BACK FROM TRIP

GRAND GUARDIAN WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT.

Board of Grand Managers Adjourned to Meet in Pendleton During the Great Log-Rolling Session, April 21-22.

Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall, grand guardian of the Women of Woodcraft, is back from a session of the grand managers, held at Leadville, Col. Mrs. Van Orsdall brings some glowing reports for the log-rollers. It is nothing less than to chronicle the fact that the board of grand managers adjourned to meet in Pendleton during the great log-rolling session, April 21. These grand managers are: Mrs. Annie Hawkins, of Toledo, Or.; Mrs. Ida M. Latshaw, Pueblo, Col.; Mrs. Pauline P. Pardellian, of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Cora Walker, of Pullman, Wash.; and Dr. Lillian Pollock, of Denver, Col.

The holding of the session here will also necessitate the coming of Mr. J. L. Wright, grand clerk, Mrs. Helen M. Southwick, grand attendant, and Dr. William Kuykendall, grand physician, of Eugene, Or., are also to be here.

It is also confidently expected that several others of the grand officers of the Women of Woodcraft, together with a number of head officers of the Woodmen of the World, will be present.

This special session of the board of grand managers of the Women of Woodcraft has been made necessary because of the phenomenal growth which the order is having. So rapid has it been that the regular arrangements for a basis of representation at the next grand session has been found inadequate. There will be a new districting of the entire field and several more representatives will be allowed than was expected when the present set of districts were arranged.

The Women of Woodcraft, it must be remembered, is the auxiliary of the Pacific Jurisdiction of the Woodmen of the World only; that is, the nine states west of the Rocky Mountains.

Last month this marvelously successful western organization admitted 1205 new members. Fifteen new circles were instituted, as follows: Colorado, 2; Washington, 6; California, 3; Idaho, 1; Oregon, 3.

The success which the society is making is exciting the lively interest of fraternal order leaders throughout the entire United States and is proving a tremendous advertisement for Pendleton and eastern Oregon and Washington generally. Moreover it is showing that the "wild and woolly west" produces executive talent of a high order, which is exemplified in the wonderful management of Grand Guardian Van Orsdall. This great fraternal leader has been the guiding genius of the Women of Woodcraft from its very beginning.

The grand guardian states that $30,000 more was invested in bonds to the credit of the reserve fund of the order, during the recent session which she attended. This gives the order total assets of $105,748.08. The membership now amounts to nearly or quite 30,000. There are 450 subordinate lodges or circles, as follows: Colorado, 111; Oregon, 104; Washington, 89; California, 75; Idaho, 20; Utah, 7; Wyoming, 11; Nevada, 2.

It is confidently believed that the holding of the adjourned meeting of the grand managers and grand clerk here in April, will have a wonderful effect on the log-rolling, for naturally the membership in all of Eastern Oregon and Southwestern Washington will want to meet and greet the leaders of the most successful society the world has ever seen.

Hon. A. D. Stillman is still in Denver at the session of the board of head managers of the Woodmen of the World. Incidentally, while there he is putting in some heavy lifts for the bunch-grass log-rolling, and that he should be able to make equally as good a report as has the grand guardian when he returns, is confidently expected.

The reports from nearby cities continue most flattering. Today word was received from Starbuck, Pomeroy and Dayton to the effect that they had swung into line and would attend in a body.

Mr. George K. Rogers visited Adams camp the other evening and addressed an interested audience of the camp and circle. That camp will also have a full quota of candidates, and it is expected that both the camp and circle at that place will bring floats.

Propositions from various brass bands are being received and are being considered. A movement is now on foot to organize a Woodmen of the World's brass band in this city, and the promoters of the idea feel quite certain that it can be successfully carried out. It is earnestly to be hoped that it will be done. It is certainly not to the credit of Pendleton that it does not have a first-class band. There are any number of good players here, and it will only need the moral and financial support of some great organization like the Woodmen of the World to make a band at this place the leading musical organization in Eastern Oregon.

Progress in Pendleton.

Locally Perfected Woodcraft is booming. The camp has received 72 acceptable applications and the camp 103, but the camp does not propose to let the ladies outdo them and propose to astonish their friends when it comes to the closing days of the campaign.

