"SPORTING LIFE" TONIGHT

Big Spectacle Attraction Here For the First Time.

"Sporting Life" is to be seen here for the first time at the Frazier theatre. The big melodrama enjoyed a run of five and four months respectively in New York and Chicago last season, and is pronounced a marvel of the class. The story has to do with the fortunes of a certain young Lord Woodstock, a manly, wholesome English sportsman, who loves sport for sport's sake, but who gets himself into a tight place by reckless betting. Not only has he incurred some heavy debts of honor, but the brother of his sweetheart has forged his name to a bill for several thousands, a liability which, for the sake of the young lady's family, Woodstock chivalrously assumes. The complete rain now stares him in the face, and when he is offered a great sum to permit his racing mare to lose a great race for which she is an odds on favorite, the temptation to accept it is too great for any but a melodramatic hero to decline, but, of course, Woodstock without hesitation spurns it, and happily all goes well at the inevitable finish. His horse wins back his fortune, restores to him his name, estate, and, best of all, his lady love. The duped brother of his fiancée struggles the unprincipled woman at whose instigation the bill is forged, and makes way with himself, thereby moving the most objectionable of the characters in a manner altogether new to the stage tradition.

DEATH OF A NOTED CROOK

DAN O'BRIEN, WELL KNOWN IN PORTLAND, DIES COMING FROM ALASKA.

Jim Johnson, Jailor, Formerly of Pendleton, Charged With Extortion by a Mrs. Thompson.

Portland, Sept. 30.—Dan O'Brien of Portland died on the last trip of the Oregon from Alaska with delirium tremens and was buried at sea. O'Brien was a notorious crook and was a member of "Soapy" Smith's gang at Skagway some years ago. It will be remembered that Smith and his band of outlaws did as they pleased until the citizens got determined and ordered every one of the gang from the place. Smith refused and in a fight with the officers was killed. The rest of the outlaws, as soon as they saw their leader fall, quickly left for the states.

O'Brien was well-known to the police here. Up to the last few years, he openly conducted bunco games and, although he was arrested, he was never convicted. On one occasion, he was arrested for vagrancy and convicted in the police and circuit courts. He appealed the case to the supreme court of the state and finally won out. During the past few years he has not conducted his games here.

O'Brien came of good people. One brother is mayor of a large city in Pennsylvania and another is proprietor of a large department store in Michigan.

Police Close Crib.

The police have closed all the cribs on Fourth street, from Ash to Flanders street, a distance of six blocks, and comprising about one hundred. There is a cry of indignation being made by the land owners upon which the cribs are located. For years they had a bonanza, and they will not let the filthy lucre slide through their hands without making quite a contest. As the owners of the land are quite influential people, the rental of the move is waited for with interest. One of the property holders is a member of the board of public works, another is a leather dealer, another is a political leader, another is a pawnbroker and another is a church member of some standing. It is believed that the move is purely political or one of graft.

On good authority it is said that if the cribs are not opened at once every crib and gambling house in the city will be closed at once. The gamblers are afraid that there will be trouble and they are trying to have the cribs opened.

Jim Johnson in Trouble.

Jailor Johnson, formerly of Pendleton, and at present jailor at the city, was accused this week of extortion. A certain Mrs. Thompson, who had been arrested on a trivial complaint has made an affidavit that she was forced by Johnson to give up five dollars to him before he would allow her to telephone to friends for bail money.

The matter has been placed in the hands of the police commissioners who will take the matter up at the next meeting. Johnson denies the allegation and says that the woman did not give him any money nor did he ask for it.

HE EMPLOYS YALE METHODS

Coach Allen of Whitman College and His Work.

