THE LOG-ROLLING

GEORGE K. ROGERS VISITS POINTS EAST.

A Great Crowd Are Reported as Coming to Pendleton on Camp Days, April 21-22.

George K. Rogers, of the Woodmen of the World, returned from a trip up around Baker City yesterday. He had gone to several points in that part of the woods in the interest of the Pendleton log-rolling and to present to them personally the cordial invitation of the Woodmen and citizens generally of Pendleton to come and camp with us on April 21-22. Mr. Rogers states that he was prepared to find considerable curiosity at what is on the tapis at this place, and to hear a few say they were coming, but the universally expressed determination of the Woodmen in those towns to be here was more than he was prepared for.

"The camps," he said, "of Baker City, Sumpter and La Grande have each voted to come in a body. That is also true of the circles of the Women of Woodcraft in those cities. Those towns had rousing meetings at the time of my visit, and I gave them to understand that nothing that the Pendleton neighbors could do would be too good for the visitors to the great log-rolling. Sumpter and Baker City camps are particularly active and each will have large classes of candidates. Sumpter is quite anxious to see the drill work of the uniform ranks which will be here from the coast cities, for they are planning to organize a uniform rank there. I also found the press in those cities very liberal to the idea, and was accorded practically unlimited space in interviews to tell the people generally of the immense fraternal demonstration. Right here I want to thank the local press, for the extended notices which we have received here and which I am sure paved the way for equally splendid recognition from the papers of sister towns. The newspapers of this city deserve great credit for the liberal manner in which they are advertising this event. It shows a spirit alive to the best interests of the city."

Mr. Rogers found an immense amount of mail awaiting him on his return, and when seen by the representative of the East Oregonian was knee-deep in the pile of letters which he was answering, and which were almost without exception, inquiries of some kind with reference to the forthcoming celebration. The camp at Milton assures the committee that it will bring a float. Weston has also promised one. A letter from Portland stated that Captain Jones, of Multnomah Camp's celebrated uniform rank team, was steadily drilling in many new figures which he intended to present at the Pendleton log-rolling. Mr. Rogers will go to Adams this evening to arrange with that camp to bring a float and to be otherwise prominently represented in the festivities.

THE WESTON NEIGHBORHOOD.

Taking Up a Collection at Weston to Continue the Public Schools.

The East Oregonian is indebted to the Weston Leader for the following items:

The Weston brickyard is shipping 100,000 brick to Gilbert Hunt, at Walla Walla for an addition to the Hunt Machine shops.

Mrs. J. E. Lowell, residing near Kent, Sherman county, a sister-in-law of W. W. Carlile, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carlile at their home in this city.

William Isley, a young man who lived at Weston during his boyhood, has enlisted with the Canadian volunteers for service in South Africa.

The family of Joseph Blomgren, who recently purchased the Ryan and Taylor places east of town, have arrived from Wyoming, and are hopeful that our country and climate will suit them.

Henry Van Buren has the Thunder Mountain fever and is making preparations to depart soon for that rich but rugged mining field, accompanied by George Ashworth. The Kentucky will be left in competent hands.

present justices of the peace and constable for Weston district, will likely be candidates for renomination before the primaries of their respective parties. Mr. Wood is of republican and Mr. Llewallen of democratic faith.

In its report of a recent council meeting the Milton Eagle says: "H. Hessel made a proposition to the council to put in a saloon near Free-water within the Milton corporate limits, if license could be granted for that purpose. The matter was treated as a joke and no action taken."

Angus McDonald, the genial Couse creeker, is hunting a man to assist him in farm work. He lately had a married couple of the place, "but regrets to report" that the wife deserted her husband and the husband jumped his job. No wonder that Angus obstinately remains a bachelor, although much in demand, when he is confronted at such close range with conjugal infelicity.

A. J. Shaw, W. H. Gould, Charles Jeffrey and William Zigman drove from Weston mountain to Pendleton Monday to pay their taxes, and thus save 3 per cent, under the new law. They found the sheriff's office on "the jump," receiving money from taxpayers. Sheriff Blakley informed them that one day's receipts amounted to $5000, so great has been the rush. Business is booming also, with the county clerk and recorder.

Sufficient funds were not voted at the school meeting in January, when an $1/2 mill levy was passed to maintain the Weston public school for the full school year of nine months. Six weeks more are desired in order that the course may be completed and the students enabled to pass in their grades, which they will not have time to do if the school is allowed to close in seven and a half months. L. C. Preston is circulating a subscription paper to continue the school, and has met with very encouraging success. The six weeks will require a little over $300.

