THEATRICAL MATTERS

LOCAL AND GENERAL

"At the Old Cross Roads" Comes on Wednesday Night—Some Eastern Stage Notes.

The following claims by the management may be relied upon as valid:

It is a pleasure to chronicle the success of the new play, "At the Old Cross Roads," which the enterprising young theatrical manager, Arthur C. Alston, recently produced at so great an expense. "At the Old Cross Roads" is evidently destined to prove a magic title and one of the season's most enduring successes.

The title must not be confounded with the rural drama, for the scenes and incidents are laid around the estates of several wealthy plantation owners of Natchez, Miss. Again, it has not used the well worn theme of the late war with our southern neighbors. It simply tells an intensely interesting story of a possible happening and is happily interwoven with several pretty love scenes and incidents of a humorous character.

Francis Wilson's New Play.

New York, Jan. 7.—The dramatic novelty of the week is Francis Wilson's new play, "The Torador," which has its first metropolitan presentation tonight at the Knickerbocker theater. The piece is a musical comedy and it has already had a most successful run at the London Gaiety Theater.

Says Kubelik Broke Contract.

New York, Jan. 7.—An interesting and romantic story is involved in the suit of Rudolph Aronson against Charles Frohman, which came up for hearing today in the Tenth District Municipal court. The suit is brought by Mr. Aronson as the American representative of Norbet Dunkel, musical director of the imperial court of Austria and a rich banker in that country. The suit is brought to recover damages for alleged violation of contract on the part of a Kubelik, the Hungarian violinist now appearing in this country.

New York Dramatic News.

New York, Jan. 6.—The most important feature of the New Year's dramatic bill on the metropolitan stage was the appearance at Wallack's theater of Kyrle Bellew in Harriet Ford's play, "A Gentleman from France," made from Stanley Weyman's novel of the same name. In "A Gentleman from France" Mr. Bellew has a piece of sterling worth and both player and play were joyously received as a pleasant relief from

FAMOUS ENGLISH ACTRESS TO TOUR THE AMERICAN STATES

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, England's famous actress, has come to America to pay us a visit. She will tour the country, appearing in several well-known plays.

the wishy-washy so-called romantic dramas with which New York has been surfeited during the last two seasons. Mr. Bellew is among the best of the few really competent romantic actors of the day, and his return to America is indeed welcome.

A pretty and fragrant play is Basil Hood's comedy, "Sweet and Twenty," which had its first presentation in America last Monday evening by Charles Frohman's company at the Madison Square theater. It tells the story of the love of two brothers for the same girl. The younger is the favored suitor, but he gets into trouble and the elder uses the opportunity to exaggerate his misconduct and blacken his character. Then the prodigal sends home word of his reformation and prosperity, but the brother suppresses the good news. Nevertheless, the girl is faithful to her first love, and, in the end, all ends happily. The lovers are played by Harry Stanford and Annie O'Neill.

Crowded houses was the rule last week at Hahhersteins' Victoria theater, where Otis Skinner began his New York engagement in George H. Baker's fine play, "Francisca da Rimini." Mr. Skinner is supported by an excellent company, the play is well staged and altogether the attraction may be accounted one of the most notable of the season.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run-down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Tallman & Co.

BULLDOG TOOK A HAND.

Mixed Up in an Encounter and Caused Some Trouble.

Three or four men and a bulldog caused considerable excitement on Main street near Neuman's cigar stand, Monday afternoon. It seems that the young men had some difficulty in a saloon and came out on the sidewalk to settle it. They mixed in a little fistie encounter and a bulldog, which was near, seeing the excitement, concluded to investigate and see what was going on. After looking around a little he thought this was the place for him to gain honors in the ring, so he waded into the thickest of the mess and began to take a hand in the fray. Just at this time the owner of the dog came along, and seeing that he would hurt someone, undertook to pull the dog off. His efforts along this line were misunderstood as an intention to take a hand in the fight, and he undertook to put both the dog and the owner out of the ring with one knock-out blow. Is this he was unsuccessful.

No serious damage was done to either men or dog. It caused only a little amusement for the onlookers.

WALLA WALLA WHEAT

54 1/2 CENTS, F. O. B.

Farmers Even at That Price Refused to Sell, Believing the Market Will Advance Soon

Walla Walla, Jan. 7.—Wheat reached the top notch yesterday, but no sales of note were reported. Fifty-four and a half cents were offered for choice lots, but farmers refused to sell. The present unsettled condition of the weather and the weather and the prospects of grain freezing out have given farmers new hope, and but little grain will be sold until snow falls or the danger of heavy frosts passes.

SCIENCE SETTLES IT.

Dandruff is Caused by a Germ That Saps the Hair's Vitality.

It is now a settled fact that dandruff is caused by a germ. Falling hair and baldness are the result of dandruff. Dr. E. J. Beardsley, of Champaign, Ill., got hold of the new hair preparation, Newbro's herpicide—the only one that kills the dandruff germ. He says: "I used Herpicide for my dandruff and falling hair, and I am well satisfied with the result." Dr. J. T. Fugate, of Urbana, Ill., says: "I have used Herpicide for dandruff with excellent results. I shall prescribe it in my practice." Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Physicians as well as the general public say so.
