REGISTRATION SMALL.

Only 300 Out of 900 Legal Voters Have Registered.

Tomorrow, October 2, will be the last day on which to register for the city election. Up to 3 o'clock today only 300 out of 900 legal voters had registered. It is barely possible that the collection of $2 poll tax has something to do with the small registration. It is also barely possible that the citizens of Pendleton do not know that by paying a poll tax of $2 to the city, they avoid the payment of $3 road tax to the county. It is not absolutely necessary to pay the tax at the time of registration, but it must be paid at the polls if the voter has not already a receipt.

Some have said that they will vote without registering. It is possible to do that only by having their votes sworn in and the paying of $2, otherwise, the votes will not be received. Mayor Vincent and the majority of the city council have said that they intend to see the law enforced, and that if there is any one who is inclined to make a test case, they will take the matter to the supreme court.

Objections to the tax collection appear to come from persons who have never paid any tax whatever, and who are at last compelled to pay a poll tax of $2 in order to vote in the city election.

Only one day yet remains in which to register and the books will be closed tomorrow afternoon.

Big Sale High Grade Pianos.

Messrs. Johnston and Ridgway are displaying a line of high grade pianos in the Judd block, and any one contemplating the purchase of an instrument within the next two years will do well to call and see them. They have a part of the $20,000 stock of Steinwavs, etc., formerly handled by E. S. Johnston of Portland. Owing to litigation these pianos must be sold within the next 30 days, by order of the court, and the dealers realize that the prices must be reduced to a figure that will accomplish this result. Johnston and Ridgway, factory representatives, have a proposition that will surely interest you. See their advertisement in another column of the East Oregonian.

The Big New Engines.

The O. R. & N. company is now using the big new engines that are called the "300's," having run two of them through Pendleton on passenger trains No. 1 and No. 2, and one of the larger engines on one of the freight passing through here last night. They are monstrous machines, with enormous capacity, and will haul much larger trains than any of the older engines could haul. It was in preparation for them that the company did much work in improving the roadbed and strengthening the bridges and trestles along the lines in Oregon and Washington.

Stine Family Reunion.

A family reunion took place yesterday at the residence of William Stine, 224 Birch street, says the Walla Walla Statesman. All their sons and daughters who had grown up and gone out into the world, were reunited under the parental roof. They are S. T. Stine of San Francisco, Dr. E. M. Stine of Seattle, Mrs. C. E. Roosevelt of Pendleton and W. H. Stine, jr., Mrs. H. R. Keyser, Mrs. H. C. Gregg and J. G. Stine, who still reside here. The party took advantage of the opportunity, called on a photographer and had their pictures taken in group.

An Eastern Oregon "Knocker."

The Albany Democrat is mistaken when it says that eastern Oregon "papers" are pressing the claims of Judge Stephen A. Lowell and W. J. Furnish for the republican nomination for governor, says The Dalles Chronicle. One republican paper in the home of these gentlemen favors one of the candidates. The majority of the rest of the eastern Oregon papers that have anything to say on the question are not dead struck on either of the candidates and have small hope, and very little desire, that either of them shall win the nomination.

Casey Paid the Costs.

Harp Casey was to have been examined at 2 o'clock today before Justice Fitz Gerald for alleged beating of his wife last Saturday evening. Mrs. Casey appeared before the time set for the examination and acknowledged that she had received satisfaction, whereupon the case was dismissed after Mr. Casey had paid the costs. Mrs. Casey will apply for a divorce on the grounds of abuse and cruel treatment.

Fifteen Days in Jail.

Al Koefler who was brought down from Milton yesterday charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was arraigned before Justice Fitz Gerald this afternoon and was given 15 days in the county jail. Koefler said that he didn't understand why he shouldn't have been tried in Milton. His career will be investigated during the next 15 days.

Low Rate to Portland.

OUR MONTHLY MARKET DAY

IT IS ADVERTISED BY PAPERS IN OTHER TOWNS.

Telegram and Oregon Agriculturist Mention it at Length.

Through the efforts of Colonel R. C. Judson, industrial agent of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific, and several enthusiastic Oregonians having the good state at heart, says the Telegram, a system will be inaugurated that no doubt will prove of great benefit to farmers, stockmen and indirectly to the general public. Monthly livestock fairs will be held in various parts of the state, where intending purchasers of cattle, horses or sheep may come in direct contact with the owners, and thus be enabled to transact business to a much better advantage than is now offered. Such fairs or livestock shows have long been in vogue in the Middle States with very satisfactory results.

The first monthly fair of the Pacific Northwest will be held at Pendleton the first Tuesday in every month, commencing the coming month. The Commercial club of Pendleton has taken the matter up, and being an up-to-date organization of prominent business men, will see that the plan be carried out successfully. Three years ago last February the Commercial club of Pendleton called together the leading cattlemen of the northwest for the purpose of organizing a Pacific Northwest Cattlemen's Association. The meeting was pronounced a success, lasting several days. The year following a woolgrowers' convention was held with like success, and it was repeated last year.

