At Boston, admitting that his plea was in the rogue's gallery and that for a period of years he had been familiar with the "lowest depths of New York opium joints," yet pleading for mercy from the court, Franklin J. LETTER ON MANY TOPICS FROM NEW YORK

Some Politics, Some Art and Some Other Things Interesting to People Generally.

New York, Jan. 11.—New Yorkers in general as well as lovers of art are interested to know what disposition is to be made of the famous Raphael painting for which J. P. Morgan paid half a million dollars. Many claim that the picture is to be brought to this country and placed in Mr. Morgan's private home on Murray Hill, which is already famous for the collection of rare art works and bric-a-brac which it contains; while others say that America will never see the painting—the "Madonna of St. Anthony of Padua"—because of the tariff barrier. Five hundred thousand dollars is certainly the largest price ever paid for the work of any artist living or dead, and although Mr. Morgan gave the money willingly and is glad to count the Raphael among his art treasures, he refuses to pay the duty of $100,000 which would be exacted by the customs authorities. For this reason it is believed that the picture will go to the Morgan house in London, where there are already $1,620,000 worth of oil paintings which will be brought to America only in case of the tariff's being removed, or Mr. Morgan's giving them to some museum, in which latter case they will be exempt from duty.

The governing committee of the New York stock exchange has accepted amendments to the constitution of the exchange to the effect that the dues have been doubled. Hereafter the initiation fee of new members will will undoubtedly some day be regarded as a classic of its kind. It is magnificently staged and acted by a company which could not be improved upon. The play abounds in good features, the dialogue is clean and bright, and the moral lesson taught will make a lasting impression upon those who see it.

Perils of Our Presidents.

All of our presidents have been in the habit of mingling freely with the people, usually without any particular precaution being made for their safety. The danger of this has been so emphatically pointed out in the last few months that wise statesmen suggest that the old plan be discontinued. There is no cause for great danger in many of the so-called committees advertised for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. The safest medicine to take is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It has been before the public for 50 years, and has always been found safe and reliable in cases of nervousness, insomnia, indigestion, dyspepsia and malaria, fever and ague. It therefore occupies the foremost position in the list of household remedies, and no family should be without it.

GONE TO HOT SPRINGS.

Tom Jordan Will Seek Relief From Rheumatism.
 Tom Jordan, has gone to Hot Springs, Ark., on account of ill health. Mr. Jordan is suffering from a severe and protracted attack of rheumatism. His physicians advised him to take the trip, and informed him that they did not think he would live long if he did not get away from this section of the country. Mr. Jordan was a member of the Second Oregon, and while in the Philippines was in good health, the warm and moist climate seeming to suit him. Ever since he returned to Pendleton, however, he has been subject to rheumatism, and his friends hope that this trip will put him back in good health. John Jordan, of Pilot Rock, accompanied his brother and will remain at Hot Springs to look after him for a few weeks at least.

be $2,000 instead of $1,000, and all member's dues will be 500 instead of $25, semi-annually. These increases have been made in view of the added expense the exchange will be under when it moves into its new building and will augment the institution's income by probably $100,000. The amendments are said to be satisfactory to the members of the exchange.

The recent theft of $50,000 worth of jewelry from a family prominently connected with Gotham's smart set will undoubtedly prove a lesson to society as far as the hiring of servants is concerned. New York society has enjoyed a remarkable degree of immunity from jewel robberies compared with London's fashionable world and to this fact probably is due the comparative laxity of investigation in the antecedents of new help.

The dissolution of the celebrated law firm Everts, Choate & Beaman, of which Ambassador to England Joseph Choate was a member, marks the breaking up of one of the oldest companies of this kind in Gotham. With various changes the company dates back in its history to 1842, when Charles E. Butler and the late William Everts, once secretary of state, senator and jurist, formed the firm of Butler & Everts. The dissolution came in consequence of the death recently of William M. Everts, Charles C. Beaman and Prescott Hall Butler and will be liquidated by J. Everts Tracy and Allen W. Everts, who will practice at the old address in association with T. T. Sherman and Herbert J. Bickford under the firm name of Everts, Tracy & Sherman.

