TESTIMONY ALL BEFORE THE COURT Arguments Began, Hanna for the Prosecution.

END OF THE SCHLEY CASE IS NEAR

Correction of Evidence Was the Order of the Day, and Then Came the Speeches.

Washington, Nov. 4.—This was the last day on which testimony was submitted in the Schley case of inquiry. A large flock of young women were in court this morning when Captain Sigbee was called to correct his testimony. Answering a question by Lemly, he said he had not negatived the correspondents on the dispatch boat Premier on May 28 that the Spanish fleet was not at San Juan. Frank Richards, a correspondent who had charge of the Premier during the war, was called to rebut Sigbee's testimony, but the court ruled it could not take his testimony. Schley then took the stand to correct his testimony. He had a severe cold and was very hoarse.

He devoted about an hour to correcting his testimony. He made no changes of importance. When he had finished, Attorney Hanna, who had been assisting Lemly, began his argument. Schley denied that he told Sigbee on May 26 that the flying squadron would return to Key West. He also corrected his testimony regarding fifty shells passing over the fleet during the reconnaissance on May 31 to read "several shells."

"OREGON SUITS ME BEST."

Robert Laing Returns from the East Satisfied with this Climate and the Conditions Here.

Robert Laing of Pendleton came home on the evening train from a two months' stay in the east. He left Pendleton on the second of September and visited many points of interest, notably the Buffalo exposition, which was much enjoyed. He was in Niagara Falls at the time that the late President McKinley was there on the day of the assassination, and saw the chief executive two hours before the fatal shot was fired. After Mr. McKinley returned to Buffalo, Mr. Laing took a boat for Toronto, Canada, and arrived there two hours after the news came of the shooting. "The excitement was intense over there on the Canadian side," said Mr. Laing, "and one would have thought he was an American, instead of being under the dominion of the stars and bars."

Speaking of the return to Oregon's climate, Mr. Laing paid this tribute to the state and the conditions here existent: "I have seen all kinds of climates and all sorts of conditions, social and commercial, during my stay in the east, and during former years I have been in various foreign countries. I can say in all sincerity that I have never seen a climate that equals this everything taken into account. And as to other matters, we of Oregon can congratulate ourselves that we live where we live. I am more satisfied than ever before to claim eastern Oregon as my place of abode."

BUTTON FURNISHED CLUE.

Old Man, Ex-Convict, Arrested Here and Taken to La Grande.

Chief of Police John Heutman was called up Saturday by Marshal Childers of La Grande and asked to keep a lookout for a man who broke into a drug store in that city Friday night, relieving the till of $1 in Canadian money. Pendleton's chief of police, Heutman learned that a man answering the description given by the La Grande marshal had been in the "Last Chance" saloon with $3.25 in Canadian money which he had tried to sell for American money. At about 4:30 the chief found his man on the sidewalk near the police station well headed with booze and when arrested he had only 25 cents of the Canadian money and $2.25 in American money. He was very indignant at being arrested, but, as he acknowledged to being an ex-convict and otherwise answered the description of the man wanted at La Grande, he was locked up and Marshal Childers notified to come down and get him. The marshal arrived on the 10:40 train and identified his man by a button which he dropped in the store which tallied with the buttons on the old man's coat. He is a man of about 60 years of age, smooth shaven and weighs about 160 pounds. Marshal Childers returned with him on the 5:45 train this morning.

GREAT BRITAIN REMINDED OF THE FORMER GUARANTEES.

The Sultan Demands Protection Against the Attack of France.

Vienna, Nov. 4.—A Constantinople report published here today states that the Porte has demanded of Great Britain that she fulfill the terms of the London convention of 1878 and protect the sultan's possessions from French attack.

TROUBLE IN BAKER CITY COMMON COUNCIL.

Dr. J. P. Hays, a Member, Sued by Henry Rust and 400 Others, Claims the Herald.

