CLASSIFIED ADS.

An interesting Page in the Daily East Oregonian.

The East Oregonian solicits classified ads, little ads stating the wants of the people. The expense of these ads is small, from 15 cents up. Through them much information can be conveyed. You can tell your neighbor what you have to trade for something for which you have a need, but you cannot tell from 1000 to 5000 people this fact. These ads will do that for you. With the aid of them you can get value for your surplus things; you can supply your wants; sell articles that you can not sell in any other way, and all for a small sum of money, from 15 cents for one insertion to $1 for 10 or more.

You may want to hire a man or woman. A want ad will hit the spot. You may want employment. Try an ad for 15 cents to 50 cents.

You may want to buy something. Try a want ad.

You may wish to sell something. A "For Sale" ad will fill the bill.

You may want to trade a wheelbarrow for a grindstone. The wheelbarrow you have no need for; the grindstone the other fellow has no need for. The little ad expressing your wishes will do the business at a small expense. Why not try it?

Have you a house to rent? A room to rent? Do you want to rent a house or a room? A want ad will be effective. The cost is little, the result satisfactory. Try one.

There is no more effective way of advertising, and the price is within the reach of all.

Look over the "classified ad" columns and use them when you want to sell or buy something; when you want to make a trade; when you want to give employment; when you want employment; when you want to lead or borrow money; when you want to let or rent a house or room.

WOODMEN MEET.

Took in Several Applications for Membership.

Pendleton Camp, Woodmen of the World, held a most enthusiastic session last night. The hall was crowded with neighbors, who viewed with delight the evolutions of the new degree team under command of Captain A. O. Carden. New uniforms for public fancy military drill were ordered, and the team anticipates being in trim to enter into active competition with the crack Portland, Seattle and Tacoma teams, which will be in Pendleton at the log-rolling. Ten applications were passed on in a burst of enthusiasm the neighbors pledging 25 new applications for next Tuesday night.

The Capitol Dome.

The dome of the capitol at Washington is the only considerable one of iron in the world. It is a vast hollow sphere weighing 8,000,300 pounds—more than 4000 tons, or almost the weight of 70,000 full grown persons. A rough equal to about 1000 loaded coal cars of four tons each, which, if strung out one behind the other, would occupy a mile and a half of track. On the very top of the dome the allegorical figure "America," weighing 13,985 pounds, lifts its proud head high in the air. The pressure of this dome and figure upon the piers and pillars is 14,477 pounds to the square foot. It would, however, require a pressure of 755,268 pounds to the square foot to crush the supports of the dome. The cost of this immense dome was little short of $1,000,000.

The number of dogs in the United States is estimated at from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000.

WAS NOT LYNCHED

Story That He Was Strung Up Proves to Be Fingert of Imagination—Hint of a Plan That Was Formed.

Tim Townsend was not lynched last night as he was being conveyed to Grant county, to answer the charge of horse-stealing in the Monument region. The report was circulated here this morning that, as Townsend was going south, in the custody of Constable Hunsucker, of Monument, he was met in the mountains near Ukiah by a company of people living there and hanged to one of the tall pines that grow on those hills. The East Oregonian made inquiry, and found no basis for the story. Townsend left Ukiah yesterday in safe care of the constable, and no one in Camas Prairie has heard of the reported hanging, excepting as the inquiry went to that station over the telephone from the East Oregonian office.

During the prosecution of the inquiries by this paper, several statements were made that caused it to be an impossible theory that a plan was talked for Townsend's lynching. For instance, one man asserted positively, and with no doubt apparent truth, that "Townsend would steal no more horses," the man being firmly convinced that Townsend was guilty of the charge now lodged against him. Another said that Townsend never would reach Monument, but, when questioned as to why he thought so, he replied:

"Well, people out there are tired of losing horses, and they may do something."

"What is the something they may do?"

"See here, young man, what makes you question me so closely?"

"I am merely securing confirmation or denial of the story of Tim Townsend's lynching for the newspapers."

"Je-ru-salam, I'm mum from this on, and say, some and have a cigar with me."

News being more important than free tobacco, the news man followed the trail of the untrue story that had caused so great sensation here in Pendleton, and learned that early this morning, before such reports otherwise would have circulated generally in the community, it was being discussed by numbers of people, who might have heard it so soon because someone expected the lynching to take place, and therefore knew, or thought they knew of it at that early hour today.

Officers Had Word.