The senatorial bee is buzzing in more than one New York politician's hat and already the men who hope to succeed Senator Thomas C. Platt next year are gathering their forces around them. The friends of Lieutenant Governor Timothy Woodruff assert that he will be elected and there is an emphasis about their suggestions that smacks of promised support of Senator Platt himself. Mr. Woodruff is a personal friend of Frank H. Platt, the senator's son, and it has been pointed out that the Platt sons would not let their father retire unless Mr. Woodruff or someone equally acceptable be assured of succeeding him. As far as qualifications are concerned there certainly could not be found any one more fitted for the place than Mr. Woodruff. He has money, social standing, a charming wife and experience gained through three consecutive terms as lieutenant governor of the Empire state.

The directors of the Metropolitan Museum of Art are awaiting almost anxiously the offer of Wilson MacDonald, the sculptor, to sell the original plaster bust of Washington to the federal government, and one might say, waiting in the hope that the offer will be refused so that the coveted property will pass over to the museum. The bust was made by the celebrated Houdon and has passed down to Mr. MacDonald, who has used it in making 150 plaster busts for the public schools. These busts are soon to be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies of a patriotic character.

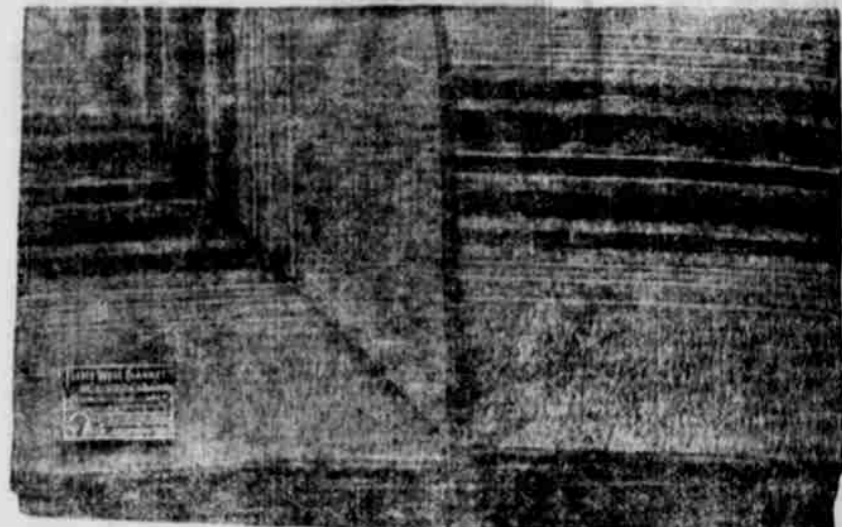

The Citizens' Union, the political party which played such an important part in the "de-Tammanyizing" of New York during the recent municipal elections, hopes to have a bill passed by the present legislature which will allow it to hold a convention instead of by No party that polled less than 10,000 votes at the last gubernatorial election, according to the provisions shall be permitted to have a caucus on the ballot unless it makes nominations by petition.

The 1902 appropriation for gas for the two boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx shows an expense of lighting the city of New York is no small one. In the borough of Brooklyn it is $2,000,000, of which the best illuminated of the city, $275,000, and the Bronx, $1,500,000, and the Bronx, $1,361,500, so that as in the case of public buildings and in Greater New York cost a $1,000,000 a year.

Colonel Thurston, who is commissioner of police, is to more claims to distance that of being Devereux's for he has been one of the known officers of the New York guard for years. He has authority on guard duty and has made him familiar with all the offenders. In his leisure he is one of the most prominent members of the crowd of "fire chasers," a prominent men who are connected with the fire who will forsake dinner any other social event for a big blaze. All of these have badges and their highly valued by the fire of the city.