Baker City, Nov. 4.—The Herald says: "Certain conditions in the municipal affairs that for a long time have caused the taxpayers of the city to become greatly dissatisfied with these conditions, reached a climax when a suit was filed by Henry Rust and 400 other citizens against Dr. J. P. Hays, a member of the city council and a practicing physician, alleging that at various times, which are mentioned in the complaint, Dr. Hays has wrongfully and illegally taken from the city treasury sums which in the aggregate amount to $456. It is stated authoritatively that other suits of a similar nature against other members of the city council will follow in quick succession. Among those is one against L. C. Crabb, a member of the council, who has for some time been taking from the city treasury the sum of $100 per month under the guise of being a superintendent of the construction of the system of water works. All of which is said to be without color of law."

CORSET, GIVES $30,000.

Portland Banker Subscribes One Tenth the Stock Lewis and Clark Corporation.

H. W. Corbett subscribed $30,000 towards the stock of the Lewis and Clark centennial. He made this announcement at the meeting of the members of the committee organized by the Portland chamber of commerce, board of trade and manufacturers' association, to cooperate with the subscription committee of the incorporators, of which Mr. Corbett is chairman. It was the unanimous opinion of the business men present that $30,000 could be raised to make the Lewis and Clark celebration a success, and further that the generous subscription of Mr. Corbett did much to assure the raising of the amount and the ultimate success of the exposition project.

President Mohler Says No.

President Mohler of the O. R. & N. Co. appears to be the victor in railroad matchmakers. Scarcely a week passes but some place is made for Mr. Mohler in the east. These are made without even consulting Mr. Mohler, who seems to be very well satisfied with the O. R. & N. Co. The latest placing of Mr. Mohler comes in a dispatch from Norfolk, Va., which books him for president of the Seaboard Air Line, to succeed John Skelton Williams. Mr. Mohler says there is not a word of truth in the report.

Modern Surgery Surpassed.

"While suffering from piles," says G. F. Carter, Atlanta, Ga., "I got De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve and was entirely cured." Cuts, burns, bruises, quickly cured. Beware of counterfeits. Fallman & Co. and Brock & McComas.

BETS ARE EVEN ON ELECTION IN GOTHAM

Big Wagers Are at No Odds in New York.

BOOKER WASHINGTON WAS AN ISSUE

In the Old Dominion State—How the Matter Stands in Various Localities Over the Country.

New York, Nov. 4.—Betting this morning on the majority election in even for large wagers. On small bets even is a slight favorite.

Democrats to Win in Kentucky. Louisville, Nov. 4.—Success for the democratic ticket is indicated in tomorrow's municipal and county elections, but it is apparent this morning that the race will be closer than was expected.

Republicans Sure in Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—The democrats today concede a general victory for the republicans tomorrow, but insist they will capture several important republican legislative districts.

Nebraska is Uncertain.

Omaha, Nov. 4.—Both sides claim victory in tomorrow's election. The race will be close, according to election prophets, who say the fusionists are not working with their usual vigor, and that this may cause defeat for the democrats.

Exciting in Virginia.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 4.—The most exciting campaign in Virginia since Lee's reconstruction closes tonight. All signs point to election of the entire democratic ticket. Roosevelt's daughter with Booker Washington was made an issue.

SOWING THE GRAIN.

Weston Farmers Busy With the Fall Work of Seeding.

Weston, Nov. 4.—Special.—Since the rain of last week the farmers in this vicinity have been busy putting in their fall wheat crop. The average this season bids fair to exceed that of last year.

The people on the mountains east and south of Weston are rushing their wood down while the fine weather lasts and the roads are still good. The hay shipments from this place have touched high water mark during the past week or ten days, most of it going to Seattle.

Dr. Bent completed his new barn last week. The building is the best of its kind in the vicinity.

Massie Phillips has the lumber on the ground for a new house, to be built on the corner of Main and Washington streets. When finished it will be occupied by himself and family as a residence.

The members of the normal school literary society gave what they called a Halloween social at the Dormitory, on Friday evening. But the guests christened the affair a ghost party. This ghostly appearance was caused by the members of the society being dressed in sheets and pillow cases, and while this costume caused a somewhat uneasy feeling for a time, it did not detract from a general good time which was enjoyed by everyone present.
