GURDANE NEWS.

Notes Concerning People in the South Country.

Gurdane, Jan. 13.—Miss Florence Johnson, of Woodburn, and Guy McCarty, of Pendleton, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McLaughlin.

Frank Jones, our road supervisor, has the roads in this neighborhood in the best condition they have been for several years. He should be re-elected.

Miss Ella Kennedy, of Woodburn, is stopping on her homestead and supervising work in clearing the land.

While working in the woods a few days ago, Glen Rowland had the misfortune to cut his leg quite badly with a cross-cut saw.

Harry Grubbe has gone to The Dalles to be married Sunday to Miss Christian Mickelson, of that place.

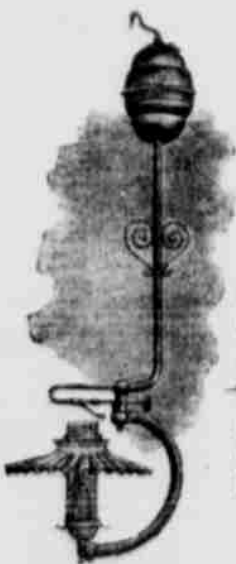

Mrs. Dave Kerriek has gone to Pendleton to spend the winter and school her boy.

Mrs. Charles Kate, who has been an invalid for the past year, is much improved in health now.

George Horseman gave a grand ball at his home Thursday night.

A telephone line to Thunder Mountain is projected. The proposition is now up to the Chamber of Commerce and business men of Boise, to decide on what route the line shall take from that city. A line has already been completed to Council.

BUSINESS MATTER

BAKER CITY FIGHTS FOR THE SUSANVILLE TRADE.

Mine Owner From There Talks About the Matter.

The Baker City Republican says: A bitter fight is likely to result between Baker City and Pendleton for the trade of the Susanville district. Already people in the district are pricing goods in Pendleton to see if they can be laid down cheaper from that place than from Baker.

"With us," said a mineowner from that place, who is registered at the Geisler, "it is nothing more than a business proposition. If we can get goods from Pendleton cheaper than from Baker City, our orders will go to the former place.

"As it now stands, there is a wagon haul of 44 miles from Susanville to Whitney, the terminus of the Sumpter Valley railroad, which brings the produce to Baker City. From Susanville to Pendleton the haul is 85 miles. Baker City has everything in its favor for keeping the trade but she will have to show some enterprise. If Pendleton builds the road to Susanville, and the road to Whitney is left in its present condition, the trade will certainly go to Pendleton in spite of the longer haul. Owing to that fact it is impossible to get any supplies into the Susanville district in the winter time, or haul anything out. The place is shut off from the rest of the world during the winter months. We might as well be on an island of the Pacific so far as being able to get things necessary for carrying on work is concerned.

"Therefore, should Pendleton build the road, offering us any kind of a winter route, a large volume of business is bound to follow in that direction. There is some talk of the Whitney road being extended to the Middle Fork next summer, in which case the haul by Baker City route would be considerably shortened. In that case the enterprise of Pendleton would be naught against the greater advantage held by Baker City.

HOPS FOR THIS COUNTRY.

Colonel Judson Has a Project That is Interesting.

Colonel R. C. Judson, industrial agent of the O. R. & N., was in the city Wednesday, says the Athena Press. In an interview Mr. Judson gave the information that his visit to Athena was mainly for the purpose of securing the services of some one to handle and distribute a consignment of hop roots which will in a short time arrive here.

Mr. Judson secured the services of W. J. Wilkinson, who will see to it that all roots sent here will be given a thorough test in all the different characters of soil in the country tributary to Athena.

"There is all kinds of money in hops," said Mr. Judson, "and I believe that your soil here will produce good crops. At any rate, we propose to make extensive experiments with the plants here. You might say that these experiments result from a former visit to your city. I was accompanied by a California gentleman who was in search of a hop producing locality, and who stands ready to invest liberally in land whenever its hop-producing qualities have been ascertained. Athena was one of the few localities selected by this gentleman, hence these experiments."

Clark Wood Should Marry.

Now, this man Wood, says the Milton Eagle, who seeks to defraud the government out of a quarter section of land in Franklin county, Washington, by building a dug-out of badger hole dimensions which he visits about as often as the pilgrim journeys to Mecca, claims to be prominently mentioned for "political honors" in a county where he has established such a subterfuge of a residence and is such an "extensive farmer." Wood knows full well he couldn't plow a straight furrow to save his life. He knows his own base and designing forehead has not been dampened by an honest sweat for years. He harps on multiplication when he knows he never contributed to the multiplication of anything in his life. A mean, miserly old bachelor with his soul wrapped up in a Franklin county dug-out and an eye looking singly to an office in Pine Creek county, he seeks to malign with foul, venomous and cankerous breath the fair name of the editor of this paper.

MILTON'S FINANCES.

Town has Reduced Debt During the Year.

A careful study of the financial report of the city treasurer, N. A. Davis, published last week, discloses the truth that Milton, instead of being head over heels in debt as has been urged by outsiders and citizens as well, is as a matter of fact, on a paying basis, discharging the floating indebtedness, says the Milton Eagle. The net floating indebtedness of the city on December 10, 1901, is $6409.46, to which adding the total bonded indebtedness of the city of $15,000 places the total liability at $21,409.46 instead of $40,000 as has been reported.

During the past year the floating indebtedness has been diminished $1,487.60, notwithstanding the sums of money spent for the permanent improvement on the electric light plant and the water system.

A KANSAS TREASURER RETAINED MONEY OF "JOINTS"

And Was Convicted of Embezzlement—He Claimed It Was Not Legally the City's Because Collected Virtually as Licenses.

A press dispatch from Kansas will be read with interest just now in Pendleton as bearing upon the local status:

Concordia, Kan.—A. E. Patterson, ex-city treasurer of Clyde, was found guilty in the district court of embezzling $5000 of the city's money. The money was collected from the Clyde "joints" as license payments and turned over to Patterson as treasurer. He contended that the city received the money illegally, and could not, therefore, hold him accountable for it.

Simpson's Horses.

Cris Simpson has just returned from Pendleton and brought down the rest of his brood mares and youngsters, there being 24 head in all, says the Rural Spirit. Among the brood mares we mention the following: Minnie M., dam of Trumont; Moonlight, by Tom V., by Sidney; Kitmont, by Vinmont; Lady Armstrong, by Beacher Knox; Nellie Knightshade, dam by Champion Knox and three mares by Mt. Vernon, dam by Bell-founder 62. There were several head of youngsters sired by Bonner N. B., they are at Park farm and make a total of about 40 horses owned there, besides the numerous boarders. Cris will break and drive all his youngsters and get them ready for market, which looks very encouraging.
