Local Wheat Market Almost at Standstill-Wool Markets Quiet.

The local wheat market has almost been at a standstill since the first of the present month, and has only fluctuated about a half cent in three weeks. It was quoted as low as 521/2 c about the first instant, but now it is 52c, with a weaker tendency, and unless there is a rise in the world's market no marked change is looked for locally. Whether or not this will come cannot be stated but the indications are toward lower prices. Very little wheat has been sold for a couple of weeks, and what is now left in the county may most of it be held over until another season, unless it reaches a higher figure than it has since the harvesting of the last year's crop. One hundred and seventy-five thousand or 200,000 bushels will cover the whole amount of wheat that is left in the county, and quite a little DAMON LODGE, NO. 4.-KNIGHTS OF Pythias. J. F. Nowlin, C. Potatoes.

There has been a marked change in other commodities kept in the market for consumption as will be seen by a perusal of the prices below. Potatoes have fallen from $2 per sack to $1.50 and $1.75, which is caused more from the fact that less of them are consumed during the spring months than any other time of the year. While there are enough potatoes to fill all the demand they are not as

San Francisco Markets.

San Francisco, March 13 .- As foreign markets have been slow and few offers for immediate shipments, exporters have no incentive for working business, on anything approaching a fair price, and have been inclined to hold back purchases and only buy when an opportunity is offered for immediately placing the wheat. As a natural result, a lack of active export demand, prices here are not steady and invariably in buyers' favor. Holders are offering more lib-erally than they have for many months.
