AMONG THE WORSHIPPERS

BEAUTIFIES PROPERTY.

THE PASTOR ENGAGED IN A GOOD BUSINESS DEAL.

The Rev. Robert J. Diven, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has been making some improvements at the church several months ago. It was bought in the purchase of the property, which will give it a more attractive appearance. He has of late been living in the "manse," as the parsonage is called in old Scotland and North Ireland, which was bought by the church several months ago. It is situated next to the church, on the Alta street side. It is related by one of the church members that the pastor, Mr. Diven, in the purchase of the property, exhibited considerable shrewdness and did a stroke of good business. He bought on the street one day that it was for sale, and at once bought it in his own name, and had it back up by the session. It was, of course, indorsed by the church, and was bought for the present use of the pastor as a residence for his family. Mr. Diven has made other improvements about the manse, and proposes to keep making them just so long as they can be made. He has strengthened the local church greatly by his energy and local influence.

At the evening service on All Saints' day, yesterday, at the Church of the Redeemer, Miss Fanny Duncan and Mrs. J. S. Porter received the sacrament of baptism. Rev. Daniel Staver, temporary supervisor of the Congregational church, took a short visit, and Rev. Ed. C. Carr, of Condon, Ore., will be the pastor during his absence. The church is looking for a permanent pastor. The Congregational church has wired and in the future will be supplied with electricity, an improvement much appreciated.

NOTHING TO NOTHING GAME

WHITMAN ACADEMY, 0;
PENDLETON ACADEMY, 0.

Five Hundred Football Enthusiasts
Watched the Two Schools Play Two
Halves With No Scoring—Whitman
Brought Two First Team Men,
Hence Pendleton Put in Waddell and Anderson.

When the time-keepers' watches had ticked off the last minute of play and the referee had notified the players that the game was over, there was rejoicing in both football camps yesterday afternoon, for the score stood, Whitman Academy 0, Pendleton 0. Not only did the teams fight over every inch of ground, but the 500 spectators jostled one another in vain attempts to get a better view of a Pendleton crowd and as the ball traveled up and down the field, the rovers shouted, "Give Red Anderson the ball." "What's the matter with the Academy?" "Oh, dear isn't that too bad?" Despite the frequent fumbles, the deplorable generalship and the innumerable penalties of off side, the game pleased the spectators. It was hard fought and that was the crucial point.

A Misunderstanding.
The game was supposed to be strictly academic, but somehow there was a misunderstanding in the arrangements, and the difficulty was not straightened out until time for the game to begin. Shivering and with teeth chattering from the cold, the crowd stood first on one foot and then on the other during the delay in the beginning of the game. Pendleton objected to playing against Ayres and Ringer, who were said to be "varsity men." Red Anderson of the scouring mill team, was on the ground and it was finally agreed that he and Coach Waddell should go in for the locals, to even up for Ayres and Ringer.

Pendleton might have won, but she discovered too late that the Whitman center was a stone wall and plunges at the line were worse than useless. With three minutes to play and the ball on her 30-yard line, the local team tried in vain to make the necessary gains through the opponents' heavy linemen.

Some of the Features.
During the first half the ball wavered back and forth in Pendleton's territory and was two or three times dangerously near the goal line. It was finally forced back to Whitman's 45-yard line, where each side held the other for downs.

In the second half, the physical condition of the locals was apparent from the fact that the ball was constantly in Whitman's end of the field. For Pendleton, Anderson and Waddell took good care of their men and were especially strong in offensive play. Fullback Lewis played his usual strong game, and Sullivan at left end stopped anything that came his way. It was Pendleton's first game at quarter and he won the admiration of his team mates and the people on the side lines.

Ayres and Ringer were always in the play for Whitman and were the chief obstacles to Pendleton's progress throughout the line. Wray proved to be a good punter, but had the bad habit of fumbling when the ball was passed to him.

The First Half.
It was twenty minutes to four when Pendleton won the toss and chose the west goal. Whitman kicked to the opponents' 15-yard line and returned seven yards. Both teams held for downs near the 25-yard line and Pendleton lost twelve on a fumble. Anderson punted and Whitman worked the leather back ten yards. Pendleton took the ball on a punt and with the assistance of a punt and two off sides for Whitman, arrived at the center of the field.

