WHAT NEW YORK CHEFS EAT.

Proper Grevillot, who has been connected with the Delmonico establish- ment 25 years, is a small eater and be- lieves in the plainest of food.

The dinner of Jean Roth, chef at the Hotel Netherland, on the day he was seen, was of boiled beef and spinach, with no other vegetables or dessert.

Gustave Mouvel, the chef at the Fifth Avenue hotel, was seen while he was at dinner. His meal consisted of a small piece of fresh mackerel, pound cake and claret.

Angelo Lamanna, chef at the Long Beach hotel, never eats meat and sel- dom fish, his sole food being cereals with milk. He weighs over 200 pounds and is the picture of health.

Pasquale Grand, chef at Sherry's, is one of the youngest cooks in New York. He eats but two meals a day, very light, and consisting principally of soup. He is not a lover of meat and drinks no wine.

P. Eeny, chef at the Waldorf, who has been in this country 30 years, subsists mainly on onion soup and beef tea. Chef Eeny is about 50 years old, short and stout and well nourished. Chef Eeny is astonished at the quantity of food, especially of sweet food, eaten by American women.

"I can't remember when I last dined. Certainly I have not eaten what you Americans call a square meal since I came to this country many years ago." Saying this with a laugh and the shrug of the shoulders so characteristic of the Frenchman, Zanophon Kuzmier, chef of the Hotel Savoy, sat back in his easy chair in his little office and talked gastronomy. Chef Kuzmier's state- ment is especially remarkable when his healthy, robust appearance is con- sidered. "We absorb the food fumes," he observed. "When one takes and re- tains in his system through the pores roast beef, mutton and all other health and strength giving foods he does not require them in his stomach."

Egg Outlets.

Boil half a dozen eggs for at least 20 minutes; shell and cut them into lengthwise slices; when perfectly cold dip each slice into beaten egg sea- soned with salt and pepper; then cover completely with bread crumbs in which has been mixed a little minced parsley. Fry these cutlets in hot fat sufficiently to float them; arrange on a hot dish with slices of grilled or panned toma- toes, and serve with bechamel sauce.—Washington Star.

DIAMONDS IN BACKYARDS.

Are Not Common in This Country But One Was Thus Found in Alabama.

Geologists have just about made up their minds that diamonds will never be found in this country in any con- siderable quantities. Every now and then a gem of this kind turns up in an accidental sort of way in one place or another, and suggestions of diamond fields offer themselves to imaginative people. Why, it is urged, should not the United States, so rich in almost everything else, possess this kind of mineral wealth, hidden away in some unsuspected locality?

Such a thing is possible, but unlike- ly, says the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post. Geologically, nearly the whole of this country has been pretty well explored, and there does not seem to be any prospect that it will ever rival South Africa as a producer of diamonds. A few dollars' worth of these gems per annum appears to be about all we can reasonably expect as an output.

The only diamond of considerable size that we produced last year weighed four and a half carats, and was found about 30 miles south of Birmingham, Ala., under rather odd circumstances. It turned up in a back- yard garden, where some earth had been put to fill up a few holes. Pre- sumably the gem was contained orig- inally in this earth, a portion of which was placed close to the house, where water dripped upon it from the over- hanging roof.

By and by a little girl came out of the house into the garden. It had been raining hard, and she noticed, near the steps, a particularly bright peb- ble, which had been washed clean by the rain. Securing it, she took it to her mother, and later it was identified as a real diamond of remarkably pure water. Experts stated that it would yield a cut stone of one carat and a half, or possibly more.

There is a popular notion to the effect that rough diamonds are not bright, but this is a mistake. Even in that condition they are very bright, with a peculiar "adamantine luster," as it is called, which no other sub- stance possesses. However, the crude diamond crystal is not transparent; one cannot see through it.

The Jubilee diamond (now the prop- erty of a syndicate), which is the larg- est and finest in the world, is so per- fectly cut that, when placed on the small truncated apex of its pyramid, it stands perfectly balanced, though measuring one inch and five-eighths in length, one inch and three-eighths in breadth, and one inch in depth. It was cut from the largest part of an irreg- ular crystal of unusual size which was found, in 1893, at Jagersfontein, in South Africa. A black spot near the middle of the stone was the reason for cutting it in two.

AMONG THE STATES.

There is no state election in Ken- tucky this year.

It may surprise some to hear that Florida stands tenth as a fish-pro- ducing state. It has a coast line (in- cluding islands) of 3,500 miles.

Virginia has more educated negroes than any other state in the south in which disfranchisement for race rea- sons has been adopted or proposed.

The business of the South Carolina dispensary for March, April and May this year exceeded by $24,000 that of the corresponding period last year.

In 1888 the first law adopting the Australian system of voting was passed in Kentucky, and by 1898 the Australian system had come into force by legislative action in every state of the country, except North Carolina and South Carolina.

Ohio chooses its governors for terms of two years in the year preceding and in the year following each presiden- tial contest. A candidate for governor of Ohio runs, therefore, in odd years. He has no veto power, and therefore very little actual control over legisla- tion at Columbus.

Dover, the capital of Delaware, can- not be correctly described as a thriv- ing town in respect to its growth in population, which is less than that of Duck Creek Hundred in the same coun- ty, and also less than that of Little Creek Hundred, in Sussex county. Dover had by the last census a popu- lation of 3,329. The population of Wil- mington was 76,508.

New Jersey amply compensates her state officers. The governor receives a salary of $10,000 a year, the secre- tary of state $6,000 and fees which make the office a very lucrative one, the attorney general $7,000 and the state treasurer and comptroller $6,000 each. Maryland, on the other hand, though a very prosperous state, pays its governor only $4,500, secretary of state $2,000, attorney general $3,000 and treasurer and comptroller $2,500 each.
