SENATOR WILLIAMSON OF PRINEVILLE

Would Succeed Dunbar in a State Office at Salem.
Senator J. N. Williamson of Prineville, who has been announced for several offices in Oregon, has made a public statement over his signature saying: "Inasmuch as a controversy has arisen over the reported ambition of State Senator J. N. Williamson to succeed Congressman Moody, I desire to say the report is absolutely untrue. I have never expressed a desire to receive the nomination for Congressman Moody's place, and I would be pleased to have you announce that I have never authorized the statement that I am a candidate for any office except that of secretary of state. My friends have urged me to consent to be a candidate for the latter given them permission to use my name in that connection only." This coming from Senator Williamson directly and officially settles the question as to his aspirations to be Oregon's governor, or the second district congressman, or anything except secretary of state. The senator becomes an opponent of Dunbar, Astoria, the present incumbent, who perhaps owes his office to the influence of Senator Charles W. Fulton of the same town. Dunbar wants re-election and will pull the Clatsop county delegation in all probability.

However, it is regarded as within the possible that Dunbar may consent to step aside and permit Senator Fulton to throw his influence to some other man for secretary of state in order to strengthen Fulton's chances for election to the United States senate by the coming legislature, when a successor to Joseph Simon will be chosen. Then, so it might be, Fulton could reward Dunbar with a federal position, for he is on friendly terms with the present senator, J. H. Mitchell, whose word goes with the president in Oregon appointments. Williamson's candidacy is to be reckoned with. He is a strong man with the leaders and with the masses. Then, too, Williamson is a friend of J. H. Mitchell. It is probable that the three are in agreement on the subject, so that a conflict between Williamson and Dunbar need not be anticipated. This might be true—Williamson may be "picking up votes" to throw them to Dunbar when the convention meets, and to nullify the strength of eastern Oregon's demands for representation on the state tickets. There are several "might be" propositions in this connection, any one of which would be a leading element in the balance of the political forces that, when finally adjusted, will take a given direction when the campaign has begun.

COMPLIMENTS MALONEY

Athena Press Sorry He Abandoned Politics to Become a Banker.
The following complimentary notice is taken from the Athena Press: "Jim Maloney has a host of friends in Athena who are surprised to hear of his determination to enter the ranks of private life after a long period of faithfully serving the people of Umatilla county in an official capacity. They had hoped to see Jim climb the political ladder to some office wherein his honor, integrity and capabilities would have been suitably rewarded. However, whether in private or public life, Jim's true worth will always be recognized and his friends will always be legion."

Has Efficient Deputies.
Mr. Maloney, of course, retains Charles Marsh in the recorder's office, inasmuch as Mr. Marsh has become a fixture and a necessary fixture, his excellent services have been appreciated by his chief as well as by the public. W. H. Fowler, formerly a deputy county clerk, has been engaged by Mr. Maloney to enter the office as a deputy to provide a man in the latter's place so soon as he assumes his duties in the Pendleton Savings Bank. Mr. Fowler will be paid by Mr. Maloney personally, being sworn in as a regular deputy, but receiving his pay directly from Mr. Maloney and drawing none from the county. Mr. Fowler is also a very efficient office man and will faithfully and satisfactorily discharge his new duties. The office of the county recorder of conveyances will be conducted just as carefully and the work done as accurately as under the former regime.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEUE
It Hid a Luxurious Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair.
The Father of his country concealed a luxurious suit of hair in his queue wig. Now wish the old fashion hair and baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair nor be bald, if he cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff can not be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease, and the germ must be killed. Newton's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ.

"A HOMESPUN HEART"
Hal Reid's Beautiful Story of Rural Life—A Pastoral Drama.
"A Homespun Heart" comes to the Frazer on next Monday night, Oct. 21. Manager Baker personally booked the attraction for Pendleton after witnessing its production in Portland. He recommends it to the theatre goers here.
It is Hal Reid's latest success, a story of rural life, dealing with simple, honest country folks and their enemies, enacted in a rural quiet way—no hysterical straining for effect, but full of intense heart interest, interspersed with bright comedy flashes that keep the listener constantly entertained, and at the end you go away feeling all the better for having seen it. Elaborate scenery has been provided for every act complete and a specially selected company engaged this season. You are missing a treat if you stay away.

FIGHT AT HEPPNER
Dr. Vaughan Tells of the Scrap Between Irishmen.
Dr. E. F. Vaughan of Heppner was registered at the Pendleton last night. He was an eye witness of the fight that took place in the Heppner streets last Friday evening between a number of Irishmen. It seems that there has been a long standing feud between Tom McCullough and William Hughes. On the night in question, Hughes together with two brothers by the name of Kilkenny from a ranch near town proceeded to get drunk. They happened to meet McCullough, who is 70 years old, on the street. Hughes grabbed a crutch from a lame man and struck the old fellow a heavy blow, knocking him down. McCullough was in the act of getting to his feet again, when one of the Kilkennys began to kick him in the face with his heavy boots. Marshal Thornton tried to interpose and a general mix up followed. Fully eight men were giving and taking blows for several minutes. Finally the marshal and his friends got the better of the fight and Hughes and the Kilkennys were put under arrest. Mr. McCullough was severely injured. His face was cut and bruised and he was so feeble that he could scarcely move.

On Saturday, the offenders were examined before a justice court and fined $100 each.

$112,500 for a Prescription
The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco, Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases. They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.
There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address: JOHN J. FITZGERALD, 420 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal.