The pig skin wavered around Whitman's 45-yard line for fully ten minutes, and then Sullivan broke away and ran twenty-five yards. An off-side brought the ball back and Pendleton was held for downs. Pendleton caught Whitman's kick and brought it back to Pendleton's 45-yard line, where the half ended.

Second Half.
In the second half, the play was confined between Whitman's 15 and 50-yard lines. It was a series of off-sides and fumbles, neither side having the ball for more than four consecutive downs. Both teams worked desperately. With three minutes to play, Whitman fumbled and lost the ball and Pendleton took ten yards for an off-side. She tried three times to break through Whitman's center and failed each time. The half ended with no score and the ball on Whitman's 25-yard line. The line-up:

- |            |          |
|------------|----------|
| Whitman.   | Paxton   |
| Kennedy    | Ringer   |
| Anderson   | Graham   |
| Hamlin     | Ayres    |
| Shick      | Waddell  |
| Cargill    | R. T.    |
| Waddell    | Spalding |
| Strand     | Sullivan |
| Sullivan   | J. H.    |
| Capt. Hill | R. H.    |
| Penland    | Q.       |
| Lewis      | F. B.    |

Regarding the Dispute.
That Whitman brought two men who really belonged not in the class with Pendleton Academy, was due to no fault of Professor C. W. Allen, the Whitman coach who brought over the team. He was given to understand that Manager Pond, of Pendleton Academy, had been notified and had agreed to Ringer and Ayres coming. He made no concealment of the fact that they were here and the fault, if any lies with the athletic management at the college. This matter should have been clearly understood before the game was regarded as settled. Coach Allen, however, was not in any manner to blame.

Fred Pinkerton and Miss Isabella Davidson Were Married.
The Leader Says: The wedding of Mr. Fred Pinkerton and Miss Isabella Davidson was solemnized Wednesday, October 30, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. K. Davidson, south of town. That a generous share of life's blessings may be their portion, is the wish of many friends of this popular and estimable young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left on the afternoon train for a short wedding trip. The case of George N. Reynolds vs. Ira Henderson, which was transferred on changes of venue from Athena to Adams, has been compromised and settled. The litigants should be commended for their wisdom. Miss Lillian Metachen, of Portland, and Miss Stella Alexander, of Pendleton, were the guests yesterday of Miss Lois Peablies. They visited every department of the normal school while

MRS. BRUNE WAS "AD-RABLE."

So Says the New York Journal Theatrical Critic.

Of Mrs. Minnie Tittel-Brune, who appears at the Fraser on next Thursday night in "Theodora," the title role, is thus mentioned by the New York Journal:

Minnie Tittel-Brune gave to "Theodora" last evening rhythm, suppleness, grace. The Grand Opera House had never a more appreciative audience.

The painted scenes were fine achievements of theatrical archaeology. There were Ionic columns, mosaics, tapestries, a view of the mosque of St. Sophia in the moonlight, splendid costumes, resplendent jewels. There were slaves, soldiers, ambassadors, lords, train bearers, fan bearers, flower girls, the parades and historical novels have made familiar and inevitable. No one knows much of "Theodora" and the tale that it tells of her is perhaps not true. Byzantium in the sixth century of our era is an ideal place for adventures that the author may invent. Tamyris' home under the Hippodrome, Andreas' garden, the Hall of the Apostles, Justinian's study, Styra's house, an imperial box at the Hippodrome are agreeable stage pictures.

The waltzes composed by Mrs. Brune to be in harmony with them are not archaic. They have the merit of expressing her idea of Byzantium in 532 A. D. It is a pretty idea. She does not have to be a great composer to be admirable. The play ran with amazing fluency. Cariboth, the barbarian of Lutetia, which is now in Paris, had the becoming stupid air of the interlocutor. He asked an infinity of questions. The replies that he got explained to the audience the scenes that it did not see. In him the author had a substitute for the Greek chorus. Minnie Tittel-Brune was inexorable as a star.

$112,500 for a Prescription
The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco, Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in cash and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases. They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on their own by passing over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably. There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address JOHN J. FULTON COMPANY, 420 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal.
