A MEDAL SAVED HIS LIFE

SHOT AT ASA BUTTERFIELD Young Man Has Narrow Escape in Texas Basin.

Last Thursday while a young man named Butterfield, who is riding for Asa Arbogast, says the Utah Sentinel was passing near a certain ranch in the Texas basin, he was fired upon by someone hidden in the brush.

The shot was fired at very close range, and the bullet, which was of a large calibre, struck Mr. Butterfield's coat directly over the heart, passed through the coat, vest and a bunch of letters which were on the inside pocket of the vest, entered a leather wallet and lodged against a medal which was in the wallet.

Mr. Butterfield was knocked off his horse and partially stunned for several minutes. He finally made his way to the ranch.

Suspicion is said to point pretty strongly towards a certain individual in that community as being the perpetrator of the deed.

ALLEGED DEFECTS IN THE STATE GAME LAW

It is thought in Salem that the State Game Law is inoperative. A Salem telegram says: The legislature of 1901 passed a game law that it was hoped would cure defects in former laws and lend protection generally.

IN THE PLAY WORLD

What Offers to Pendleton's Amusement Lovers this Week. Haverly's Minstrels on Friday night—Col. "Jack" Haverly, through his long career as a minstrel manager, always earnestly strove to maintain in his organization the highest musical standard.

Daughter of a Diamond King on Thursday night—The characters and places have been taken from parts of New York City and New Hampshire, with an exceptionally strong cast headed by the charming La Belle Laurette, supported by W. A. White, an actor of considerable fame.

A faithful conception of the author's idea is given. The charming love scene between La Belle Laurette, as Nellie Golden, and W. A. Whiteacre, as Dwight Perkins, preceding their marriage, in the first act of the play, is one of the prettiest pieces of acting that it has ever been a person's good fortune to look upon.

The play is a simple one, prettily told and with scenery from Frank E. Lodge of the Herald Square Theatre, New York City, and staged by C. C. Craig of the Broadway Theatre, New York City, under the personal supervision of Charles A. Taylor, the author and manager, it seems safe to say that the local theatregoers have a treat in store for them.

"A Common Sinner," with "Big Bill Devere" at the head, comes here on Oct. 28. Homer Davenport, the great cartoonist, gives a lecture at the Fraser on Saturday night, illustrating it by drawing pictures of the great men whom he has drawn in the past. Proceeds for Pendleton academy building fund. Tickets, 50c adults 25c children.

"BOOK OF THE ROYAL BLUE" Gem of Art—Typographic and Literary—by B. and O. B. N. Austin, general passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, whose offices are in Chicago, has issued the October number of the "Book of the Royal Blue," as a memorial to the late President McKinley. It is a gem of typographic art. It is the acme of excellence in current magazine making. Printed upon enamelled paper, the type faces the latest and best products of the foundry. The press work is absolutely perfect, and the literary matter of a character second to none that is being given out in these days, the "Book of the Royal Blue" for October is one of the best that
