

EDNA COX TOOK TOWELS, SHEETS, PILLOW CASES.

But She Was Found With Them in Walla Walla, and the Articles Returned to Hotel St. George.

With property in their possession which was identified as belonging to a Pendleton restaurant, and with a slung shot made by wrapping a piece of iron in a towel, Edna Cox, a pretty brunette, and her companion, Ernest Joyce, appeared in police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. They were fined in the sum of $15 and went to jail.

The woman was arrested at the instigation of Alonzo Dame, who claimed she had obtained money from him under false pretenses. It is said Edna Cox met Dame in the street and requested that he change a dollar for her. He claims that he handed the woman two halves and that she ran away with the money. Dame did not appear in court.

Sunday afternoon Joyce came to the jail and asked that he be allowed to see the prisoner. The wish was granted and he was later arrested. The two admitted having lived together and upon searching their room the slung shot was found and also a number of silver spoons which the woman said she had taken from a restaurant in Pendleton.

Joyce claims to be a railroad man. Edna Cox is a former resident of Walla Walla and has been employed as a waitress at different times. Her mother created a sensation in this city last spring by taking a child from the Sharpstein school. The two are now said to be in Tacoma—Walla Walla Union.

Edna Cox, referred to in the above, is the daughter of James R. Cox, well-known here, who was government blacksmith on the Umatilla reservation for a number of years. She spent a week in Pendleton recently and part of the time was rooming at the Hotel St. George, where she registered under an assumed name. When she left, several articles, such as towels, sheets and pillow cases, disappeared, and these were found in her room in Walla Walla. They have been returned to the hotel.

Walla Walla, Jan. 15.—Another chapter in the romantic history of Charles Rich has just come to light, and the mystery which as followed the young man deepens. Rich came from Philadelphia last year and found work in Washington. Last harvest he wrote his parents in the Quaker City that he had been blown up in a thresher explosion near this city, using the name of Jack Andrews, purporting to be the man who had employed Rich. The parents sent $200 to pay expenses of embalming and forwarding the body to them, and the body came not. Where the money went to is a mystery which is now being solved.

The parents undertook to locate the trouble and advertised in the papers for their son, whom they supposed dead. He was discovered in the county jail here, going under the name of Jack Andrews. Now the funeral expenses are being traced.
