Because some of the members of the Portland Stomatological Club thought that Dr. B. E. Wright had acted in an unprofessional manner by making public an announcement in the press of his removal to new quarters, Dr. Wright voluntarily tendered his resignation as a member of the club, a climax somewhat unexpected and not altogether agreeable to part of the club members, at least. The doctor has also tendered his resignation as a member of the State Dental Society, in which organization he has been quite prominent as in the Stomatological Club, he having held offices of responsibility and honor in both.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution. Proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

THE AMENDMENT

DIRECT LEGISLATION BEING AGITATED.

Prominent Oregonians Are in the Office of the League—George H. Williams President.

An aggressive campaign for direct legislative reforms is in progress. The league in Oregon boasts some prominent men in its office, the officers being: George H. Williams, president, Portland; W. S. U'ren, secretary, Oregon City; F. McKercher, treasurer, Portland. Executive Committee—Stephen A. Lowell, Pendleton; C. S. Jackson, Pendleton; Sol Hirsch, Portland; Dr. Harry Lane, Portland; J. C. Bayer, Portland; W. A. Howe, Carlton; C. C. Hogue, Albany; C. E. S. Wood, Portland; J. B. Waldo, Macleay; George E. Orton, Portland; W. D. Hare, Hillsboro; John C. Young, Baker City; Frank Williams, Ashland; F. E. Beach, Portland.

Its object is the adoption by the people of the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution of the state of Oregon at the general election in June, 1902.

An Announcement.
The advocates of the initiative and referendum say that the true question is not whether our present system of government is good—that is admitted, but "can it be made better?" Our government has been greatly improved in the last 120 years, and we believe it can be greatly strengthened and further improved. We do not suggest the abolition of any legislature or house of legislature for quick action in the ordinary affairs of government, and as a system of checks and balances, but we ask also a final check on them in the hands of the people.

We do not ask its application to national affairs until the American people have proved its value and practicability to them on important state laws. Supplied by the Ex. Com. Direct Legislation League of Oregon. GEORGE H. WILLIAMS, President.

W. S. U'REN, Secretary.
Speaker Henderson.
Hon. David B. Henderson, now speaker of the house of representatives, when he was chairman of the judiciary committee, declared in favor of the principle of initiative and referendum, as follows:

"It would be a great advantage to a public man if expression on measures could be had from the people, and in a general way I can say, without hesitation, that any plan which will enable the people to know what they are thinking; in other words, to let A know what B, C and D believe cannot do otherwise than good, and above all, an intelligent expression of the mass of the voters on any and all leading propositions—and untrammelled ballot and the free, intelligent expression of the people—I will ever be found favoring both, and can be so quoted. Whatever is done, should permit the fullest discussion before the vote is taken, so that the citizens may compare notes fully and the questions discussed may enter into the campaigns among the people."

J. P. Wager's Views.
John P. Wager, formerly editor of the East Oregonian, at a meeting in Portland under the auspices of the league, gave a forceful address, from which is taken this excerpt:

"We have got a start in the Australian ballot system. When I at first introduced it in the senate I was laughed at, but after all it was eventually adopted and acknowledged much superior to the old Missouri system of voting by sign of hand. I did not at first believe in the initiative and referendum, but after having studied it I arrived at the conclusion that direct legislation is democracy, which, in other words, is simply the rule of the people."

At La Junta, Col., W. H. Wallace, a negro sleeping car porter, was lynched at 8 o'clock at night on a corner of the court house square, being hanged to a electric light pole by a howling mob of 4000 people who had been wildly hunting for him all day. After the hanging the body of the negro was riddled with bullets. Wallace had been kept out of town all day by Sheriff Farr in an attempt to save him from the mob. The prisoner made no resistance to the lynching and died protesting his innocence.

DAPHNE'S GOOD WORK.

The Circle Have Many New Members of the Order.

Daphne Circle, Women of Woodcraft, at their regular meeting Wednesday evening did considerable work of a nature to prove that Pendleton Camp, No. 41, if it makes good its determination to save some of those wagers, "will have to hurry." Fourteen candidates were introduced into the mysteries of Woodcraft, and 19 applications were received for membership. This brings the total of elected applicants for the circle, since the log-rolling campaign has been on, up on 104, and leaves the circle just 24 applications behind the Camp, and the ladies declare they have just begun to work, and will come in strong on the home stretch. They have been sort of holding back, to see just how many they would need to beat the camp.

The circle took another important and progressive step in their history last evening. The meetings were changed from twice a month to once a week, and the night was changed from Monday to Wednesday. This gives Daphne circle a very material advantage, as it enables it to cut down the delay between the election to membership and initiation which will be much more satisfactory to applicants.

Altogether, Daphne Circle is making the chips fly in their part of the forest.

What It Is.
Advertising is the life blood of the business world today, and well directed advertising is like the powerful searchlight of a river steamer, thrown upon a distant cottage on the bank, cutting it out like a picture painted on a black canvas. The timid buyer and the prospective industry will follow the rays of the searchlight of publicity, just as surely as will the eyes of the steamer's passengers follow the light thrown from their vessel. They will not search the surrounding gloom for objects of interest when a beautiful picture is clearly shown before them. Prospective buyers will not search the surrounding gloom for your competitors if the searchlight of publicity is turned on your own place of business.—Canaanota (N. Y.) Bee.
