The republicans of Umatilla county, by their representatives in convention assembled, appealing for popular approval of their claims, address themselves to the honesty and intelligence of the voters of Umatilla county, and in so doing declare: That we believe in, and reaffirm our allegiance to, the principles of the republican party, which have maintained for half a century and conducted to the marvelous growth and development of our country in prosperity, wealth and intelligence.

We believe in holding all the American possessions, and in extending to all an honest, economic and intelligent administration of government of affairs.

We favor the opening of the Columbia river to navigation above The Dalles and demand of our senators and representatives in congress their best efforts toward securing adequate aid for that purpose.

NEWSPAPER STORY.

The Editor Who Touched a Man in a Sore Place.

Drummer—What started the fight? Landlord Pettyville Tavern—Oh! Charles Henry Didd got married day before yesterday, and in today's paper the editor of the Weekly Plaindealer followed the announcement of the event with a little pleasantry about 'hopin' that all their troubles would be little ones. This is the third time Charles Henry has been married, and he's got seven children to show for it, and the bride has had one husband before and still has five children. And as the editor was afraid the groom wouldn't see the point of the joke he stopped him in front of the postoffice, the most public place in town, and started to explain to him in a loud voice, whereupon Charles Henry hit him on the nose. I presume it was the most natural thing in the world that they should have a fight. That is the way it started, anyhow.

"And yet," observed the information editor, "Stone can't be called a hard name—to remember."

"Still," retorted the exchange editor, "those bandits seemed to think it necessary to keep a lot of rocks to remember her by when they let her go."

"The band," said the other, scowling, "will now play a band-ditty."

After Hawaiian Business. Seattle, Wash., March 12.—Another direct steamship service between Seattle and Honolulu is about to be inaugurated. As a result of the absorption of the American-Hawaiian steamships by J. L. Lapham, there will ensue a vigorous fight for the trade between the Hawaiian Isles and the Orient. The points of warfare on the coast will be Seattle and San Francisco. This city will have two direct steamers, San Francisco will have two, and the remainder of the present fleet, as heretofore, will call at both ports on their regular run from New York. The new steamship line operating from this city will employ two 5,000-ton steamships, for both passengers and freight, although the main idea will be to handle the ever-growing cargo business. Already the contracts for the vessels have been let in the east. The contracts provide that the two vessels will be fast and commodious, of pleasing design and be completed by next fall.

New Hampshire Prohibitionists. Concord, N. H., March 12.—Prohibitionists rallied here in force today to complete arrangements for the participation of the party in the coming campaign. The convention was called to order shortly after 10 o'clock by Rev. Edwin Morrell. In addition to a full representation of the various counties of the state, there were a number of prohibitionists in attendance of national prominence from other states.
