PANAMA CANAL DEBATERS WON AT HIGH SCHOOL.

"Reading" Won Over "Observation" at the Pendleton Academy.

Friday evening the first of an arranged series of literary entertainments was held in the assembly hall of the public school. The entertainment started out with a selection from the male quartet, composed of the following young gentlemen: Byron Hawkes, William McCarty, Sam Neil, Fred Hartman, C. Williams, Roy Conklin and E. B. Conklin. Then came the debate, which was between three young ladies and the same number of young men and the subject was: "Resolved, that the United States purchase the Panama canal, build, operate and control it." The young ladies had the affirmative, and the young men the negative of the question, and the affirmative side won the honors by one point. The speakers were Misses Bertha Alexander, Nellie Jay, Mary Rothrock; Messrs. Robert Cronin, Elmer Baker, Henry Taylor, and they were all pronounced excellent by the audience.

Mrs. Sheridan, Miss Mary Ritner and James E. Krause were the judges who passed on the merits of the speakers and their decision, with each point, is as follows:

Points.	Points.
Nicaraguan canal debaters..... 113	Panama canal debaters..... 96
Delivery, Panama..... 30	Delivery, Nicaragua..... 19
Hesitation, Nicaragua..... 31	Hesitation, Panama..... 25
Preparation, Panama..... 40	Facts, Nicaragua..... 14
Facts, Panama..... 14	Cambative, each..... 2
Panama, total..... 188	Nicaraguan, total..... 187

Following the decision of the judges Roy Conklin rendered a solo. Miss Gertrude Sheridan recited and the male quartet brought down the house by singing the "Giggley Girl." In answer to an encore they repeated: "A rosewood coffin; vain regrets; all in mourning; cigarettes," which further threw the audience into hearty laughter. An instrumental trio was then rendered on the piano by the Misses Beattie Krebs, Ethel Kimball and Hazel Arnold, and Thomas Bond read a paper which had several good hits in it and caused broad smiles to adorn the countenances of all except those upon whom they were made. The paper was edited by Mr. Bond, assisted by Miss Nellie Kimball and Roy Alexander.

At the Academy.

On Friday afternoon, the members of the Beta Epsilon Society of the Pendleton Academy, held a debate, in which the affirmative won upon this question: "Resolved, that the mind gains more from reading than from observation." The affirmative was supported by Misses Myrtle Hawkes, Ethel Parsons, Mabel McDill and Mr. Earl Yates. The negative was taken by Misses Ruby Whittemore, Lucy Campbell, Thessa Porter and Mr. Douglas Johnson. The debate was the most interesting yet held by the academy, all the participants taking hold of the contention and presenting strong arguments. The society sang once or twice together, and Mr. Dowrie, of the faculty, gave a brief, but helpful talk on "The Academy Spirit." The society has only recently been revived, and the members expect to receive large benefits from its meetings during the remainder of the year. Ernest Ruppe, vice-president, was in the chair on this occasion. Miss Whittemore, one of the debaters, is the president.

CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES ON TUESDAY NEXT.

Business of January Term Will Be Completed—First National Bank Case on the Docket.

The adjourned January term of the district court will convene again the 11th inst., Tuesday, when the unfinished business of the regular term will be taken up and disposed of. The January term was adjourned on account of the illness of District Attorney Hailey and set for this date, when he will be able to be present.

A great many civil and unimportant cases are to come up at this term, but there are only three criminal cases. Charlie Moy, the Chinaman, charged with burglary; Fred Parr, larceny; and Ben Driscoll, who was acquitted by the jury on the charge of taking a grip out of a car, but who was again arrested on the same charge and additional charges preferred against him, will all come up from the criminal docket.

The equity docket is quite heavy, although the most of the cases are trivial. The cases brought against Sheriff Blakley as sheriff of Umatilla county in doing his duty in levying on stock of the First National Bank of Pendleton, brought by the stockholders, will be aired at this term. This was caused by a dispute and refusal on the part of the stockholders to pay certain delinquent taxes against the stock, and Sheriff Blakley was ordered by the court to levy on the stocks, which he did, and the injunction suits were the result. These stockholders are: Levi Ankeny, Allen Reynolds, W. F. Matlock, J. S. McLeod, Abraham Schwabacher, Bell Schwabacher, H. T. Johnson, and Henry Reynolds. These and the injunction case against the city which arose out of the marshal squabble are the most important, although there are pending a dozen or more divorce cases.

Judge Ellis returned Friday evening from Heppner, where he had been to hear the argument for a change of venue in a damage suit pending between McCollough vs. Hughes and Sheridan.

THE SANTA FE ORDERS PORTERS TO TAKE NO TIPS.

Men Are Furious Over the Rule and Public Is Pleased.

People traveling upon the railroads will hope that the recent order of the Santa Fe road, that sleeping-car porters cannot accept tips, will in some manner be enforced and be extended to other roads. That company has promulgated a rule that all porters must refuse tips from passengers, and it is claimed that the patrons of the company will be given just as good treatment as though they paid the porters the usual small fee that all travelers know is necessary in order to receive the care and attention one likes when on the road. The men are furious at the order, and assert that they will be underpaid, as they depended upon tips for the major part of their revenues, and that the company will not pay them enough to make up for the loss. It is hoped, however, that the rule will be extended to other roads.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT ATHENA.

Ask Prosecuting Attorney to Suppress Sunday Baseball.

The County Sunday School Association at Athena has completed its annual convention. Two measures adopted are of special interest. One asks Prosecuting Attorney Hailey to suppress Sunday baseball, and the other asks the O. R. & N. Company to stop giving Sunday excursions. The request to Mr. Hailey is: "Athena, Feb. 7.—Hon. T. G. Hailey, Pendleton, Or.—Dear Sir:—The Sunday School workers of this county in convention assembled, ask you to use all possible effort in your position as prosecuting attorney and mayor of Pendleton, to suppress Sunday baseball games and all Sunday amusements, as being in opposition to the upbuilding of an upright, law abiding, conscientious citizenship." It was unanimously adopted.
