THE CAPILLARY SUBSTANCE

COLUMBIA GEORGE WANTED TO KEEP HIS HAIR.

His Neck Had Been Saved and Then He Desired the Same for His Ample Locks.

Columbia George and Toy Toy, the Umatilla Indians convicted a few days ago of the murder of Anna Edna, an old Indian woman, by administering strychnine, were arraigned for sentence in the United States court yesterday morning. Judge Bellinger sentenced them to imprisonment for life in the Oregon state penitentiary, at hard labor. They received the sentence without any symptoms of emotion, having been made aware of the verdict of the jury what it was to be. When they were taken to the United States Marshal's office preparatory to being shipped to prison, Columbia George anxiously inquired if he would have his hair cut off. Deputy Wilson told him that he was not certain about this.

George then asked Wilson to intercede for him and save his hair if possible, saying: "Indian no like to have hair cut off."

He next asked if both were sentenced, and when told that they were, he asked: "Life?"

Wilson said: "Yes."

"Umph," grunted George, "too bad; long time."

THE SOCIETY NOTES

TWELVE YOUNG MEN GIVE CHARMING FUNCTION.

Entertained 150 Friends at La Dow Music Hall on Thursday Evening—Other Events of the Week.

At La Dow Music Hall, on Thursday evening, Messrs. Lawrence G. Frazier, Charles J. Ferguson, Elmer P. Dood, Rosco S. Bryson, George A. Hartman, Jr., Roy W. Ritner, Fred W. Lampkin, Charles Bond, Harry Thompson, Robert Starkweather, Guy W. Wade and Eldred B. Waffle entertained a company of 150 of their friends. It was eminently a successful social function, and will be marked as one of the pleasantest affairs of the season. The young gentlemen were very gracious hosts and received the congratulations of all their guests for the charming quality of hospitality that was dispensed.

The La Dow Music Hall was rendered more attractive even than usual by the artistic placing of a profusion of palms and the illuminating of the rooms with colored Japanese lanterns that shed a subdued light, the softening effect being much more agreeable than the clearer glare of electric lighting.

Every detail was arranged with consummate skill, so that the comfort of everyone was looked after in a manner to insure the highest degree of enjoyment. The guests were received at the hall entrance by several of the hosts, who conducted them to the reception room, improvised from the Elks' lodge room. During an hour, the guests arrived and were received by the hosts and patronesses, who were: Mrs. Leona Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Borie, Mrs. F. W. Vincent, Mrs. R. Alexander, Mrs. J. R. Dickson, Mrs. Frank Frazier, Mrs. T. G. Halley, Mrs. Leon Cohen, Mrs. E. P. Marshall, Mrs. Charles H. Carter, Mrs. G. A. Hartman and Mrs. Charles J. Smith.

Card tables were placed conveniently and some of the guests, during the early part of the evening, engaged in games, some preferring to remain there, rather than to enter the ballroom.

The orchestra was in the reception room until about 9:30, when the greater part of the company repaired to the larger hall, dancing continuing until 1 o'clock.

The program of dances was as usual, waltzes and two-steps, and the young men who were giving their friends an evening of such pleasure proved to be highly successful in causing the dancing portion of the affair to proceed with delight to all.

Refreshments were served in both rooms, and in every respect, the event was successful and enjoyable.

Some Fraternal Society Notes.

Arrangements are being projected by Pendleton Camp No. 41, Woodmen of the World, and Daphne Circle No. 2, Women of Woodcraft, for the reception of Head Consul F. A. Falkenberg, who is to be here on the 17th inst. They are making extensive preparations and hope to make this the greatest fraternal event ever had in Pendleton. The reception will be held at I. O. O. F. hall from 8:45 to 9 p. m., and then they will march to the court house, where Consul Falkenberg will deliver a lecture. After the exercises there a dance will be given at the La Dow hall.

The Pioneers of the Pacific have changed their meeting place from the La Dow hall to the Hendricks hall and Wednesday evening they celebrated their moving into their new home by having a spread and dance among themselves. The dance lasted until midnight and all had an enjoyable time. Kirkman's orchestra furnished the music.

According to the records recently discovered, the first ironclad was built in the sixteenth century. In the past century people are trying this medicine and that one in the hope of finding a cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, flatulency, biliousness, and malaria. There is only one medicine to cure these, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Try it and you will be convinced. It is for sale by all druggists. Apply to any of them for a copy of Hostetter's Illustrated Almanac for 1902. It is a free publication and contains much valuable information that may be useful to you during the entire year, also many amusing anecdotes, statistics, and testimonials as to the efficacy of the bitters. It is printed in seven different languages. Don't fail to get a copy.

He next asked why they were not sent to McNeill's island, and was told that there were too many there. Toy Toy asked no question, but smiled at the anxiety of George in regard to his hair, and his future place of residence.

Anna Edna passed as a doctor of witch with the Indians. George and Toy Toy professed to be afraid she would work them some harm, and so poisoned her. The crime was committed August 24, 1900. The murderers were tried and convicted in the state court at Pendleton. An appeal was taken to the supreme court, where it was decided that the state court had no jurisdiction in the case. They were promptly rearrested and held to answer before the United States court where the jury found them guilty, but declined to inflict the death penalty.

ANOTHER CASE OF INDIANS KILLING WITCHES

The Rev. Solomon Hotema, Full Blood Choctaw, Sentenced to Death—He Would Have Been Saved Had He Been Ignorant Like Columbia George and Toy Toy.

A case that bears upon that of Columbia George and Toy Toy, for the killing of Annie Edna, is related from Paris, Texas. The case is different in that Hotema is highly educated, which is not true of Columbia George and Toy Toy, a fact that caused the jury in the federal court in Portland to refuse to return a verdict empowering the court to sentence them to hanging.

The Reverend Solomon Hotema, a full-blooded Choctaw, highly educated, and once a Judge, District Attorney and Presbyterian minister, was convicted of murder in the first degree in the federal court, and will be sentenced to death.

Hotema, despite his education and experience, believes in witches, and in April last exterminated several men and women of the Choctaw nation with a shot gun, on the ground that the women were witches and the men workers of witchcraft.

The clergyman was acquitted at one trial upon the belief that he was insane, and a second trial resulted in a mistrial.

Hotema was educated at the Presbyterian College at Roanoke, Va., and after studying three years was graduated and ordained to the Presbyterian ministry. Returning to the Choctaw nation, he was elected judge of Kiamitia county, which office he held several terms. Later he became district attorney and a member of the nation's council. He was a delegate to the recent general assembly of the Presbyterian church at New Orleans.

There were several deaths from meningitis in the nation and Hotema concluded that the witches were at work. He and two young braves started on a witch hunt, killing two women, one with a child in her arms, a boy and two men.
