GENERAL NEWS

Mrs. Mary Walsh, an aged woman, was burned to death at San Rafael, Cal., by the cottage in which she lived catching fire at night.

President Roosevelt has stated that the report that he has changed his mind on the Cuban reciprocity question is without the slightest foundation.

Mamie Boyle, a 14-year-old daughter of John Boyle, was buried by a falling brick wall in Los Angeles, and instantly killed. It is thought the recent rains weakened the foundation of the building.

The Hudson's Bay Company's officials deny emphatically that they have received any confirmation from their agents in the far North of the story that Andre was shot by Eskimos on the shore of Hudson's Bay.

John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, ex-postmaster-general, was received at the Vatican Wednesday, says a World dispatch from Rome, by the pope, together with a delegation of 100 distinguished men of the French church.

A favorable report was authorized by the senate committee on commerce on the bill authorizing the president to appoint a commission to co-operate with Canada in an examination of the boundary waters between the two countries.

George Mosgrove, said to be the leader of a band of southwestern desperadoes and a brother of the noted "Black Jack," who was hanged at Clayton, N. M., a year ago, has been captured near Alamo Gordo, N. M., by Postoffice Inspector C. L. Doran.

The British civil service estimates issued show an increase of £2,810,525 over those of last year, including a grant of £1,800,000 to aid the revenues of the Transvaal and Orange River colonies, £100,000 for the coronation of King Edward, and £120,000 for the Pacific cable subsidy.

The London Times publishes a violent article on the growing power of the United Irish League and urges the cabinet to invest the lord lieutenant of Ireland, Earl Cadogan, with power to enforce all the dormant clauses of the crimes act, and to deal with it by a change of venue and special juries.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS

A serious stabbing affray occurred at Winston, Mont., in which Foreman Tight almost instantly killed Paul Koch with a knife.

Thirty-five horses were purchased at La Grande by the British government, through agents on Wednesday, and shipped to Ontario. Other horses were purchased at Elgin and other places in Union county by the same parties.

Representative Tongue has secured a further provision in the rivers and harbors bill for a survey of Yaquina river from Toledo to its mouth, with a view to determining the necessity and the cost of the project. It is alleged that the channel is shoaling rapidly.

The seat burned out of a pair of overalls, a broken window and 25 cents worth of paint blistered and blackened, was the total damage resulting from a fire at the Walla Walla theater Thursday evening. The box office caught on fire by the dropping of a pair of overalls, which hung on a nail on the wall, onto the stove. Prompt action saved the building.

John William Reeder, youngest son of Simon M. and Catherine Abel Reeder, aged 20 years, was drowned at Rainier on Monday, March 3. He was endeavoring to attach his boat to a raft of logs, and it is supposed he slipped in some way and fell into the river. He swam about 300 yards, but when within about 10 yards from the shore was either overcome by the force of the current or seized with cramps, for he sank. His body was recovered the next day.

PROTECTING QUAIL.

Men Are On the Watch for Any Violation of the Game Law.

It has been reported several times recently that the Japs employed by the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, doing work on the roadbed and straightening the track, between here and Umatilla, had been killing Bob White quail, but if they have they are doing it very slyly. Deputy Game Warden T. B. Wells has had several men along the river watching them and trying to get a clew for more than a month, but all efforts to catch them in the act or to get any proof that they have been killing these game birds, has proven futile and it is thought now that the report had little foundation.

Along the Umatilla and on the streams tributary, the Bob Whites are getting quite plentiful and if they are let alone for a few years more they will afford some amusement for sportsmen. The first one of these birds were brought to this country and let loose on McKay creek almost six years ago. They were brought from the east by a few local sportsmen and a law passed by the Oregon legislature prohibiting the killing of them until 1905, under penalty of a heavy fine and imprisonment. Later, when the Pendleton Gun and Rod Club was organized they pledged themselves to see that this law was enforced and they are doing all in their power to see that this is done, so that no effort is spared to locate and punish anyone who breaks it.

SENATOR MITCHELL'S WORK.

Will Offer Amendments and Secure More Money.

Senator Mitchell will offer important amendments to the river and harbors bill when the measure reaches the senate, says the Oregonian. The bill as reported by the house committee Saturday contained liberal appropriations for the rivers and harbors of the Northwest. The amendments to be offered by Senator Mitchell will be even more favorable. They have been referred to the committee on commerce of the senate, and a copy has been received by the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

In the house bill $1,000,000 is authorized for contracts to be entered into by the secretary of war, for improvement of the mouth of the Columbia. Mr. Mitchell will try to make it $2,000,000. For continuing improvement the house appropriates $550,000. Mr. Mitchell will propose $600,000. For the lower Willamette and Columbia rivers the house will appropriate $50,000. In the senate $250,000 will be proposed. Other amendments to be offered in the senate are as follows:

For upper Columbia and Snake rivers, continuing improvement and maintenance, house, $25,250. Senate, $28,000.

