WILL THERE BE ANY TROUBLE NEXT SUMMER?

Nye Citizen Says he Thinks Something Should be Done to Prevent Collision.

G. B. Taylor, of Nye, who was in Pendleton yesterday, said to the East Oregonian:

"Cannot something be done to prevent trouble between the sheep men and the cattlemen during the coming summer? Certainly this should be done if it is possible so to do. I have been told that the sheep men have entered into an agreement to resist the cattlemen with any necessary force next season, and that if it is needed all herders will go ready to do as they are done by. This is what I learn from the people who represent somewhat of the sheep interests of this county, although I cannot say how extensive such an agreement may be, or whether or not it is general among the sheepmen."

When sheep men and cattle men are talked with it is learned that last summer there were affairs of bloodshed that never came to the knowledge of the outside world. Several such affairs were reported extensively, yet it is probably true that many others were hushed up by the interested parties. This is not to say that there is any regime of universal bloodshed in the range country, during the summer, nor that the sheep men and cattlemen are inaugurating a system of warfare in which people will be shot in great numbers. It is merely to say that there have been instances of trouble between the conflicting interests; that it is difficult to determine just what are the right means employ to stop the trouble.

The reason is that there is no official manner of deciding who shall use certain grazing lands, and this causes many persons to feel aggrieved and to resist the encroachments of others, sometimes these others being owners of the same class of livestock as themselves. In other words, sheep men sometimes quarrel with sheepmen and cattle men with cattle men.

DR. CHRISTIE SAYS

THAT HE IS POSITIVE.

Affirms His Diagnosis Is Correct—Had Experience as English Inspector.

Dr. J. Christie, whose diagnosis of the disease now affecting hogs in this county, started the present discussion on the nature of the malady, reaffirms his first statement and says that he knows it is hog cholera, and that he has found cases in the worst stages of the disease. He states that his opinion is based upon careful examination, and that he had six years experience as an inspector of livestock for the British government, besides training in regular veterinary schools. He is willing to submit his case to any qualified authority, and has no objection to having the state bacteriologist, E. F. Pernot, of Corvallis, make a report upon the subject in controversy.

It appears that hog cholera has appeared in Western Oregon, a telegram from Corvallis saying that from a section of hog's lung received at the Agricultural College, the bacteriological department has determined that swine plague exists in a herd of hogs in Marion county. The sample came from a Salem veterinary, whose letter relates that on the farm from which it came 100 hogs have died. A guinea pig inoculated with germs from the specimen died in eight hours, exhibiting all symptoms of the disease. There is no known remedy for the malady, and the only available precaution is separation of the infected from the healthy animals. Carcasses of hogs that have died from the disease should be burned.

APPRECIATION FOR

EX-MAYOR VINCENT.

Councilmen and Citizens Present a Fine Souvenir as a Testimonial of His Efficient Services.

At the close of the council meeting on Wednesday evening, Acting Mayor Clifton rose and in a few well-chosen remarks, presented ex-Mayor Vincent with a beautiful three-quarter carat diamond ring, which had been purchased by voluntary subscriptions from the citizens of Pendleton to show their appreciation of his three-years' reign as mayor and the work he had accomplished in the interests of the city. This was a genuine surprise to the doctor, as he had been asked to attend the meeting to consult with the council in regard to the special tax they were figuring on levying. He thanked the council and citizens for their token of appreciation of his efforts and said he valued this gift, not only for its money value, but because it told him the feelings of the people toward his administration.

SEVEN MILL TAX

COUNCIL LEVIES AT

THAT RATE FOR 1902.

Also a Poll Tax of $2 on All Men Not Exempt Under the Laws.

The city council met last night at the council chambers in regular session, with Councilman Clifton in the chair in the absence of Mayor Halley.
All the councilmen were present except C. A. Frazier.

An ordinance was read for the first time, rules suspended and passed to go into effect as soon as it receives the signature of the mayor, providing that a special tax of 7 mills be levied on all taxable property in the city of Pendleton for the purpose of paying interest on all bonds, other than water bonds, for the year 1901, and paying the proper amount into the sinking fund.

It provides further that a special tax of 1 mill be levied on all 1901 levies, and also the sum of $2 be collected from every male person in the city between 20 and 50 years of age, barring those exempt under laws of the state of Oregon, to be used for the improvement, building and maintaining of streets in the corporate limits.

F. X. Schemp's saloon license was renewed for another six months.

W. H. McCormick presented a petition which was granted, asking that he be allowed to erect and maintain two telephone poles on Washington street.

The following bills as rent and city officials' salaries were allowed: J. E.
Beam, $40; J. M. Heathman, $75; J.
W. Scheer, $65; William Coffman, $65; P. H. Fee, $60; C. H. Carter, $25; H. J. Stillman, $10; W. R. Withee, $10; Pendleton Savings Bank, $20; Mrs. Carnine, $10; George Darveau, $8; total, $388.

JUDGE LOWELL SPOKE

AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Eugene Students Listened to Address on "Law and Lawyers," on Tuesday.

Judge S. A. Lowell, of Pendleton, spoke to the students at the University of Oregon on Tuesday evening, in Eugene, on the subject of "Law and Lawyers," his remarks being heard with deep interest by the student body and others who assembled in the college chapel. One excerpt is here given from his address:

"There are today, roughly speaking, four classes of lawyers—first, the corporation attorney, who draws an assured salary or retainer, of ample magnitude; second, the lawyer of the old school, who maintains the ideals of his profession, and who is being slowly crushed between centralization of commercial interests on the one hand, and the sharp practice of his competitors on the other; third, those men nominally lawyers who supplement their meager professional income by collections, loan and insurance business; fourth, the 'rustler,' who seeks business by the same methods as the traveling salesman secures his orders, and who either never knew or has forgotten that the duty of an upright counselor is to prevent, not to foster, litigation."

The Sword Discarded.

In the British army the sword has been discarded, so far as its usefulness is concerned in modern warfare. A half century ago it was considered the best weapon, but the rifle has now taken its place. At the present time thousands of people are discarding their old methods of trying to cure stomach and bowel complaints, and are using the old reliable Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.
It has never been known to fail in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, liver and kidney troubles, or malaria, fever and ague, and a trial is therefore recommended. It has been before the public for fifty years, and by its record of cures during that time has firmly established its superiority over all other remedies. Try a bottle and satisfy yourself.