Walla Walla, Sept. 30.—Coach Allen, who will have charge of athletics at Whitman college hereafter, is a big fellow who has won honors from the field as a member of the football team of Chicago university. He was added to the faculty by the generosity of Levi Ankeny, and is a scientist. He employs the methods of Dr. Sellers of Yale, whereby measurements and tests of students are the basis of prescriptive exercise, and the dangers of injury to weak organs are obviated. Coach Allen gave the student body a talk in chapel last week, in which he outlined the plans he had formed for the coming year, as well as set forth the general features of his system of training, modeled after that of the Yale "gym," the most famous in the world.

Allen advocates football for men, and tennis for women, as the best forms of athletic exercise when intelligently taken, believing, however, that football should be played only between the ages of 18 and 24, after which other forms of athletics in his opinion are more to be desired.

Following the Yale method, he has procured apparatus with which to measure the students and make proper tests of their vital organs. Carefully kept records will show the effect of the training upon the young men and women, and in the event weakness develops the training will be varied to suit the new conditions.

Coach Allen believes Whitman can place in the field a team that will make the best showing yet made by that institution, and the other members of the faculty and the friends of the college think the same. Capt. Arthur Hauerbach, who has been the best man for the college athletics ever matriculated, is here again, and in good form. He adds to his prospective football honors his capture of the first place in the oratorical contest, so long in the balance, and decided last week by Prof. Martin Flaherty of the U. of C., who gave Hauerbach first place on thought and composition, thus making him four firsts to Minchin's two.

STATE FAIR AWARDS.

Eastern Oregon Exhibitors Capture a Number of Them.

Salem, Sept. 29.—In former years the state fair has invariably closed with a deficit, but this year, after all bills are paid, there will be a small surplus. The attendance was large this year as the fair was well managed. Eastern Oregon exhibitors received a creditable share of awards. Pendleton was represented in the stock displays. THE FRUIT FAIR FINANCES

Receipts Exceeded Expenditures by Several Hundred Dollars.

Walla Walla, Sept. 30.—The fruit fair more than paid out this year, the receipts exceeding the expenditures by all of the gate money of the last two days and nights. It is flattering to the management thus to conduct so expensive an affair and carry over a surplus to apply upon the fair of next year. It has engendered the hope that the fair association may within a few years make it entirely self-sustaining, and not be compelled to call upon any of the business men for subscriptions.

Sunday was Pendleton day, when the excursion brought in eight coaches in which were about 500 people, more than one-fifth of whom came from Pendleton. The others were from Athena, Weston, Milton and other smaller stations along the line.

Wagner's band and the soloist, Miss Bradley, have gone, and the strains of music that made the fair successful so much as did any other thing, have ended. There is general hope that Miss Bradley will be engaged for the fair next year, so popular has been her singing.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c. Sold by Tallman & Co., druggists.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used a wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 bottles guaranteed by Tallman & Co. Trial bottles free.

Swallowed a Stick Pin.

Will Stetter struck a gold mine the other day, and the gold was already manufactured into jewelry, says the Albany Herald. He was cleaning a chicken and discovered a tie pin in the fowl's crop. The pin, which was about three inches long, had a solid gold nugget, with a moonstone set, and was quite valuable. How long the pin had been in there or where the chicken picked it up are questions that can only be guessed at. The chicken was alive and seemingly in the best of health and spirits when it met its fate on Stetter's chopping block.

Henry Braydon, Harris, N. C., says: "I took medicine 20 years for asthma but one bottle of One Minute Cough Cure did me more good than anything else during that time. Best Cough Cure." Tallman & Co.

Shipped From Walla Walla.

The reports on produce shipped from Walla Walla during the last year on the Oregon Railway & Navigation Co., and the Washington and Columbia River railway show that during the twelve months closing September 20, about the following amounts: Apples, 130 carloads; onions, 100 carloads; potatoes, 50 carloads; miscellaneous fruits, 10 carloads; miscellaneous vegetable, 40 carloads. It is estimated that the shipments of last year will be increased by one-third this year.

Sid Darling, 1012 Howard St. Port Huron, Mich., writes: "I have tried many pills and laxatives but DeWitt's Little Early Risers are far the best pills I have ever used." They never grip. Tallman & Co.
