Baker City Republican: Baker citizens were treated to a familiar sight yesterday afternoon. A crowd of Umatilla bucks and squaws, accompanied by their retinue of dirty faced papooses, dogs and sayages, passed through the city on their way north. Umatillas do not visit here as formerly, and many of the familiar grizzled old bucks known about town have long since passed into the happy hunting ground.
Geo. W. Lane, Pawama, Mich., writes: "Your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. In recommending it to friends who suffer from indigestion I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never paid." Tallman & Co.

ON TRACK OF HIGHWAYMEN
Coat, Hat and Mask of one of the Robbers Found.
Tuesday night, Amos Owens brought in a coat, hat and mask, which were recognized by C. L. McGinnis, proprietor of the "Maze," as belonging to the small man who guarded the front door of his place was "held up" Monday night. The coat is of a dark color and without a lining. The mask is sewed to a brown slouch hat and is sufficient to cover a man's neck, leaving only the eyes visible.
The disguise was found in Len Oliver's wheat field about a mile from the Lee street bridge. It appears that the man who had worn it, crossed the bridge and then cut the barb wires so as to gain entrance to the field, and after finding himself comparatively safe, threw off the mask.
The trail led to Echo.
A telephone message was received last night from Sheriff Blakley, saying that he was at Echo and had lost all track of the robbers. The trailing was necessarily a slow task, on account of the fences and the dimness of the trail in places. The fugitives had an even hour's start in that night and must surely have gained during the day.

FRUIT FAIR IS A SUCCESS

Attendance Larger Than Last Year—Shows Signs Each Day.
Walla Walla, Sept. 25.—Special correspondence.—Everyone agrees that the fruit fair is better than in was last year, is being more largely attended, and is in all respects a more complete success than the very successful one of 1920. A gain in the attendance of last night over the same day a year ago shows the above to be a fact. Walla Walla is draped in purple today, and this is on account of its being Elk's day, when the antlers have the right of way, and own the town. To have declared a century against Jupiter Pluvius, who sent some rain today, contrary to arrangements Secretary Van Dewater had made with the weather authorities, and all Elk's will be asked to combine in an effort to rob Pluvius of his plenary powers and secure the appointment of someone else as the dispenser of things meteorological. But the Elks are not to be dismayed by so small a thing as a few tons of liquid dropping from the heavens, and made the day successful in spite of the moisture.

Mrs. Ellis is staying at the hospital in order to be constantly near her son. Judge Ellis will return to Portland on Friday night.

OIL PROSPECTS IN MALHEUR

Land Being Taken up With the View of Oil Production.
J. D. Carter, T. M. Pohn and Surveyor C. M. Forster, left Baker City Monday, says the Democrat, for Malheur county where they will survey and locate several sections of oil lands in the newly discovered oil district for a syndicate supposed to have been formed in Portland.
The excitement in oil in eastern Oregon continues unabated. The problem is an intricate one and the solving of it includes many questions of vast importance to this section of the state. A railroad man of importance is authority for the statement that if flow-ers of wells are opened in Malheur county there will be an extension of the Columbia Southern railway from Shaniko to the oil district. If the oil turns out to be fuel oil there is no question but what the O. R. & N. railroad will equip its locomotives with oil burning fire grate. The item of fuel is the greatest expense to Oregon railroads and oil in quantities in eastern Oregon would be a great boon to the transportation lines.

Following the production of oil will come the settlement of the ultimate ownership of the land and the control of the output. Already the standard oil company has its most looking over the field, but those in close touch with the situation express the opinion that there will be little difficulty experienced by the local developers of the field in marketing their product or selling their holdings at a fair price.
New Mileage Ticket.
Western railroads are considering a new interchangeable mileage ticket. The ticket now in use is what is known as the Sebastian form, and consists of a cover which serves as a credential for the purchaser of local tickets. The new ticket, which will be likely to be established in western territory, will be of the book form, with coupons to be exchanged at offices for local tickets. The minimum mileage to be sold will be 3000 for $90, with a $30 rebate. The territory will be divided, one of the tickets being good to the Rocky mountains and the other to the coast.

Excursions to Walla Walla
For the Walla Walla Fruit Fair Sept. 23 to 28 the O. R. & N. Co. will sell tickets from Pendleton to Walla Walla and return at $1.90 except that on Wednesday Sept. 25 the rate will be $1.40.
Ed McIntire, of Cathlamet, Wash., was shot and killed at Hartley's logging camp on the Cowlitz river, Sunday night. It is thought he was mistaken for another person and shot by one of a number of persons between whom there was much bad feeling.
William Barrowman, an employe of the O. R. & N. company at Huntington, while attempting to fill a tender with water fell off and was crushed to death beneath the wheels. Coronor Snow held an inquest at which the railroad was exonerated from all blame.

MRS. BRISBO WANTS DIVORCE
On Grounds of Cruelty and Inhuman Treatment.
A petition for divorce has been filed at the County Clerk's office by Carrie Briabo against Edward Briabo. The parties concerned were married in the year 1899, and have lived on the reservation since. The plaintiff charges Briabo with cruel and inhuman treatment, that made life burdensome to her; that he refused to provide her with a suitable home, according to his means and circumstances, and that he was in the habit of getting drunk in Pendleton and then going home to swear at and abuse her. She also says that Briabo accuses her of improper conduct with other men, which she denies.
Only a short time ago, Briabo was examined before the U. S. Commissioner for criminal assault, and discharged. It was rumored then that Mrs. Briabo intended to bring suit for divorce on the strength of the evidence which developed in that case. No mention of it, however, appears in the complaint filed in the suit for divorce.
