THE POLITICAL FIELD.

Late News of the Situation in Marion County-Political Notes.

The Salem correspondent of the Portland Oregonian writes as fol-

Since the primary election Friday, republican leaders have been taking a rest, and the candidates for county offices have had an inning. The fight prior to the primaries was a hard one, and the leaders were worn out with was decisive in favor of Geer the local interest in state politics has lessened for a time, and attention is being paid to county affairs. During the next 10 days delegates to the county convention will be besieged by candidates for office, and trades of all sorts will be made by friends of the various

Since Simon has been defeated the intense interest in the legislative ticket has subsided, for there is no longer the bitter fight for supremacy. A prominent republican who has been neutral in the senatorial fight said this morning that the county convention will probably put upon the legislative ticket men who have not been prominent upon either side of the factional fight, but who would be acceptable to both sides by reason of their M. The friends and opponents of Simon were quite equally divided in the delegations, with the majority against Simon, since he has been defeated in Multnomah.

The republican mentioned says that since Geer received the support of hundreds of voters who are opposed cities of the country. He understands the fight, Geer's friends should now to Simon, and Simon is now out of strengthen him by cutting loose from the Simon entanglement. At the same time, he says, they should not permit the extreme anti-Simon leaders to go on the legislative ticket. To put up men not pronounced in their senatorial preferences, but willing to abide by a caucus nominee, would be satisfactory to the rank and file of the republican party and insure success to the ticket. Geer's friends are in control, and whatever is dene, will, in a measure be credited to them. Had Simon won in Multnomah, it was expected that they would rally to his support here, but they now have nothing to gain by fighting a lost cause.

Notes. At the primaries held in Canyon City, Grant county, the delegates elected to the county convention are divided on congressman. Al lare anti-

The independent republicans will have in the county convention in Portland, a majority of 32 over the Simonites.

MISSING SINCE SATURDAY. WHEN LAST SEEN.

He Attended a Dance in the Upper End of Town-His Friends Have Made Every Effort to Locate Him. "Where is Elza Todd?" This is the question his relatives and friends are swer it satisfactorily.

Last Saturday night he attended the east end dance and left the dance hall in a cab about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. He was taken to the Alta house. Ernest Green, a young man working at the City Livery Stables, was with Todd, who was drinking quite freely. Green tried to get Todd to go home, but he refused and sat down on the sidewalk a few rods east of the Alta house. Green then left ter Magazine is now being circulated. him and started off.