The officers of the Commercial club have taken up the matter of a monthly meeting in a business-like way, says Mr. Judson, a committee having been selected among farmers and ranchers soliciting stock of all classes to be brought to Pendleton during the meet. Enough stock, it is said, has been pledged to fill the large enclosure at Pendleton. The stock will be sold on the ground if purchasers can be found. In a letter received by Colonel Judson today from the Commercial Club, it is stated that the fair gives promise of being one of the best ever held anywhere in the west.

As soon as Colonel Judson returns from a trip to Southern Oregon, on which he started today, he will go to La Grande and Baker City, there to inaugurate monthly fairs the same as at Pendleton. He will also start a similar plan on the Spokane division as soon as time will permit him to go there.

"The scheme is a most commendable one," said Colonel Judson today, "and should be encouraged from all sides. It brings buyer and seller together, and they can personally carry on their transactions to more general satisfaction. Purchasers see exactly what they buy and they become acquainted with the people with whom they deal. The stock can be shipped from one fair to another and buyers will always know where to look for stock without scouring the whole state."

As a result of efforts made by industrial Agent Judson of the O. R. & N. Co., the Commercial club of Pendleton, has arranged for the holding of monthly exchange fairs at that city, says the Agriculturist. These are to be held on the first Tuesday of each month, the first one being this month. Fairs of this kind are an old institution but so far as we are informed have not yet been held on this coast. They enable those who wish to buy stock or other farm articles and those who have it for sale, to come together, and the establishment of a general market for all kinds of produce. Mr. Judson intends to arrange for similar fairs at all suitable places along the lines of the O. R. & N. Co.

PERSONAL MENTION.

M. F. Kelley of the State Hotel at Walla Walla was a guest at the Golden Rule hotel yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown of Canyon City, are registered at the Golden Rule. They will be here for two or three days.

Otto Boettcher has returned from a short visit in Chicago. He was accompanied by D. P. Plark of George, Adam & Burke Co.

Rev. J. M. Cornelison and his bride left last night for Kansas City. They will visit Rev. Mr. Cornelison's home in Kentucky before they return to Pendleton.

H. M. Williamson, editor of the Oregon Agriculturist and the Rural Northwest of Portland, is in Pendleton today in the interests of his publication. Mr. Williamson will attend the first market day in Pendleton next Monday.

Geo. Freeman was in town today from his ranch ten miles north of Pendleton. He says there is a lot of shrieved wheat this season notwithstanding reports it was all No. 1. He will return to his ranch this afternoon and will commence fall seeding in a few days.

Wm. Reinhardt of Olympia, who was a guest of Ralph Wade last summer, has begun his duties as collection clerk in the First National bank, the position held by Ralph Wade. The latter will attend to business connected with the sheep interests of his father, C. B. Wade.

L. Couch, of the Walla Walla News, is in town today en route home from Portland and Salem. He has been there for the past week. He speaks in terms of praise of the state fair and believes the Portland carnival will be well attended, though not so well as that of last year.

SALOONS WERE OPEN SUNDAY.

Walla Walla Indulged in Some More Disregard of Law.

Walla Walla, Oct. 1.—The Union says: Several saloons were open Sunday in violation of the state law which prevents the selling of liquor on that day. While these are a good business and the fact that they were operating was generally known, no arrests were made. This is the first time since the beginning of the crusade against saloons in the early part of July that saloon men have worked without opposition in the sale of intoxicating beverages.

Whether there will be arrests is a question which appears to rest in the hands of County Attorney Oscar Cain who appears to lean toward leniency in this particular instance. When asked the question, "Are you or are you not going to make arrests for these violations of the Sunday closing law?" Mr. Cain said:

"I don't know yet. I have not made up my mind. You see as a matter of fact a good deal of pressure has been brought to bear upon me to overlook yesterday's offenses. This pressure does not come from the saloon men or from the saloon element but I may say from men who have been behind the movement against the saloons in the last few weeks. It is rather a difficult question.

"Saloon keepers are not men, I find as a rule, who will look seriously at these things. Many of them would as soon try to get the law changed as to see that it is signal that all future violations will be overlooked also. That is not true. I expect before next Sunday the city ordinance pertaining to closing saloons on Sundays will be in force and I question very much if any of the saloon men will dare face it."

For Striking His Son.

Virgil Wade, the 17-year-old son of Henry Wade of McKay creek, has made a complaint against his father for striking him with a sugar bowl. Last Sunday morning Wade was playing with his small sister and he claims accidentally hurt her. His father saw the action and catching up a stick of wood, started after him. The boy grabbed the stick away, whereupon Mr. Wade picked up a teacup and threw it at his son. He missed his aim and then tried the sugar bowl with better success. The missile caught the boy on the head, inflicting a severe gash. Virgil arrived in town this afternoon and made his complaint to District Attorney Hailey.

Illinois Senatorial Fight.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 1.—Both Senator Mason and former Comptroller Charles G. Dawes, began their campaign for the senatorial toga in earnest today. Mr. Dawes this morning opened headquarters in this city and from now on he proposes to wage a vigorous fight for Senator Mason's seat in the upper branch of congress. Mason is alert and active and doesn't view Dawes' fight seriously.