It was learned that the officers here received "tips" that Constable Hunsucker would better not attempt to take his man through the country he must traverse if he went south from Pendleton via Ukiah and that portion of Grant county beginning just beyond Dale. Hunsucker, however, thought he did not care to go around by the way of Heppner, and plunged directly into the zone of danger, real or presumed, arriving in Pilot Rock. From there, so goes the report, messages flew by telephone to the interior, reaching men who had taken vows upon stacks of Bibles that they would try and convict Townsend according to the code of Judge Lynch. The story furthermore related that the men of Grant county gathered, armed, stopped Hunsucker, took Townsend from him, encircled his neck with a rope, and swung him off into the air.

That there were whisperings of lynching is true. It was talked last evening with significant shakes of the head, and many in Pendleton expected that this morning confirmation of the report would come over the wire.

EXCURSION TO PARK OF THE YELLOWSTONE.

S. B. Calderhead Arranging One so That Expense Will Be Moderate, —July to Be Date.

S. B. Calderhead, general freight and passenger agent of the W. & C. R. Railroad Company, stated to the East Oregonian yesterday that he is arranging for a pleasant excursion to Yellowstone National Park, for the first week in July, with a rate that will place the journey within the reach of people of moderate means. He will offer to the numerous Pendletonians who for years have desired to go to the Yellowstone, the advantage of a personally conducted excursion planned and looked after by one who knows the park familiarly. The excursion ticket sold here will carry the tourist from Pendleton to the park, pay hotel bills, stage fare and return to Pendleton, the time to be five and one-half days. The monstrous hotels are distributed so as to bring one at the end of each day's ride on the fine old thoroughbred stages, which are fitted with observation curtains ready to be lowered when storms come up.

There is a theological consideration in the Yellowstone trip, according to a Spokane clergyman, who, in a recent address, said: "I would not want to go to heaven had I not seen the Yellowstone National Park." So that, according to the Spokane pastor's creed, this excursion will be an essential part of everyone's journey in this vale of tears, and in a measure prepare one for entrance into Paradise.

Whether this combination of clerical and railroad thought be part of a preconceived plan, it may be assured that any one taking advantage of Mr. Calderhead's offer will not regret it.

GAINING MANY FRIENDS PATIENTS AND SURGEONS.

New Walla Walla Hospital Grows in Favor and is a Public Benefactor.

J. W. Mullinix, secretary of the New Walla Walla Hospital corporation, and in charge of all the practical affairs of the institution, was in town over night, and returned home this morning. He was at the Golden Rule hotel. Mr. Mullinix stated to the East Oregonian that he is pleased with the progress made by the hospital, which, for the greater part of the time, is filled with patients. The hospital, while being second to none in the care of patients needing medical attention, also has a surgery that is the pride of all who are connected with the institution. It contains everything needed, indeed, there being scarcely anything known to surgical science that has not been provided for the surgery of this hospital. Success in the performance of delicate operations by famed surgeons, and the perfect care given afterwards, is due to the perfection of the methods employed in the surgery and to the complete furnishment provided by the management.

WEALTH IN ALFALFA.

Colorado Gets More From it Than From Silver.

Great as is the wealth of the state of Colorado in silver, she has a far more valuable product in the royal purple alfalfa that supplies fodder for the innumerable herds that roam the plains and feed in the valleys. Last year the value of the alfalfa crop was placed at $10,000,000, yet that does not represent its contributory worth.

In 1862 the introduction of this grass into the state solved the question of forage, which up to that time had puzzled the pioneers, who had not been able to raise successfully any other form of forage. Alfalfa made possible the great stock growing industry of the state. Last year the aggregate number of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs, according to assessors returns, was 4,000,000, valued at $45,000,000. Excepting the range sheep and cattle and some horses in the cities, alfalfa formed the greater part of the feed of all the animals. Thus dairying, a new but rapidly developing industry, depends on the alfalfa.

The Hamburg-American line now has ninety-eight steamers.

PNEUMONIA PREVENTS WASHINGTON TRIP.

No Shirt Has Lung Disease, Therefore Long Hair Awaits Before Going to National Capital.

No Shirt, chief of the Walla Wallas, and Long Hair, a big man on the reserve, were to have gone this morning on their trip to Washington, where they propose to place their complaints before the Indian commissioner. But, No Shirt had pneumonia this morning, and could not make the journey, hence Long Hair defers his departure. They were to have been accompanied by an interpreter.

When asked what he wanted in Washington, Long Hair seemed to be much in the dark, even through the medium of an interpreter. He intimated that he desired to have some of the money paid to the government for the Indians' lands here, and yet appeared unable clearly to express what were his desires. It is not known when No Shirt will be able to go.

Paul Showaway expects soon to go with a delegation from the Flathead agency in Montana.
