and Clark Centennial Club, which opens a new field for the benefit of its members, as shown herein.

"First—All patriotic and home-lovthe Lewis and Clark Centennial Club to thereby aid in every way possible the successful culmination of the cen-

"Second—The club proposes to ex-"Third—The club to maintain in the city of Portland, Ore., and in various other cities and towns, suitable club rooms for the free accommodation of its members and their guests.

"Fourth—In this brief announce-of the club, and every member will be advised from time to time of further and more particular plans promulgated for the club's success.

"Fifth—Our plan, however, is here specifically set forth to show you why templates choosing one of its members every few weeks, for the next four years, to travel throughout the sition of 1906, and of this club; and in send a number of its members to the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904, and to the Lewis and Clark Centennial other profitable benefits are also pro-
