"RAH! RAH! RAH!" THE CRY THEY GREETED PRESIDENT PENROSE, OF WHITMAN. He Passed Through Pendleton en Route to Walla Walla From the East—Attended Yale Bi-Centennial. The lusty "Rah! Rah! Rah!" of the Whitman students greeted President Penrose this morning as he stepped from the overland train in company with Mrs. Penrose and daughter, en route home to Walla Walla, Dr. Penrose shook hands with the squad of football players who were here to go against Pendleton Academy, and learned from them the first news of how the college has fared during his absence. Several new students were there and for the first time met the popular man who has made Whitman College one of the recognized institutions of the west.

Dr. and Mrs. Penrose, and daughter have been at various points in the east since the close of the academic year last spring, the most important event of the vacation being the Yale bi-centennial. Dr. Penrose is an alumnus of Yale.

Regarding the prospects for Whitman, Dr. Penrose said to the East Oregonian that they are better than ever before. He has plans dependent upon the action of others that cannot now be given out to the public, but he hopes great things for the school. Besides those plans, at this time, he is working upon the proposition of Dr. Pearsons, of Chicago, who offered $50,000 if the college would secure $25,000 for a girls' dormitory. "This amount," said Dr. Penrose, "will be secured. Of this we are now certain. That will add to the present endowment of $200,000, which we have bearing revenue of $50,000 offered by Dr. Pearsons, and our endowment will then be $250,000. Speaking of the Pendleton Academy, Dr. Penrose stated that he hoped the people here would not fail to encourage the plans for the securing of the $15,000 building fund. He urged the benefits that would accrue to the town in the event the school were made stronger and were furnished with better facilities.

Coach Allen, of Whitman. Professor C. W. Allen, coach of Whitman's athletic teams, also added a word regarding the Pendleton Academy, and voiced the sentiments expressed by Dr. Penrose. "It is the policy of Whitman," said Professor Allen, "to encourage all preparatory schools in this part of the country, and we regard them as in no manner antagonistic to our interests. We will all rejoice when we learn that you people have secured the money to make the improvements that are now planned."

PERSONAL MENTION

J. W. Smith, of Athena, is in town today. J. F. Nowlin, county superintendent, is in Weston today attending a meeting in connection with his office. T. P. Page is here today from Athena, arranging for the departure of himself and family for Paonia, Ariz., where they are to spend the winter. Mr. Page took occasion while here to say that he heartily endorsed the East Oregonian's suggestion that H. W. Scott, of the Portland Oregonian, is the fittest man for the United States senate that could be found in Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hislop leave on Sunday for Portland, whence Mrs. Hislop goes to California for the winter. She will stop in Sacramento en route to San Francisco, and will also visit other towns farther south. She expects to return to Pendleton in the spring. Mr. Hislop will probably spend a part of the winter in California with Mrs. Hislop. They have leased their home to T. H. Taggart. Mr. Hislop is a traveling salesman for the wholesale business of Fleischner & Meyer, Portland.

WESTON HAS UNUSUAL LOSS

SOMEONE ENTERED COUNCIL CHAMBER AND CUT BOOKS. No One Suspected as the Perpetrator of the Peculiar Outrage—Leaves Town From Books Found on the Floor.

The Weston Leader tells of a peculiar act committed at some time during Wednesday night. The city of Weston is the victim of a singular and inconceivably stupid as well as malicious crime. The discovery was made about 10 o'clock this forenoon and started the city authorities.

Upon entering the council chambers, which are upstairs in the city hall, on Franklin street, an appearance of chaos and devastation was presented. The floor was littered with fragments of books, reports, records, ordinance copies, receipts, letters, and numerous other documents that comprise the city records. These had been torn, cut and mutilated until their original nature was scarcely recognizable.

Entrances had been effected by prying open the door upstairs, and the secretary containing the city records was afterward pried open and its contents taken out in a haphazard fashion. Many of the records and papers were left undisturbed in their respective pigeon-holes, yet there seems to have been no method in the perpetrator's madness. No particular record or document was evidently wanted. All that came handy were mistreated, some of them being old accounts that are practically valueless to the city.

Character of the Damage. The damage, in fact, is not great and can be remedied with some work and expense. The large book containing records of all the city ordinances was badly cut and dissected, the mutilated leaves were all found on the floor and the book can be easily duplicated. Superintendent Lavenex's ledger of water works accounts was similarly treated, which will entail considerable work on that official. Even the books of the Alert Hose company were carried and dissected, showing that the fellow had no partiality for municipal property alone.

