is needed is that which is cleansing, soothing, protecting and healing. Such a remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. Price is cents at druggists or it will be

THEY TOOK DOUGH

STRANGERS TOOK $88.50
FROM AN ADAMS MAN.

Andrew Rothrock Paid Dearly for a New Acquaintanceship.

Adams, Jan. 6.—Two strangers came to this city Sunday afternoon and registered at the Commercial hotel, and put in the day sizing up things generally, more particularly looking for parties that had money.
About 8 o'clock they met Andrew Rothrock, a rancher who lives about three and a half miles southwest of town, and made themselves very agreeable to him, so much so, that he agreed to share their room with them. About 11 o'clock the three retired, and some time between that hour and 3 o'clock in the morning, Rothrock's new friends remembered that they had some unfinished business in the direction of Pendleton, and very quietly departed, taking with them $88.50, a pair of shoes and hat belonging to their sleeping roommate.

New York Fruit Handler Says Ours
Are the Best Going to That Market.

Mr. Kimball, of Austin, Kimball & Co., New York importers of apples, ties up and sends the following bou-quet to Oregon apple-raisers, together with some words of counsel to the care of orchards:

"The Oregon people appear to know their business pretty well. They pick back and get their goods into market in better shape than anybody else.
They have the call, and all they need

A POPULAR JOURNALIST

Mark Bennett, one of the most popular newspaper men in the country, has been entrusted with the important work of bringing before the public the plans of the big St. Louis World's Fair to be held in 1903, to celebrate the centennial of the Louisiana purchase.

to do is to maintain their standards of growing and handling. Above all, tell them to keep their orchards clean.
The various apple pests have ruined the reputation of many another district; do not let this stupendous blunder be repeated in Oregon. Every diseased tree ought to be cut down and burned. Every infected apple ought to be destroyed—not left to rot and breed after its kind—but given to the flames or to the hogs. Tell your people to safeguard their reputation by keeping up the character of their product. Let them do this, then multiply the orchards, and the apple trade will be theirs permanently."

In furnishing the East Oregonian some information regarding this subject, a gentleman prominent in the shipping trade, says:

"The foregoing is so important that I wish you would call particular attention to the matter, so as to impress the matter on the apple growers. Only recently in conversation with a gentleman in Salt Lake, he deplored the fact that they were not raising anything like as many good apples in that territory as they formerly did, owing to the growers not taking proper care of their trees and fruit, and permitting the insects to get a foothold to such an extent that the crops had been reduced materially in quantity and quality. Oregon apples have so great a reputation in the Eastern markets that it is of prime importance that the quality should be maintained."

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invig-orator for weak, run-down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c.