Captains Krause and Gaden both drilled their respective teams again yesterday and last night. These teams are drilling three and four times a week, rapidly perfecting themselves in fancy military movements, and will be ready in April to put on a public drill which will surprise not alone our hundreds of visitors, but the Pendletonians themselves.

The general committee met again yesterday and transacted an immense amount of business. A very heavy line of correspondence was read and disposed of. It showed a widespread and constantly increasing interest. In fact, the log-rollers themselves did not anticipate that they were starting such a stupendous movement when they launched this great bunch-grass campaign. They, however, say that they will see it through and will make it the grandest fraternal demonstration ever witnessed in the west.

The Dance Last Night.

The ball given by Pendleton Circle last night was the grandest success of anything ever given by this organization, which is noted for successful functions. Everybody enjoyed themselves, and a universal expression of "I'll come again when the Women of Woodcraft have anything" was heard from all quarters. Fifty dollars was cleared which money will be turned over to the log-rolling fund. The ladies feel very grateful for courtesies extended by the Knights of Pythias.

Pendleton Camp will meet tonight, and that it will be a "rouser" goes without saying. Arrangements for a large number of extra chairs have been made so that it is hoped to have seats for all.

District Organizer J. S. Williams of the Salem, Oregon, field, will arrive in Pendleton tomorrow. From here he will make a series of visits to all eastern Oregon camps possible, and will personally interest them in the great jubilee. Mr. Williams is a gentleman of rare organizing ability and a very eloquent speaker. His work will add wonderfully to the success of the movement.

DAN SULLY HERE.

Gives Performance of "Parish Priest" Wednesday Night.

On Wednesday, March 12, Daniel Sully will present the New York and Boston success, "The Parish Priest," at the Frazier.

The story of the play tells of the drifting apart of two young lovers and it is surprising the number of complications the author, Daniel T. Hart, has hung on this slender thread. But the thread never breaks. It glistens in the sunset of the first act, it shines brilliantly in the moonlight of the second, and is brilliant in the glow of the fire in act third. In act second is a touch which goes dangerously near the melodramatic. It is where the brothers come together and wounded honor cries out for vindication. It has the melodramatic strength, but not the melodramatic tinge. The dramatist skillfully clings to the peaceful atmosphere of his story, stirring the pulse for a moment and then adding the glory of the sun of peace which afterwards smiles through the storm clouds. As Father Whalen, Daniel Sully is given one of the best character creations of recent years. His humor is of the quaint, honest sort, and his sentiment delightful in its naturalness. The play is picturesquely staged and beautiful in its simplicity. Prices: lower floor, $1.00; gallery, 50c.

LAGRANDE ELECTION

SCRIBNER-CHURCH FAC-TIONS WERE AN ISSUE.

The Anti-Reformers Got the Better of the Reformers in the Contest, Electing the Mayor—Reformers Elected Marshal.

La Grande, March 11.—The result of the city election here yesterday was in favor of the anti-reformers, who elected mayor, recorder and two of the three councilmen. The reformers, or the law and order party, elected treasurer, marshal and one councilman. The council will stand three to three with the mayor holding the deciding vote. The vote was as follows:

Mayor.

A. C. Miller, 331; J. C. Henry, 358.

Recorder.

John Steinbach, 370; Frank Childers, 319.

Treasurer.

F. B. Curry, 319; H. C. Williams, 368.

Councilmen.

Ward No. 1—L. D. White, 108; S. N. Bolton, 94.

Ward No. 2—A. J. Hughes, 126; Frank Owsley, 149.

Ward No. 3—L. D. Reaves, 71; J. W. Scriber, 107.

The banks were in the contest, as in everything else in this town, which means that the Scribner-Church factional fight was an issue in the election. Scribner and two of his friends were successful at the polls, while F. S. Meyers, assistant cashier in Church's bank, was elected clerk by a large majority.

They Were Playing War.

Stewart Hill, aged 9 years, is dead at Denver, Col., from the effects of a bullet wound in the breast, received Sunday afternoon while engaged in a mimic battle. James Butson, aged 12 years, is under arrest, charged with murder. Four boys, all 12 years of age or under, stationed themselves behind barricades 30 yards apart, and had exchanged 20 shots when Hill fell, pierced through the lung. According to the other boys Hill had stepped out in the open when Butson took deliberate aim and fired.

Rooms in the East Oregonian building for rent. Steam heated, hot and cold water and bath room in connection.
