MARSHAL RECORDER

JUDGE ELLIS DISSOLVES THE INJUNCTION.

This Strengthens the Cause of the Mayor and the Four Councilmen Who Support Him.

The fight over the marshal and recorderships waxed warmer every day and the feeling among the people grows more intense.

What will be the outcome is what every citizen who has the interests of the city at heart would like to know, but seemingly the end is no nearer than it was several weeks ago. Citizens are getting very tired of the fight and would like to see it settled and the official business of the town again running without a jar.

Friday afternoon Judge Ellis dissolved the injunction which was brought by Heathman and Beam to keep Blakley and McCourt from attempting to serve in the offices of marshal and recorder, in accordance with the wish of four of the councilmen and Mayor Halley, who put themselves on record last Wednesday night that the old officers should step down and out and let the new men take their places, and the attorneys for Heathman and Beam were given the statutory time of 24 hours to file their answer to this ruling of the court.

Heathman Willing to Quit.

It was the intention of Heathman and Beam this morning to give up the fight and Mr. Heathman told Joe Blakley, the new marshal, that he was sick and tired of the whole affair and would deliver over his star and other property belonging to the office this evening. Since that time, however, Heathman has changed his mind and now he says that he will "fight the thing to the end." This change of heart was made after consulting with his legal advisers and those who are backing him. Had they told him that the best thing to do was to drop the fight, that is holding up the whole town just because of the personal feelings of two or three men on a side, who are pitted against each other and who are determined to fight as long as they have a ghost of a show, and some of them when they know they have no chance to win, the muss would now be on the eve of settlement. Heathman says that it is not costing him much to prolong the fight and it is the "principal of the thing" that causes him to resist. It is known that Heathman is not paying the bills to carry on the fight, as one prominent man in the business circles of the town said this morning that some of the "heaviest tax payers in the city are putting up the money." What they are doing it for no one seems to know, and these "heavy taxpayers" volunteer no information.

Attorneys File Answer.

The attorneys for Heathman and Beam have filed their answer to Judge Ellis' findings in the mandamus case argued Friday and the argument will be made Monday. What will be the outcome of this move on the scenes, no one knows, but if the judge decides against Heathman and Beam, it will end the fight in the district court, but it will probably be carried to a higher court.

Passing of the Cable Car.

A few years ago the cable system of street car propulsion was considered decidedly the best, but, since the invention of the trolley system the cable is being rapidly replaced and many experts now claim that compressed air will eventually be the street car power of the future. In all lines of industry we see improvements being made, but in medicine there is one remedy that is impossible to improve upon, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It will not not fall to cure dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, constipation, liver and kidney troubles, or malaria, fever and ague. Take it at the first symptoms of any of these diseases and it will give prompt relief. Be sure to get the genuine.

PENDLETON ACADEMY DEBATE.

"The Rich Boy vs. the Poor Boy"—The Negative Side Won—School Paper Read.

The Academy students held another of their regular weekly debating contests Friday evening. The subject under discussion was: "Resolved, that the rich boy has a poorer chance to attain success in this world than the poor boy." The honors were won by the negative side, composed of Coie Walker, Elmer Sullivan, Elmer Yates and Ernest Ruppe. The affirmative side was represented by Jesse Crockett, Bessie Campbell, Blanche Whittemore, and Stanley Yates.

In addition to the debate, a paper called the "Academy Zeitung," with Ruby Whittemore, Myrtle Hawkes and Mable McDill, as editors, was read. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Myrtle Hawkes at the opening of the exercises.

The department of the Geological Survey at Washington, has recently issued a publication by Waldemar Lindgreen, entitled "The Gold Belt of the Blue mountains in Oregon," which will be of incalculable value in making known the possibilities of Oregon.
