SUBURBAN LETTER

WEEKLY GIST OF NEWS FROM TUTUILA.

Correspondent Mentions Everyone of That Vicinity Who Has Done Anything Worth Mentioning.

Tutuilla, Dec. 20.—Charles Estes and John Thorpe were Tutuilla visitors on Sunday.

William Connerly has sold his 1901 crop of mule colts for $40 a head.

Roscoe Bronson is down from Gilliland today with a band of horses to winter in Tutuilla pastures.

John Thorp has rented the Roach place from Ruge Brothers for a winter pasture.

George Duggan, who has been a resident of Tutuilla the past summer, started last week for a visit to friends in Illinois. He expects to return in May.

Sam Atkins has returned from a visit to Portland.

Temple & Wilcox have something new in the shape of a disk plow, with which they experimented before a crowd of critical farmers on Saturday. The plow seems to do the work all right, turning a furrow 22 inches wide and eight inches deep, pulled by three horses. Some of the points of superiority claimed for the plow and which the trial on Saturday seemed to bear out, is that it will put the ground in a better state of cultivation at a much less expenditure of horse flesh than the old style of plow.

Ed Morehead, the well driller, has finished his work here for the present and returned to his home in Yakima.

The North Tutuilla wheat market, which had been in a somewhat comatose condition, strongly resembling paralysis, for some time, was given a jar a week ago by a wicked carpetbagger from Utah, who came along and offered 50 cents for several lots and piled the price up to that figure generally. The gentleman from Utah may come again.

Charles Hamilton's outfit came down from Thom Hollow to his Tutuilla farm on Saturday.

William Caldwell, Jr., of Pendleton, was a Tutuilla visitor on Sunday.

Charles Foster, ex-mayor of Gilliland, was down from that burg on Saturday. One of the immediate and pressing needs of Gilliland is a nickel-in-the-slot machine. When any citizen of Gilliland, yearns to buck the tiger he has to come all the way to Pendleton, quoth the mayor.

John Peebles is purchasing stock cattle.

Walter Gillett and family have moved to Echo for the winter.

W. P. York, of Ritter, has moved his family out to McKay creek for the winter, and has returned to the John Day to bring out his stock, feed not being too plentiful in that country.

Fred Webber was up from his sheep camp at Nolin on Saturday, and has got his sheep out of the mountains in good shape. Some feeding has already been done, it being found better economy to feed moderately now, rather than have to feed heavily after a while to regain what is lost.

Walter Adams has purchased 320 acres of land in section 33, township 1, of Elijah Gibbs, paying therefore $3000.

For sale, 160 acres of fine wheat land south of Adams. Terms, $2000 cash, balance to suit purchaser. James A. Howard.

You can't beat Martin on good things for Christmas. All kinds of vegetables, oranges, bananas, nuts and candies.

E. T. Wade has a special bargain in residence property, two blocks from Main street. A new seven-room house, stone foundation and bath, $1800.

For sale, 50 vacant lots, 25 residence properties, choice ranches in Canas and Starkey prairies. Wheat lands and stock ranches. E. T. Wade.

Wanted, several promising people to buy crockery and glassware. A gold plated picture frame given with a 50 cent purchase at the Owl this week.

The Standard Grocery company's hams must be extra fine, when people will walk past Main street and go away up on Court street to get them.

The ladies of the Christian church will continue their sale of fancy work at reduced prices all day Saturday,

December 21 at the home of Mrs. Kennedy, 404 Webb street.

A. Kunkel Brings His Family Here From Spokane.

A. Kunkel and family arrived yesterday from Spokane and will make their permanent home here. Mr. Kunkel shop building on the corner of Alta and Cottonwood streets, where he expects to put in an up-to-date line of farming implements to be opened about the 15th of next month. Mr. Sloan has built an addition on the north side of the shop into which he will remove his blacksmith shop. Mr. Kunkle will live in the house on the corner of Jackson and Bush streets, in north Pendleton.

MOTT GIVEN 30 DAYS

IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Someone Stole Hams From Standard Grocery—The Court Says He Did It.

Wednesday night when Frank O'Gara, proprietor of the Standard grocery, went to take in his display of groceries which he is in the habit of putting out on the sidewalk in front of his store on Court street, he discovered that three nice hams were missing.

He asked the clerks if they knew where they had gone, and none of them could enlighten him as to their whereabouts.

Yesterday, he concluded that he would trap the man who was borrowing them without first asking his permission, so he got an electric battery and attached a wire to the ham on the outside so that when the ham was touched the bell would ring.

Nothing happened until about 5 o'clock, when the bell began to ring and Mr. O'Gara ran out at the front door and Dayton Barnhart ran out at the side.

Just as Mr. Barnhart stepped out onto the sidewalk a man came by and he nailed him.

He gave his name as Frank Mott, but says he knows nothing about who had hold of the ham that caused the rattling of the bell.

Mott claims to belong to the W. & C. R. railroad work train which was in the city yesterday.

He was arrested and this afternoon brought before Judge Fitz Gerald.

He was given 30 days in the county jail.

It appears that the same man was found drunk by the chief of police and ordered out of town recently.

A game with the University of Washington is also contemplated, but this part of the program has been cut out owing to the distance to Seattle.
