IN "FORGET ME NOT."

Rose Coghlan Sustains the Difficult Role as Everyone Expected.

The Jules Murray presentation of "Forget Me Not," with Rose Coghlan in the character of Stephanie, was greeted by a small audience at the Frazer on Thursday night. But the small audience was quite appreciative and indulged in the usual manifestation of approval of good acting by giving several curtain calls. It was a distinguished honor for a Pendleton audience to pay, for Pendleton audiences seldom move out from a lethargic listening attitude even when artists of note come here.

It needs no statement here that Miss Coghlan acted well. She always does that, and for many years has been recognized as one of the stars of the American stage. She made famous the part of "Lady Teazle" in Sheridan's celebrated dramatic society study, "School for Scandal," a part demanding art of the highest quality. As Stephanie she was superb, attaining naturalness of manner that is the highest expression of art in acting.

The piece was somewhat emasculated, certain effective portions being eliminated, but the presentation was excellent, considering that a smaller company must be carried to smaller towns than can be maintained in the larger cities.

Her support was fairly good.

Theodore Roosevelt is the fifth president who has held membership in the Phi Kappa fraternity, the others being John Quincy Adams, Pierce, Garfield and Arthur.

BASEBALL GAMES

SCHEDULE ARRANGED BY THE MANAGERS.

Outlook is Good for the Season, Say the Men in Command.

The baseball season is drawing near. Thursday afternoon John L. Sharpstein, manager of the Walla Walla baseball club, and G. C. Osborn, manager of the Athena team, better known as the "Yellow Kids," were in Pendleton conferring with Leon Cohen, manager of the Pendleton Baseball Association, and arrangements were made for future games. An agreement was also entered into between them that neither team was to try to get a player that was engaged with the other teams. These and other baseball matters that are not yet to be made public, were talked.

Managers Sharpstein and Osborn are jubilant over the prospects for the season's ball playing and expressed themselves that the outlook for better work and more enthusiasm on the diamond this year than ever before in the history of playing in this country.

The only drawback to the arrangements so far is that the games come too far apart to suit Pendleton, although Manager Sharpstein thought that he could not agree to play often and so far only the three towns' teams have come together in terms of arranging games. However, it is to be hoped that La Grande and Baker City teams will enter in with the other towns and make it possible to book more games than the ones that are in sight now.

While Pendleton has been backward in getting players booked and in the field, it is expected that by Sunday Captain Ziegler will have all his men together and will be in shape to give them a little practice on the diamond and get the boys in trim for the game that is to be pulled off here the 27th inst., between Whitman College and the locals. This is to be the opening game for Pendleton and will give Captain Ziegler a chance to see what his men are made of. After playing her the 27th, Whitman will go to Athena and play the "Kids" the 28th and 29th.

Other games that are booked for Pendleton are: Pendleton vs. Athena, at the latter place, on Easter Sunday, the 20th. A return game will be played here between the same teams between the 7th and 12th of April. Pendleton will again cross bats with the "Kids" in Athena on April 15th.

Walla Walla will play here April 20th. Athena are here again the 27th. Pendleton at Walla Walla May 4th and 5th.

Athena here May 18. Walla Walla here May 23. Athena here June 1st.

This is as far as games have been arranged and for the future or between times nothing definite is known. However, an effort will be made to get games with other teams which will give Pendleton more games than the ones now on the schedule.

La Grande Talks Ball.

W. H. Hawley, who last year was one of the pitchers of the Spokane team, in the Northwest league, is in town en route home from La Grande. Mr. Hawley stated that La Grander are enthusiastic over baseball for this season, and propose to place in the field a good lot of players. Arrangements are not yet completed, but the people there seem to think that they need some good ball in their 1902 business.

BASEBALL ASSOCIATION WANTS YOUR HELP.

Will Have a Nail Driving Bee Tomorrow at the Grounds.

Can you drive a nail? If so, the members of the Pendleton Baseball Association would like to see you at the baseball grounds, in the western part of town, tomorrow morning at as early an hour as it is possible for you to get there. If you cannot be on hand in the forenoon, they will welcome you in the afternoon, or if you cannot spare a whole or a half day from your other duties, an hour's work will be acceptably received.

If you can get to the ground you are requested to bring along a hammer. The baseball association has adopted the plan of having what they term a "fencing bee," tomorrow, for the purpose of fencing the ball grounds. The posts will be set, boards and nails will be on the ground and it is desired that every baseball enthusiast and friend to the ball club who can spare a few hours time will help to nail on the stringers and boards. By doing this you will save the association from having to pay out its cash for the work and what is saved in this way will be used to further the interests of the ball games of the season.

PERSONAL MENTION

He will be the guest of the rector of this parish over night, going on to Baker City to hold services on Palm Sunday and Easter day. Mr. Powell has been connected with the church in the diocese of Oregon for many years, and is a man of scholarly attainments.

Reserved Seats on Sale.

Leonora Jackson appears at Frazer's Wednesday night, March 26th. She comes with a world wide reputation as a violin player and those with her have a national reputation as musicians. Reserved seats will be on sale at Frazer's book store beginning Saturday morning, March 22. The gallery is reserved for students of the Pendleton public schools and the Pendleton Academy, at special rates. The appearance of the Leonora Jackson company in Pendleton will eclipse in brilliancy, socially and musically, any event of the season. The fame of Miss Jackson has transcended two continents, and critics everywhere accord her a high place among the virtuosos of the world. The tenor, Harry J. Fellows, and William Bauer, concert pianist, are an able support for so eminent an artist.

A PIONEER DEAD

DEATH OF THOMAS MC-FARLAND THURSDAY NIGHT.

Was a Settler of Oregon in 1880—Funeral Tomorrow.

Thomas McFarland, a pioneer of Oregon, passed into the great beyond at 12 o'clock last night, at the home of his son, W. C. McFarland, who lives at 633 Maple street.

Mr. McFarland was 68 years, 2 months and 20 days of age, and had been an invalid for the past four years. When he was 15 years of age he contracted fever and from the effects of the fever a sore gathered on his leg which has bothered him more or less all his life and this was partly to blame for his taking away.

Mr. McFarland was born in Culpeper county, Virginia, December 25, 1833, and when he was 10 years of age his parents removed to Montgomery county, Indiana. He remained there until he was of age, and married Miss Amanda Lee in 1855. There they lived until 1877, when they removed to California, where they remained there until 1888, when they Oregon, settling where Pilot Rock is. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland opened the first hotel in that place. They remained there until 188, when they came to Pendleton and again went into the hotel and boarding house business, which they continued until his health broke down and they had to abandon the business.

To Mr. and Mrs. McFarland were born seven children, five girls and two boys. One of them, Mrs. F. H. Suhr, lives in Hazelwood, Iowa; one, Mrs. G. J. Palmer, in Ritzville, Wash.; Mrs. Lewis Murray, in Portland; C. K. McFarland, in the Seven Devils country, and three of the children, Mrs. J. M. Lightfoot, Mrs. J. S. Gulliford and W. C. McFarland, reside in Pendleton. These, besides the wife and many friends, are left to mourn the loss of a dear father, husband and friend.

The funeral services will be conducted at the home of W. C. McFarland, 633 Maple street, by Rev. E. B.
