DAMAGE TO GRAIN

LOSSES IN ALL SECTIONS ARE HEAVY.

Weston Section Fortunate—Walla Walla Valley Hard Hit—The Eureka Flat Country a Great Sufferer—Reseeding Going on.

L. C. Preston visited his farm in the Cold Springs country last week, and found that reports as to the grain damage had not been exaggerated. A dry fall and winter freeze have done the work, and Mr. Preston estimates that 100,000 acres will have to be re-sown. Taking the extra expense and the loss of yield together, this means a damage of half a million dollars, at $5 per acre.

The grain looks well enough in places and the casual observer would consider it all right, but upon digging up the root it is found that the seed is puffed up in appearance and full of water. In a few weeks the grain that now looks green would wither and die, and reseeded is absolutely necessary to insure a crop. Mr. Preston has only 160 acres in crop this year at his place; it will all be re-sown. One extensive farmer, John Dand, was discouraged by the dry fall and only seeded half his summer fallow, leaving the rest until spring. He is about the only fortunate man in the Cold Springs country.

The Weston country, as usual, is fortunate this year. So far as can be learned by the Leader there has been no damage whatever in this neighborhood.

FRUIT AND WHEAT.
R. M. O'Brien Makes a Statement Concerning the Effects of the Cold Weather.

Much has been said recently about the fruit outlook for the coming season and varied and many are the opinions on the subject. In some localities the January cold snap is said to have killed the buds of all the tender fruit, while in other places it seems that nothing has been materially injured. Not only will the crop for the coming season be short, but in some localities the effect of the cold will be felt for several years as most of the peach trees and many of the cherry trees are killed outright.

The following is what Mr. O'Brien, one of the conservative farmers and horticulturists of the country has to say about the conditions in the Weston country:

"The peach trees around Weston, and especially in the direction of the mountains, are almost all killed by the cold and a great many of the cherry trees are killed and injured. Consequently the peach crop will be a total failure, cherries will be very short and pears are killed in many places, although the pear trees are not injured. Apples do not seem to have been effected by the cold and there is every indication of a good apple crop."

LOSSES FROM COLD WEATHER.
More Wheat Frozen Out in the Walla Walla Valley than Estimated.

Walla Walla, Feb. 27.—Varied reports of the damage done to grain by the severe cold still come to this city.

SECOND HAND DEALERS.

V. STORBY, DEALER IN SECOND HAND goods. If there is anything you need in new or second hand furniture, stoves, granite ware and crockery, call and see his prices. No. 212 Court St.

MISCELLANEOUS.
IN FOUND—THE HEREINAFTER DESCRIBED stock has been taken up by the city marshal and will be sold at the expiration of ten days for costs and expenses. One blackskin horse, black legs, name and fall, blotch brand on right shoulder, four years old, weight about 800 pounds. Dated February 15, 1902. J. M. HEATHMAN, City Marshal.

and farmers differ materially in their opinions relative to the loss that will accrue. In some places the damage will be heavy, while in others slight loss will follow. It is conceded that at this time no definite estimate can be made, and it will be several days before it will be possible to pass out information of a reliable nature.

It is true that a portion of the fall sown grain will be winter killed, but what percentage is now the question. Much of the seed was sown on dry earth, and the grain sprouted slowly. Hardly had the tender sprouts gotten through the top of the ground when the severe cold set in and continued for several days. No snow was on the ground, and the grain suffered severely.

Reseeding 1300 Acres.
M. M. Wyrick is at home in Pendleton today, having just returned from his farms in the Stage Gulch country, 20 miles northwest of this city. When asked how much wheat land he would have to reseed he replied, "1300 acres." "How much winter wheat have you this year?" was the next question, and again came the answer, "1300 acres." In other words, all of his wheat was frozen out and every acre will have to be reseeded. He has already finished putting in 450 acres of it and is completing the work at the rate of 90 to 100 acres per day, four seeders being run early and late.

Mr. Wyrick was pleased to state that the ground was in the best possible condition for reseeded and with a continuance of favorable weather conditions, his damage may be kept down to a low figure.

Abie Mohlstrom, who resides five miles northwest of Pendleton, was in town today and reports that the 350 acres of winter wheat, which he and his relatives had sown, has all been reseeded.

Walla Walla, Feb. 28.—Farmers have just about reached a safe estimate of the damage done to grain by the severe cold of last month, and reseeded is in progress in many sections of Walla Walla county. In some parts of the valley the damage has been nearly total. In other parts but a small percentage of grain has been frozen out.

W. H. Babcock, of Eureka, the "wheat king" of this section, reports the loss of several thousand acres of grain, and has drawn 19,000 bushels of grain from his warehouses to use in reseeded. He has a large force of men and teams at work, and says the loss in his case alone will run into the thousands of dollars, with the very best crop of spring grain possible. On the flat, Mr. Babcock reports an entire loss in most fields, and dozens of farmers are reseeded as fast as possible.

Perhaps the part of Walla Walla county which has suffered most is that lying near Prescott, where the soil is light and last fall it was unusually dry and seeding was carried on late. In this vicinity the damage is something terrible. Scarcely a field of all the thousands of acres has escaped, and but few farmers will attempt to get a crop in any other way than reseeded entirely.

In the vicinity of Waltsburg and the adjacent foothills the damage is light and will not be noticed to any extent. But few fields are reported as injured at all, and those only in spots of no considerable size.

The damage is difficult to estimate at this time. With a favorable season the spring grain may do unusually well and yield a good crop. Usually it falls short of the fall grain yield and harvesting of it comes later. But with the most favorable conditions, it is estimated that perhaps a quarter of a million dollars was lost to the farmers of Walla Walla county alone by the severe cold of January.
