Spring Immigration Rush is Fairly on —One Thousand Five Hundred Arrive Each Week.

New York, March 29.—In spite of the fact that this is holy week, it has been a busy one for New Yorkers in almost every walk of life in the general preparation for Easter. The stores are brilliant in the display of spring openings and are filled with crowds almost like unto those of the Christmas holidays; there is great activity in other business circles; society is quietly getting ready for the gayeties subsequent to the Easter season and politicians are busy as they will be for the next few months, owing to the fact that this autumn the state elections will be held.

The spring rush of immigration is fairly on and it is estimated that between 1500 and 1700 prospective American citizens are arriving every week. Many of the immigrants are booked for inland towns and though almost every foreign nation is represented, those coming in largest numbers are Frenchmen, Italians, Swedes and Poles.

Despite the denials of his friends, there is a growing belief among politicians that if ex-Governor David B. Hill sees a good chance of winning, he will accept the nomination for governor this year, knowing that victory would put him in the lead for the presidential nomination two years hence. It is a long time ahead to the nominating convention, but the democrats of the state are getting themselves together in order to take advantage of any opportunity that may develop in the fall. In all of these movements the Hon. David B. seems to be conspicuous, and as some one has expressed it, "to run or not to run," that is the question with ex-Governor Hill.

All of the churches in the city have made elaborate preparations for the celebration of Easter tomorrow and thousands of dollars have been spent in decorations, some of which will not be completed until the very last minute. Next week the flowers used will be taken to the various hospitals, where they will be distributed in the various wards of the sick. From all indications, the famous parade of Fifth avenue will be more brilliant than ever and many visitors from out-of-town cities are here simply for the pleasure of spending an Easter in Gotham.

The Brooklyn bridge management has announced that in order to relieve the congested condition of traffic, especially during business hours, four new loops will be constructed at the Manhattan terminus, and the work will be done as speedily as possible. This will increase the facilities of the bridge greatly, but there are those who say that the bridge is overworked and no plan to relieve the congestion will be a complete and satisfactory remedy for present conditions. Bridge Commissioner Lindenthal endeavored to obtain a popular expression of opinion regarding the subject, inviting all persons traveling across the bridge to deposit in 12 large boxes placed at the Manhattan end, ballots telling whether or not they would use the ferries in preference to the bridge, if their facilities were increased. Out of 300,000 who cross the structure daily, only 16 found time to drop in their ballots.

The youth of the metropolis are much elated over the passage of a bill in the legislature providing for a boys' club house in each borough of the city, to be built at a cost not to exceed $10,000. Each club house is to be under the direction of 12 trustees, six of whom shall be women.

Miss Ada Elliot, who succeeds Mrs. Rebecca Salome Foster, "the Tombs Angel," who lost her life in the recent Park Avenue hotel fire, is by no means unused to philanthropic work. Before coming to New York, some time ago, she was agent of the Associated Charities of Boston. She has been also a visitor of the Charity Organization Society in New York, and secretary of the Committee on Dependent Children. Miss Elliot is now on a trip to Europe, but returns the first of August to take up the work so long carried on by Mrs. Foster. It is thought by many who are interested in solving the problem of how to care for those victims of society who are brought beneath the rigors of the law that Miss Elliot's appointment marks an important step toward the passing of a state law providing probation officers for all minor branches of the criminal courts.

Commissioner Dougherty is receiving the vigorous support of the Merchants' Association in his efforts to break up the water meter frauds on the city. The association has supplied him with a large quantity of data tending to show a very great shortage in the water revenues, estimated broadly at from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year, and has asked him to test, by direct investigation of some of the physical facts, the conclusion reached by its expert.

Spring-like weather has enabled the trainers at all the local race tracks to send their charges along at good speed, but fast work so far has been out of the question on account of lack of training and the condition of the tracks. Most of the horses in the various stables, however, seem to be in good condition for the opening of the spring racing season, and followers of the turf predict one of the biggest seasons in the records of racing in New York state.

