MISCELLANEOUS.

COMMERCE - TRADE

There is no change in the local wheat market. Fifty-three cents per bushel is the highest mark that this cereal has reached for more than a month and there is no indication of its going higher. None has been sold recently and farmers who have little dabs left absolutely refuse to let go at this figure. They may have to hold until the markets open for the 1902 crops, for the condition of foreign markets and the world's supply tend to foretell that no change may be looked for for some time.

Other things on the local market remain about the same as a week ago with a few exceptions.

The coming into the market of green onions have caused the old supply to drop in price as the demand is not so great as before. They are now quoted at $1.50 per hundred, when a week ago they were $2.

Chickens have also dropped a notch. Seven days ago they were quoted at $4 and $5 and could not be had at that figure. Today they are $3.50 and $4. This fall cannot be attributed to any cause by the dealers more than the fact that the farmers are beginning to sell off their hens, ridding the farms of them, since eggs have dropped, until there is no profit in this product, as they are only quoted at 15 cents per dozen and the market is glutted.

Sugar remains at the low-water mark it reached several weeks ago—$5.25 per sack—but wholesalers have raised 1 1/2 cents in San Francisco and this foretells a raise locally within the next few days.

Portland Wheat.

Portland, March 27.—The Commercial Review says:

Wheat continues weak and spiritless, with nothing on the surface to indicate the slightest improvement. All European countries have good supplies, either at hand or engaged ahead to more than meet any calls likely to transpire, and as there is nothing in present status of growing crops to indicate any deficiency in the world's supply of cereals for the present year, no encouragement is offered to operate forward in any extended scale. There seems no reason to doubt that the enormous amount of wheat in sight in America is the weak spot in the trade, and the almost imperceptible decrease in America's total from week to week causes apprehensive on the part of buyers who are therefore very cautious in their trades and work to a limited extent on distant business. Quotations are: Club, 63c; bluestem, 64c, and valley, 65c per bushel. State Grain Inspector Wright, of the state of Washington, has received news from the Palouse grain district to the effect that 300,000 acres of fall-sown wheat has been frozen out in the region north of Snake river.

Boston Wool.

Boston, March 27.—With the settlement of the labor troubles here, trade in the various industries has returned. The wool market is now on a steady basis, but operations are quiet. The call for territory wools has been moderate, but lots available on the market are held steady. Purchases of new wools made in Arizona that are coming in cannot be sold at within several cents per scoured pound of what they cost, and the general feeling among dealers here is that too high prices were paid, and it now looks as though the new territory wools will open high this year. Fine territory wools are firm and command on the scoured basis of 48 to 60c, while fine, medium territory is quoted at 44 to 45c, with good staple lots higher. Medium territory wools are quotable at 33 to 40c, scoured, with occasional fancy lots going higher. Medium territory wools are quoted at 38 to 40c, scoured, with occasional fancy lots going higher. Fleece wools are quiet, but hold steady in price.

Australians are coming in quite liberally, but arrivals are largely on manufacturers' account.
The market for good quarter-blood Australians is quoted on the scoured basis of 40 to 42c.
Portland, March 27.—Hops—12@13c per pound.