J. N. York has quit trying for the present to find water at his place, four miles north of town, and will depend upon his cisterns. His well was sunk with great difficulty eight feet deeper, through rock that John Joerdel says is the hardest he ever encountered during his years of experience as a well-digger, and is now at a depth of 131 feet. Some water seeps through the walls and there is believed to be a vein in the near vicinity. When he tries again, Mr. York will use a drill. Joerdel has begun work on a well for George Badgett.

The manager of the E. O. S. N. S. track team is in receipt of a letter from Will S. Kennedy, manager of the track team of the Baker City high school, urging representation by at least 10 men at the Eastern Oregon Inter-Scholastic Field Meet, which will be held this year at Baker City, probably during the last week of May. The Baker City, La Grande, Union and Pendleton high schools will be represented. The normal boys, who came within a few points of victory last year at the Pendleton meet, will likely appear again this season, but have not yet organized and begun training.

DANIEL SULLY'S VISIT.

Here on March 12, at the Frazer, in "The Parish Priest."

"The Parish Priest" is without doubt one of the strongest and prettiest plays ever penned by a playwright. You weep and laugh in turn at the pathos and original humor which are ably blended and drawn out by a master hand and which lead up to situations that are beautifully enacted. What appeals to one is the naturalness of the play. It is everyday life depicted by an artist and observer of scenes, that happen in the life of every community. It is original, and what is more, it does not depend on scenic effects to bring out any strong points, the author having attended to that in the lines. There is no heavy villain; there are no exciting climaxes that will cause the blood to curdle. Everything is simple and true to life. It is a picture of simple life cleverly woven together and cleverly produced by a competent company, and each character is so strong that it stands out strongly. Daniel L. Hart has attempted no burlesque on the Irish race. There is nothing to show it in other than the proper light. No girls come out in short skirts, but, instead, it is refined in every particular, the language being sweet, choice and pure and the characters such as are to be met in every walk of life. This pretty play will be seen at the Frazer Opera House, Wednesday, March 12, 1902.

THINGS ARE NOT WHAT THEY SEEM.

Jones (after having walked round the statue four times with considerable difficulty): "The villains! They've shut me in here!"

THEY ARE SEEKING HOMES.

Two Special Passenger Trains Filled With People Pass Through Pendleton.

During the past few days the first contingents of Easterners who are seeking homes in the Northwest, have come into and passed through Pendleton. While some of these have stopped here with friends and intend to look over the country with the view to locating, most of them have gone on to other points, and a great many have gone across the line into Washington.

All this week the trains have been loaded to the guards with men, women and children, but the largest number of those who have taken advantage of the homeseekers' rates which went into effect last Saturday, arrived here last night and today. The 11:20 train last night had several extra coaches loaded with immigrants and, in addition to the regular train this morning, which had perhaps 50 or 75 people riding on the special rates, two extra trains came in this forenoon, one at 9:45 and the other at 11. Each of these trains had from six to 10 coaches that were filled with people looking for homes in the great northwest and had come with the intention of making this country their permanent homes.

A great many of those coming are young people, who come with the intention of bettering their condition as laborers on farms or stock ranches, but they are not all single men, as there are a large number of men accompanied by large families and who are looking toward the west to secure a home under better conditions.

Those arriving now are only the advance guard of what is expected. The special rates are to continue over the trans-continental lines through March and April and from 5000 to 10,000 people are expected to take advantage of this opportunity of seeing the Western states for themselves. These people are coming from every state east of the Rockies, but the largest contingent is coming from the Middle states, such as Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, etc., but a few are from all over the East and South.

Practically Starving.

"After using a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure my wife received perfect and permanent relief from a severe and chronic case of stomach trouble," says J. R. Holly, real estate, insurance and loan agent, of Macomb, Ill. "Before using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she could not eat an ordinary meal without intense suffering. She is now entirely cured. Several physicians and many remedies had failed to give relief." You don't have to diet. Eat any good food you want, but don't overload the stomach. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will always digest it for you. Tallman & Co. & Brock & McComas.

Peoples Warehouse Concert.

The people of Pendleton were treated to a new departure Thursday night in the way of entertainment. Leon Cohen, proprietor of the Peoples Warehouse, concluded to give his friends and patrons the benefit of a musical concert and hired Kirkman's orchestra, who were stationed on the platform at the back of the store and, beginning at 7:30 and continuing till 8:30, entertained the large crowd that pressed into the establishment to hear and view the goods on display. No attempt was made to sell anything during the concert, but reasonable goods were beautifully and artistically displayed so that the visitors could see them and get an idea of what is kept on sale.

J. W. Barber, a rancher of the Powder river valley, was convicted at Baker City for having forged a check for $72. The jury recommended leniency.
