HE

A SERIOUS OPERATION. Eye Specialists in Portland Remove

Eyebail to Save the Other-Was Successful,

AN

EYE

The many friends of Andrew Anderson will learn with regret that he has been compelled to undergo an operation for the removal of the left eyeball.

This forenoon Miss Stella Anderson received word from her sister. Miss Carrie, who is attending Andrew at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland, that at 8 o'clock this morning Drs. Bruere and Dickson, eye specialists, performed the operation, and that he came out from under the influence of the anesthetic and was getting along as well as could possibly be expected under the circumstances.

The direct cause of the loss of the eye is laid to the last game of football that Mr. Anderson participated in, which was one New Year's be tween the Heppner and Pendleton teams, although this is not thought to e altogether to blame for the misfortune. For the past two or three years he has noticed something wrong with It, and he and his friends thought a cataract was coming. This gave him no trouble more than to impair the vision somewhat.

During the football game on New Years, he received a severe bruise above the eye from a kick, or other cause, and since that time his vision has gradually grown weaker, although he suffered no pain from it. even up to Monday, when he went to Portland to consult a specialist, and such a thing as the removal of the eye bad never been thought of by

Hemorrhage of the Retina.

After a thorough examination the ecialists found that a hemorrhage fthe retina behind the eyeball had been caused by the jar which had caused the eyesight to die and made it entirely useless. The operation was necessary to save the other eye and keep him from being rendered totally blind.

Mr. Anderson was one of the best football players in Pendleton and he was sought for to take part when any specially hard battle was to be fought on the gridiron. His sisters and brother had tried time and time again to get him to abandon playing 700-One Year Previously, there and he had firmly promised that the New Year game would be his last. This is a sad misfortune to him, and he and his relatives have the deepest sympathy of everyone that have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

INDIANS NEW CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Cornelison Says One Will Soon Be Built.

The Rev. J. C. Cornelison, pastor of Presbyterian Indian mission the church, on the reservation, stated to the East Oregonian that he expected soon, probably before fall, to occupy a new church building with his congregation, which at present has a church on Tutuilla, near the home that was erected last year. The cost is to be about $1500, of which the indiana already have given $200. The

Mr. Cornelison says the Indians are a strong organization out of the small beginning of a few years ago, when he took charge of the church.

Mr. Cornelison has, during the comparatively short time of his service, lcarned the Indian language, and speaks it now quite easily.

COURT RESUMES.

District Attorney Again Able to Attend the Session.

The wheels in the district court again resumed their revolving this morning, District Attorney Halley be-ing able to attend. The case of John Dand vs. Alex McLean came up for hearing and has been on the boards all day with little chance of it being finished before night. This is for judgment in the sum of $300 alleged to be due on two promissory notes given the plaintiff by defendant.

Moves New Trial. Motion for new trial has been filed by Bean & Lowell, attorneys for defendant, in the case of Utt vs. Carnes. Plaintiff asked the court to award him $5000 and the jury gave him judgment for $300.