There is absolutely no clue to the perpetrator. It happens that no one had occasion to visit the council room until this morning since last Saturday afternoon, since which time the deed must have been done. The most plausible theory is that some drunken miscreant who "had it in" for the city for some reason, took this means of wreaking vengeance. The fact that no particular records were completely destroyed and that the fragments of all were left on the floor, would indicate that no motive other than a malicious frenzy to destroy actuated the criminal.

TUTUILLA NEWS.

What a Correspondent Finds to Tell of the South Suburb. Tutuilla, Oct. 29.—Samuel Loney and William Hamilton were down from Walla Walla last week on their way for a hunting trip across the mountains.

Jack Davis has sold a half section of Tutuilla real estate to Charles Isaacs and William Cheyne, for $4000. Dave Nelson has finished seeding 700 acres of a 1500-acre patch which he is seeding this fall. William Connerly has just finished seeding 1000 acres which he has rented north of Pendleton.

O. P. Bowman and John Muir, prominent farmers of Tutuilla, have both advertised to sell out. William Gillett and M. J. Howe have both returned with their threshing outfits from the Palouse country, and both report a profitable season's business up there. Mr. Howe's outfit in thirty-nine days' run, threshed over 100,000 bushels, and Mr. Gillett's, in the same time, 98,000 bushels.

William Roberts, who is up from the Despain gulch country today, has disposed of his farming interests down there to C. L. Smith, and after twenty years' application to farming, will rest for a spell. John Crow has just returned from a voyage of exploration down in Southern Oregon. Andrew Donaldson, James Clark, Walter Gillett and Burt Blair have

WM. BAKER WON THE SUIT

JURY GAVE IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT. Case of Will Wells Versus John L. Smith Was on Trial Today—Several Criminal Matters.

The long-fought case of Lina H. Sturgis vs. William Baker was finally ended in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, Baker, stating that there was no cause for action. It was first brought to issue in the circuit court a number of months ago, when the court sustained a motion for non suit. The supreme court reversed the decision and it was brought up again in this court. Lewis Harvey was arraigned this morning for assault and battery on the person of T. Ferguson, of Adams. He pleaded guilty and was fined $140. He was unable to pay and was remanded to jail.

Frank E. Crotto also was arraigned for larceny by bailee of a pair of horses and a buggy from George Froome's livery stable. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the first day of the special session, Nov. 26. The Athena case of Willis Wells vs. John L. Smith, was begun yesterday afternoon. R. J. Slater and F. G. Bailey were for the defense and Raymond Lloyd, of Athena, and L. H. Reeder appeared for the defense. The plaintiff desires to recover saloon fixtures and a stock of liquors which had been attached for a debt owed by a man named Love, whom the defendant asserts was a partner of Wells. The plaintiff alleges that he was sole possessor of the goods in question. The jury are: R. F. Johnson, J. R. Porter, J. M. Ferguson, W. P. Temple, Jurgen Mumm, L. C. Rothrock, E. L. Turner, Winn Johnson, John Danc, E. N. Smith, Kit Hays and Joseph Dunn.

The verdict was returned this afternoon in favor of Wells. Court adjourned until Nov. 26, when the unfinished business now pending will be disposed of at the adjourned session. IT WAS HALLOWE'EN. Boys Indulged in the Usual Pranks Common to Such Occasion. Last night was Halloween and some of the boys who were out for a little fun, proceeded in the evening to take a wagon about a quarter of a mile from home and turn it upside down in the road. Various pranks were indulged in, some bordering upon the serious, when several boys in the eastern part of the town fired off pistols promiscuously and made that vicinity resemble a battlefield for the time.

Kelley Takes Golden Rule Hotel.

M. F. Kelley, who yesterday yielded possession of the Hotel State, Walla Walla, to Mrs. Koontz, arrived from that place on the evening train Thursday, and today is closing a deal with Conrad Kohler for the leasing of the Golden Rule Hotel. The papers are not yet signed, therefore the details are not obtainable.

Rumor Again of Talika's Death.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—No further news is obtained regarding Miss Stone. The rumor that Miss Talika, Miss Stone's companion in captivity, and the madam's child, are both dead, is renewed.
