THEY LET HIM GO

ARRESTED THE WRONG
MAN IN JOHN DAY.

J. W. Quinn Was Thought to Be a Cattle Rustler—Was Released.

Deputy Sheriff Till Taylor returned yesterday evening from a tour into the John Day country, where he arrested J. W. Quinn, who was thought to be one of the men wanted in Kalispell, Mont., for cattle rustling, but after the arrest he proved to be the wrong man and was released.

For some time the officers of Montana have been trying to locate four men who, it is alleged, stole almost a whole band of cattle from the range near Kalispell last fall, and a fruitless search has been carried on ever since. Last Monday Deputy Sheriff Herrman came to Pendleton and got track of what he was sure was one of the men wanted and the trip to John Day and the arrest of Quinn was the result. The circumstances that lead up to the arrest of Quinn are as follows:

A few weeks ago Quinn whose home is in Wardner, came to Pendleton from Spokane on his way to the middle fork of the John Day, where he has relatives and friends. When he arrived in Pendleton, the stage for Ukiah was loaded for that trip and he was told he would have to wait until the next trip. This he was reluctant to do, and paid one of the men who had bought passage on the stage, for his seat, showing considerable anxiety to get away. This circumstance and the fact that Quinn partly answered the description of one of the men wanted, caused the officers to think that they had the right man, so Taylor was sent to make the arrest. He brought Quinn back to Ukiah and, after consulting with the Montana officer, Taylor was convinced that he had the wrong man, so let Quinn go his way.

One of the men has been arrested in Spokane and the rest are still at large. The stolen cattle were sold to a Kalispell butcher.

James Jones accompanied Deputy Taylor on his trip into the interior.
They went horseback and say the roads are very bad, although there is little snow with the exceptions of on the high hills. Stock has gone the winter in better shape than for years and the stock men all feel cheerful over conditions.

OPINIONS ON WHEAT.

Several Farmers Give Their Views on the Situation.

The amount of damage that has been done to the growing wheat is still a topic of paramount interest to the farmers who have extensive interests involved. The general opinion is that the freezing weather did the most damage to the crops growing on the west and north slopes. This fact was emphasized by talks with W. H.
Reeder, of Athena; William Scott of Helix, and Matt Deining, of Havana Station, on the O. R. & N. railroad.
Mr. Reeder has not yet sold the nearly 70,000,000 bushels of wheat which he has raised during the past three years, and expresses the belief that wheat locally would advance in price before another crop had been harvested. He has some wheat in this winter, 1902 acres all told, including what he has in on the shares, much of his land being rented. He was in a good humor over the fact that he will not have to resow any of it, unless some further damage should be done.

William Scott has 320 acres in wheat at his home one mile from Helix, and reports that he will have to resow only about 10 acres, according to his best judgment at the present time, based on the damage that has apparently been done. John Caplinger, a brother-in-law of Mr. Scott, whose farms adjoin, reports that his wheat has been greatly damaged and that he will have to resow a great portion of it.

Matt Deining, resides three miles north of Havana Station, and has 240 acres of winter wheat. He has examined it carefully and says it has not been damaged to any great extent.
This but verifies the most of the reports, which are to the effect that there has been scarcely any damage done to the wheat fields on the reservation.

WASHINGTON AND
LINCOLN HONORED.

High School Have an Afternoon With the Great Men.

The students of the high school held appropriate exercises Friday afternoon in Assembly Hall in honor of Washington and Lincoln. The exercises were opened by roll-call of all the students and each responded with quotations from Washington or Lincoln.
"Resolved, that Washington did more for his country than did Lincoln," Maud Sheridan and Clarence Allen were for the affirmative and Wm Wyck and Edie Smith for the negative. The points made were 6 to 4 in favor of the affirmative. After the debate there was music, readings and recitations. A "Gettysburg" speech was delivered by Iler Nell, Washington's farewell address was read by Dell Mc-Carty, Lincoln's favorite poem was read by Iva Younger, and Mary Williams gave a reading.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK CITY

(Concluded.)

the first outburst of flames, all making a mad rush to escape. Some jumped from high windows and were either killed or maimed. Others were suffocated.

The firemen worked like heroes in the face of a terrible storm of rain and sleet, and, after two hours, the fire in the hotel apparently was subdued.

At 5 o'clock, however, it broke out afresh and a second panic ensued, the guests having returned to the hotel.
The scenes following the first fire were re-enacted, but all escaped to the streets, only a few being injured.

Proprietor Reid, of the hotel, says the fire was of incendiary origin, but the firemen deny this and say the sparks from the armory blaze started it.

Some Awful Scenes.

The only warning the guests had was the crackling of flames, the spreading of smoke, and the breaking of glass. They rushed through the halls like madmen and women. One man threw a string of bedclothing from a window and started to slide down, but at the fourth floor he lost his hold and fell to the ground. He died instantly.

Many heroic rescues were made by the firemen. One young man was taken from the fifth story, burned and bruised. So soon as he reached the ground he fought off the firemen and rushed back, crying: "Mother is in the hotel." His mother had been rescued and the man again was carried into the street.

Terrible danger threatened the firemen as they worked. In the cellar of the armory across the street there was stored 600 pounds of dynamite.
The explosive may let go at any time.

It was not until 6 o'clock that the search for the dead could begin. It was not long before the firemen came tramping down with their ghastly burdens. Twelve burned bodies were found, all burned beyond recognition and only identified by articles found on them.

Colonel Alexander Piper had had a long and honorable career in the army.
He was retired in 1891.

Colonel Charles Burdett commanded the forces of the Connecticut volunteer infantry in the war with Spain.
He was once mayor of Hartford. He is the man who went down on a rope made of bed clothes and fell from the fourth floor.

Wisconsin Philosophy.

When ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise, but still most women want to know the cost mark on their neighbor's bonnet.

Wealth is said to never bring contentment, but if poverty has any special corner on the same claim, it has not been developed to any great extent.

It is said that all things come to him who waits, but the things that generally reach the spot come to him who hustles for them. Don't try the waiting theory on if you want good seats at an opera house. "Uncle Sillas" in the American Threshman.

$112,500 for a Prescription.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco August 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable disease.

They commenced the careful investigation of the specific November 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to August 27, eighty seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address JOHN J. FRYSON CO-PANY, 420 Montgomery St. San Francisco, Cal.