Apropos of matters sporty it is said in pugilistic circles that Bob Fitzsimmons is in a huff concerning the bids for his fight with Jim Jeffries, slated to be decided in May. It seems a good proposition that unless the lanky Antipodean has his way concerning the amount of money a club shall give for the bout, there will be no fight, at least not with Fitz as a principal.

In the future non-members of the New York Produce Exchange will have to pay a higher rate of commission on orders executed in the local grain and breadstuffs pits. Action on this question has been taken by the board of managers of the Produce Exchange and it has been decided that instead of a commission of 1-16 per cent, the charge to outsiders should be 1/8 per cent. One of the immediate results of the advance in brokers' fees has been a sharp increase in the value of memberships, and seats which sold on the local Produce Exchange a short time ago for $200 and found few purchasers, are now quoted at $400 to $450.

GENERAL NEWS.

A letter received from Admiral Dewey, at Palm Beach, Fla., says that Mrs. Dewey is much better and on the way to complete recovery.

Jennie, the daughter of Daniel S. Lamont, ex-secretary of war, who was smitten with brain fever a month ago, is reported to have suffered a relapse and is now in a critical condition.

Measures have been taken by the board of health to stop the spread of glanders, a contagious disease of horses which has recently caused the death of many animals in New York City.

The Turkish government has decided to call to the colors 90,000 irregular troops. The mobilization is ostensibly for the annual maneuvers, but in view of the conditions in Macedonia, considerable significance is attached to the movement.

Chairman Babcock of the republican congressional committee, informed President Roosevelt that, owing to ill health, he desired to relinquish the chairmanship of the committee and that he would be glad if the president would suggest someone to take his place.

Miss Ella M. Stone, the American missionary, passed through Vienna on her way to London. Miss Stone appeared to have recovered from the effects of her captivity better than was expected by those who saw her at the time of her release. She is en route to the United States.

The waiting policy pursued by the administration and the ways and means committee of the house is having its effect, and one by one the members who have been talking so loudly for beet sugar are being picked off, and the prospects for Cuban reciprocity grow brighter day by day.

Senator Hansbrough's bill extending until January 1, 1903, the time for the presentation of claims of the several states for reimbursement of expenses incurred by them in raising and equipping volunteer regiments for service in the war with Spain, was favorably reported to the senate.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS

Wallace M. Faulkner, a millwright in the employ of the Eastern Lumber Company, at Portland, died very suddenly presumably from heart disease, aged 38 years.

The Scottish Rite Masons of Salem, 43 in number, held their annual Maundy Thursday banquet Thursday evening. The wives of the members also attended.

Mrs. Rebecca Carothers, aged 90 years, died at her home east of Salem Wednesday night, of old age. She was born in Ohio, and came to Oregon in 1885. She leaves two children.

Maundy Thursday—the date of the annual ceremony of extinguishing the lights, a time-honored custom among those of the Rosa Croix, or 32d degree Masons, was fittingly observed in Baker City.

L. C. Parkhurst, of Denver, contemplates starting a brewery at Thunder Mountain. Mr. Parkhurst is over 60 years of age and is a pioneer of most of the mining stampedes of the past 30 years. He had the first brewery in the Black Hills in 1870.

Among other freight brought to Portland Wednesday by the Oriental liner Indrapura, was a consignment of 750 bales of Calcutta grain bags. This is the second consignment of bags to reach Portland since the turn of the year, and if these shipments keep up there will be a plentiful supply.

WALLA WALLA BOYS BUY

Seventeen Claims in Thunder Mountain District.
Walla Walla, March 29.—It is learned positively that the deal for 17 claims lying in a circle almost enclosing the Dewey property on Thunder mountain was yesterday closed by Moore & Campbell of this city. The price paid by them, which is in the hundred thousands, was not made public. The holdings of Moore & Campbell now include the entire summit of Thunder mountain proper and Lightning Peak, as well as a portion of the slopes of each. The purchase was from Root and Sanburg and their associates and is the biggest deal thus far consummated in the district.

$100 Dollars Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