For Willamette river above Portland and the Yamhill river; house $68,000, of which $37,500 is for improvements opposite Corvallis and below Independence; senate, $75,000, of which $25,000 shall be for retvetting near Independence, $12,500 for retvetting above Corvallis, and $12,500 for retvetting near Albany.

Other amendments to be offered by Mr. Mitchell are as follows:

For Columbia river between Willamette river and Vancouver, maintenance, $8000; improvement, $12,000.

For procuring a right of way for a canal between The Dalles and Celilo and beginning construction of the same, $500,000; less the unexpended balance heretofore appropriated for a boat railway.

For Clatskanie river, $1000.

For Long Tom river, $1000.

For Coquille river, between Myrtle Point and Coquille City, $19,980.77.

For Yaquina Bay, $2000.

For survey and estimates of improvement of Yaquina River, between Toledo and the mouth, to be fixed by the senate.

Same for Umpqua river, to be fixed by the senate.

THE ATHENA MILL FAILURE.

W. E. Bond, the Manager of the Mill, Explains His Connection With It.

Pendleton, Or., March 6.—To the Editor.—My attention has been called to an editorial in your last evening's issue, in which you state that the Athena Flouring Mill's failure "smells of a job and a big profit for those concerned for less than a year's work, fully $20,000 is unaccounted for."

I do not know from what source you derive this information, but, as it is utterly without foundation, and as nearly every item you have published in this case has gone beyond the facts to reflect upon me personally, it may not be unreasonable to suppose you have some object in view other than the mere publication of news. I may be mistaken in this, and I hope I am, but being a stranger to you, and my enemies your friends, it is perhaps not an unnatural conclusion. I had thought the loss of all I put into the Athena mill was sufficient, without being made the subject of vicious attacks in a paper which has no reason to be other than impartial.

Your statement that $20,000 cannot be accounted for is ridiculous to any one at all acquainted with the affairs of that concern.

I do not know that it will make any difference in your articles, but I feel called upon to inform you what the facts are, as I believe I am qualified to do.

Most of the grain storages existed before I went there. And there was also at that time several thousand dollars that could not be accounted for, and which I have never been able to trace. This condition was not known to me until after my investment had been made. I then found that there were no funds in the treasury to meet the debts of the concern, nor to carry on operations, nor was there any stock of any kind on hand. There was no assistance from stockholders at any time during the past year, and in addition to this, the mill had to be practically rebuilt, new warehouses built. To pay all debts, keep the mill in operation, and to rebuild it, without any money in the treasury, is not an easy matter, and if there is any one who has been "jobbed" in this matter, with all due deference to your friends, I consider that I am the one. W. E. BOND.

(The above letter is printed to give Mr. Bond the benefit of every doubt. Mr. Bond says that most of the grain was gone before he was made manager of the mill. In other words, he bought a controlling interest in the mill without looking into its affairs or taking an inventory. Mr. Bond, apparently, was "taken in" completely and has on his shoulders the blame that belongs to others. Surely, someone is to blame for squandering a lot of property belonging to people who left it in trust with the mill. The East Oregonian does not wish to censure an innocent man, hence its columns are always open to those without price who are involved. There is one thing sure, about $20,000 of other people's property has been wrongfully converted, and who got the benefit is a question worth answering. The East Oregonian would like to hear from others than Mr. Bond. The blame should be rightfully located, as a great wrong has been perpetrated. The East Oregonian has no desire to shield the guilty, no matter whom they may be. It has no enemies to punish, nor friends to reward. It is not built on that principle. If Mr. Bond knew the paper better he would not intimate it.)

At bedtime I take, a pleasant herb drink, the next morning I feel bright and my complexion is better. My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys, and is a pleasant laxative. It is made from herbs, and is prepared as easily as tea. It is called Lane's Medicine. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. Price 25c and 50c. For sale by Tallman & Co., sole agents.

Mrs. Julia A. Walker, relict of the late R. H. Walker, died Thursday night at the residence of her son-in-law, S. S. Johns, at The Dalles, after a four-days' illness from pneumonia. She was a native of Michigan. She crossed the plains to Oregon in 1852, and had resided at The Dalles for the past 20 years.
