GENERAL NEWS

It is expected in Panama that a battle will soon take place. There are indications that the insurgents are preparing to advance on the city. Austrian consular advices from Durban in the course of the last half year, show that in spite of the war there has been a distinct increase in trade. The Daily Telegraph, in the course of a long article today on foreign entries at Henley, says it feels certain that the decision of the stewards will be against excluding foreigners. The second biennial report of the board of control of Iowa institutions, charged that appropriations for the state college at Ames and the state university at Iowa City have been used for lobbying purposes. The Austrian claims against Turkey, which have just been settled, were all of a serious character. They included charges against officers and men of the gendarmerie in Albania, who threatened and insulted Austrian consuls and persecuted Austrian girls. An address was given by Superintendent Genmel at the grave of Lieutenant Blaskowitz, of Russia, who was killed in a duel which he did not want to fight, the preacher entered a protest against "the spirit of slavery that will not emancipate itself from the degrading bonds of antiquated medieval prejudices." The New York Times quotes the Journal des Debats, which, in commenting on the retirement of Count von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, German ambassador at London, maintains that there are essential obstacles which will prevent Germany and Great Britain from drawing closely together. Following the action of the Northwestern, other Chicago-St. Paul lines are preparing materially to reduce the running time of their fast trains between the two cities. It is likely that by the new year passenger trains on the Rock Island, the Burlington, the Illinois Central and the St. Paul will be making the run in twelve hours or under. The present time is thirteen hours and twenty minutes.

AFTER MANY YEARS

Of suffering from kidney disease, Miss Minnie Ryan, of St. Louis, Mo., found a complete cure through the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is such a cure as this which establish the soundness of Dr. Pierce's theory. "I discovered the original cause of my disease in the stomach must be cured through the stomach. Every other organ depends on the stomach for its stability and vigor. For by the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition the food which is eaten is converted into nutriment, which, in the form of blood, is the sustaining power of the body and each organ of it. When the stomach is diseased the food supply of the body is cut down, the organs are starved, and the weakness of starvation shows itself in lungs, heart, liver, kidneys or some other organ. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so cures disease of other organs which have originated through deficient nutrition or impure blood. I had been suffering with kidney trouble twenty years" writes Miss Minnie Ryan, of 157 Louisiana Avenue, St. Louis, Mo. "and I had consulted with a number of the best physicians. Two years ago I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' and took also several vials of Dr. Pierce's Peppermint Cure. I took eight bottles (four of each) and I feel now perfectly cured. Dr. Pierce's Peppermint Cure biliousness.

CHAMPION DEFEATED AKRONITE

Jim Jeffries Knocked Out Gus Ruhlin in Fifth Round. WINNER CHALLENGED BY SHARKEY. The Bested Fighter Complained of the Big Fellow's Alleged Fouls—The Crowd Said "Pakir and Quitter." San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Beyond a blackened eye, nothing about Ruhlin's appearance today indicates a severe bruising being received last night. He states he is sore about the body, but refuses to discuss his future. Jeffries is almost without a scratch. The general opinion among those present last night was that it was a fake, arranged for the gate receipts, which amounted to over $50,000. Ruhlin quitting with ut being injured. San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Jim Jeffries, champion heavyweight, defeated Gus Ruhlin, the "Akron Giant," in the contest last night, putting out his man in the fifth round. The crowd that witnessed the fight included many of the most prominent men of the coast. Harry Corbett was referee. The fight in detail was as follows: On behalf of Tom Sharkey, Tim McGrath, challenged the winner of the contest. Time was called at 9:37 p. m. Round One. Ruhlin leads for head and lands nightly with left. They clinch. Both men are cautious. Jeffries' left goes around Ruhlin's head. No damage. Jeff tapped Gus lightly on head with left. The latter cleverly ducked. Jeff upper cut Ruhlin to jaw with left. Jeff landed left on body, but missed another for head. Ruhlin countered with left. Jeff swung again but missed. Gus blocked left jab for face. Jeff rushed, but Ruhlin came in to a clinch. Jeff essays a left for body, but the other man got out of harm's way. Jeff smiling. The round was tame, the champion having slight advantage. Round Two. They clinch. Ruhlin was hooped around neck with left. He accused Jeffries of foul fighting. The Akron Giant then shot in his right and found Jeff's ribs following at close range. Gus again landing on Jeff's face and stopping the latter's attempt to retaliate with right. Ruhlin feinted with right and shot straight left on Jeff's nose, but the blow was partially blocked. The men were wrestling when the round closed. This was decidedly Ruhlin's round. Round Three. The men came up strong and Ruhlin shot in with right and left, which were stopped. Jeff elbowed him way back and finally caught the Akron man with a terrific left to neck. Jeff pursued Gus and swung with both hands. In a rush, Jeff landed a weak body blow. Gus again appeals to the referee. Gus ducked and was met with straight left. He feinted and came back with an ineffectual short arm punch. Jeff easily held the Akron man with Gus constantly complaining. The men closed in several times. Ruhlin fighting low and Jeff apparently looking for a chance to land a knockout punch. Jeff retreated about the ring until the spectators hissed. The round ended with neither man in distress, but with Ruhlin far more worried of the two. Round Four. After a short exchange of close blows, Ruhlin landed on face and head and Jeff was forced back. Jeff smiled as Ruhlin again rebuffed him. He then pursued him, hitting at close range and plainly wounding his man down. Ruhlin lacked aggressiveness and retreated as Jeff swung left and right and missed. Gus led for the face and Jeff pushed him across the ring. Then the champion raised his right and landed a fierce left on his jaw. Ruhlin shot out ineffectual lefts. Jeff waded in, whaling Ruhlin left and right. Gus went down and took the count. He came up apparently weak and the gong saved him. Ruhlin was plainly in the greatest distress when the round closed. This round was much in Jeff's favor. Round Five. Ruhlin wore a distressed expression when he came up. Jeff went in with straight arm blows, but was blocked. Jeff landed light hook on jaw and short left to ribs and then again to neck with right. A volley followed this in which the champion felled Gus with lefts to the face. Ruhlin ducked and retreated steadily. Jeff followed the advantage and bore in, touching Ruhlin beneath the chin with right and forcing Ruhlin to the ropes. Gus went to the floor and after the end of the count of five staggered to his feet. He ceased fighting, and Jeff went in for a knockout. Ruhlin was utterly dazed and missed wild swings, when Jeff threw him against the ropes and off. Almost from the beginning of the fight Ruhlin appeared frightened. The fight was practically finished in the second round, when Jeff landed left on jaw that took all the fight out of him. Ruhlin claimed that a chance blow in the pit of the stomach rendered him unfit for fighting. His seconds complained bitterly, but Ruhlin insisted that he was the victim of an accident. Jeff walked to Ruhlin's corner and asked what was the mat-
