeable features. Let the struggle wax never so warm. Let the aspirants contend never so hotly. It is unnecessary to inject into it aught but what the author will proudly own as the work of his hands, the conception of his brain.

May this be the status of this primary election that might decide who will be governor of Oregon. May its history be such as could be written publicly in its slightest particular, blazoned abroad throughout the state, told to the young voter as that which he may emulate in his coming political career.

This the young voter has right to demand. He should insist that he witness a fight based upon the correct idea of our suffrage system of official selection. And the man who disappoints him in this matter should receive "hard bumps" when that young voter has his turn at the polls.

AN EFFICIENT COUNTY JUDGE.

James A. Sparrow has served as county judge of Harney county, Oregon, since June 7, 1898, or about three years. When he took the oath of office, Harney county had $48,958.87 of liabilities in excess of resources, as shown by a printed statement issued and sworn to by the members of that county court. Then, on June 30, 1901, Harney county had an excess of resources over liabilities of $5,637.98. In other words, during three years of incumbency, County Judge Sparrow, who by the way is a republican, had guided the affairs of Harney county so successfully that no indebtedness existed and the county would have money in the bank after all debts were paid.

Such a record is its own most eloquent eulogy. It speaks of faithful attention to the affairs of the office to which Judge Sparrow was chosen. It testifies of vigilance for the interests of the taxpayers. It proves competency to meet the arduous demands made upon a county judge.

Harney county has only 2598 population. Three years ago a $48,958.87 excess of liabilities over resources was immense for so small a number of people. Proportionally, Umatilla county's excess of liability would be $392,000.

Judge Sparrow deserves praise by every newspaper in Oregon. Every tax payer and laboring man who contributes towards maintenance of government should know of his fine record. It places Judge Sparrow in an unique position among county officials, and stamps him as approximating the perfect holder of a public trust perfectly discharging it. Let his fame spread to the corners of the commonwealth, and let his example be followed by all who occupy similar positions.

THE GOVERNORSHIP QUESTION.

Dalles Times-Mountaineer—Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton appears to be governor of Oregon and his aspirations are commendable, for to be chief executive of the great state of Oregon is an honor which any citizen is justified in claiming; and Judge Lowell has the manhood to come out boldly and above board and disclose the principles on which he stands, so that people may know what to expect of him should he be favored with nomination and election.

These are all good principles, such as should commend him who gives cheap utterance to the people who want good and economical government. But will Judge Lowell stand by them in the fact of party opposition? He seeks the nomination at the hands of the republican state convention; and should that convention in the formation of a platform refuse to embody the principles enunciated by Judge Lowell, and still offer him the nomination, will he accept or will he decline? He has outlined the platform on which he would seek to administer the state. If the party refuse to adopt his platform and still offer him the nomination he cannot be consistent to accept, neither would he be worthy the confidence of the people if he did. But should he hold out for the principles he advocates and refuses the nomination unless they are embodied in the platform, his aspirations may be considered most commendable, and should recommend him as an independent candidate even if discarded by his party.

Governor Geer when requested to express his views concerning the candidacy of Judge Lowell for governor, had nothing to say. Why should he? He is not tired of the job itself, and naturally thinks I. T. Geer is the most suitable man in the state to sit in the governor's chair.

Eastern Oregon should have the governor, and since the republican party is in the ascendancy in the state it rests with it to make the selection, but it is certainly to be hoped that the selection will not fall on W. J. Earnish of Pendleton the man with the chameleon like political principles.

Shanku Leader—Judge Lowell of Pendleton has publicly announced himself as a republican candidate for governor. We thought ever since we first saw his circular letter he was a candidate, although in it he said he was not, but just seeing how the people stood on the question.

Athena Press: Stephen A. Lowell, ex-judge of this judicial district, has finally announced in the columns of the Pendleton East Oregonian, that he is a candidate for the nomination on the republican ticket for the office of governor of the state.

It is yet six months before the primary elections and there is at least one other avowed candidate in this county, and others west of the Cascades, with Gov. Geer seeking re-nomination. So there promises to be a lively scrap on hand when the primaries are held. Judge Lowell, in announcing his candidacy, also gives out the platform on which he stands for the nomination.

What S. S. S. Does for Children

Children are constantly exposed to all sorts of diseases. The air they breathe is filled with germs, sewer gas and dust from the filthy streets are inhaled into the lungs and taken into the blood. At the crowded school rooms and other public places they come in contact almost daily with others recovering from or in the first stages of contagious diseases. You can't quarantine against the balance of the world, and the best you can do is to keep their blood in good condition, and thus prevent or at least mitigate the disease. You have perhaps learned from observation or experience that healthy, robust children (and this means, of course, children whose blood is pure) are not nearly so liable to contract diseases peculiar to them, and when they do it is generally in a mild form. On the other hand, weak, emaciated and sickly ones seem to catch every disease that comes along. This is because their blood is lacking in all the elements necessary to sustain and build up the body. Poisons of every description accumulate in the system, because the polluted and sluggish blood is unable to perform its proper functions.

Such children need a blood purifier and tonic to give strength and vitality to their blood, and S. S. S., being a purely vegetable remedy, makes it the safest and best for the delicate constitutions of children. S. S. S. is not only a perfect blood medicine, but is pre-eminently the tonic for children; it increases their appetites and strengthens the digestion and assimilation of food. If your children have any hereditary or acquired taint in their blood, give them S. S. S. and write to our physicians for any information or advice wanted; this will cost you nothing, and will start the little weaklings on the road to recovery. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

Colonel Pat Donno has been back in Denver and has been talking to the Denverites in his own peculiarly pointed way about Colorado and Oregon. He says among other things: "You may have started all the glittering romances from the Arabian Nights to commonplace everyday realities, and made the faded riches of Midas and Croesus look like thirty cents. Your mountain and canyon scenes are unsurpassed on earth in any region so easily accessible. I am told you had from 50,000 to 100,000 delighted tourists in Colorado this summer and you should have from 500,000 to 1,000,000 every year. But while your climate here in Colorado sometimes slips a cog, ours in Oregon never does. Last winter, while blizzards were whirling 90 miles an hour from Colorado to New England and whistling freezing in the glasses from Dakota to Georgia, in Portland, Or., lawn mowers were running, and all the early spring vegetables, fruits and berries were in market every day. And while this summer the thermometers even here in your thrice blessed metropolis of Colorado have ranged from 90 to 110 degrees of climatic hellishness, the mean temperature of Portland for 28 years has been 55 degrees."
