Ex-President Cleveland left Princeton for the south where he will remain several days hunting with E. C. Bennett, Rear-Admiral Evans, General Anson G. McCook and Herman May.

The heavy rains have raised the Schuylkill river to overflow its banks. At Manayunk many of the manufacturing establishments along the banks have suffered serious damage. The river crosses through Fairmount Park are under water.

The international sugar conference at Brussels is practically certain to end in a disagreement between the powers concerned therein, with the result that France and Great Britain will take active steps against the Austrian and German bounty system.

During the debate on the estimator of the chancellor's department in the Reichstag the imperial chancellor, Count von Bismarck, referred to the pleasant relations between Germany and the United States, and to the approaching visit of Prince Henry of Prussia.

The National Board of Trade passed a resolution urging the extension of the forest reserve system throughout the United States. It asserts that the prosperity of agriculture, lumbering, mining, transportation and commerce throughout the country is inseparably related to the present preservation of and conservative use of our forests.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS

General C. U. Gantenbein, of Oregon, has been elected fourth vice-president of the National Guard Association.

Thus far this winter sheep on the Hay Creek range have done unusually well. They have picked their own living altogether and are in fine condition.

Since his inauguration on January 8, Eugene E. Schmitz, the labor union mayor of San Francisco, has wielded his official ax with such vigor as to create consternation in the various departments of the municipal government.

Representative Jones filed with the president a petition of the Clark County Settlers' Protective Union, relating to their contest long pending in the United States courts against the Northern Pacific railroad, involving the title to homes of a large number of settlers in Clark county, Washington.

Despondent from reasons unknown to their families or friends, tired of living and determined to die, Nanna Ungerman, night telephone operator at McMinville, and her husband, Mrs. Ollie Grant, a divorced woman, drank arsenic in deadly quantities, in the telephone office, both succumbing to the effects of the poison.

The general irrigation bill that has been drawn up and presented by Western members of congress, and which is to be urged during the present session, does not meet with the approval of Representative Tongue, chairman of the irrigation committee. Mr. Tongue says this will not benefit his state for many years to come.

ATHENA FLOUR MILLS

SUED BY J. M. WALKER.

He Asks $3250 Alleged Due on Account of Wheat Stored.

J. M. Walker, of Athena, yesterday afternoon filed a suit against the Athena Flouring Mill Company, a corporation, for the sum of $3250, alleged to be due for wheat stored with the company that has not been paid for or returned.

The allegations are that of the crops of 1899, 1900 and 1901, plaintiff stored 4479 sacks of wheat in the warehouses of the defendants, and that all he has received in return is 290 sacks of wheat and a car of flour worth about $557. Plaintiff says that defendants have unlawfully used the wheat to their own advantage and refuses to return it when demanded.

In addition to the worth of the wheat, plaintiff alleges that he has been out the sum of $75 in hotel bills and railroad fare in going from his home in Athena to Tacoma, where defendants live, and the further sum of $250 attorneys' fees, amounting in all to $3250, and a lawful interest beside costs of suit. James A. Fee is attorney for plaintiff.
