Christian Church Decides to Proceed With the Construction Next Month

Building operations to begin on about May 1, the Christian church people of Pendleton are going to have a church edifice of their own. This move has been contemplated for some time, but no definite steps had been taken until recently. The congregation voted on Sunday to embark in the enterprise.

The new structure is to cost between $4000 and $5000, and is to be erected at the corner of Johnston and Water streets, where the church owns a building lot. It is one of the best locations for a church in the town. The building will contain an auditorium and gallery with a seating capacity of more than 800, a lecture room, parlor, kitchen, and robing rooms, and is to be modern in every respect. It will be built with a view to not only using it for religious and church services, but will be opened to the public for all kinds of gatherings, such as lectures, educational meetings, school institutes, commencement exercises, or any gathering of any nature that is designed to uplift or benefit the residents of Pendleton. For any such gatherings as the last named or any other meeting than those connected with the church, it is the intention of those behind the proposition to let it for the expense of running it and not charge any price whatever for the use of it more than the actual expense of opening and running of it.

The designs for the building have already been drawn and work is expected to begin by the first or middle of May, although it may possibly be a little later than this. It will be pushed then until completed and the pastor, Rev. R. A. Copple, who is financial agent for the church, W. H. Hawley, E. M. Lyons, and George Buzan, trustees, who are assisted by the members of their congregation, hope to have the edifice so that they can hold services in it the coming winter.

The Christian church was organized as a congregation in this city about four years ago, and today they have a membership of 65 or 70 active workers. Heretofore, they have had no place of their own in which to worship and have had to depend on the use of some building that did not belong to them. At present they hold their meetings in the district court room.

TWO PIONEERS OFFERED AS CANDIDATES.

John M. Bentley and A. W. Nye, for Constable and Justice.

In giving the names of the candidates nominated in convention by the democrats Saturday to fill the places of justices of the peace, constables and road supervisors, the East Oregonian of Monday left out the name of for constable for Pendleton. The nominees for Pendleton precinct are: A. W. Nye, justice; J. M. Bentley, constable. In speaking of the candidates, the East Oregonian was made to say that A. W. Nye was candidate for justice for Pendleton, John Wilson constable and Henry Smith road supervisor. The two last names should have been in the Pilot Rock precinct and J. M. Bentley should have been in the place of John Wilson. The Pilot Rock nominees were E. F. Beitel, justice; John Wilson, constable, and Henry Smith road supervisor.

In justice to Mr. Bentley the mistake is corrected and it might be added that Mr. Bentley had two competitors, but he won out in a walk for the nomination and that there is no doubt but that he will win in the contest at the polls. Mr. Bentley is well known here, where he has resided for more than 30 years and has been actively identified with the building up of the town all that time. He has the distinction of being the first man to pull the throttle of a steam engine in Pendleton. He built the first planing mill in the town, which stood on the north side of the river, near the Main street bridge, and installed an engine to generate power. This was the first engine to whistle in this valley. Mr. Bentley has held many different of-

Its remarkable emollient, cleansing, and purifying properties derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure and purest of emollients, warrant its use in preserving, purifying, and beautifying the complexion, hands, and hair, and in the form of washes and solutions for ulcerative weaknesses, annoying irritations and chafings, too free or offensive perspiration, and for many sanative purposes which readily suggest themselves. In many of the above conditions, gentle anointings with CUTICURA will prove of astonishing benefit.

ices and has always fulfilled his trust with credit to himself and his friends. He was deputy United States marshal four years under Cleveland, was sheriff of the county in 1886 and assessor for one term. He has also been a member of the common council and is at present constable, having been elected to the office two years ago.

Mr. Nye, too, the candidate for justice, is an old resident, who has been one of the active business men and politicians. He served as sheriff of Umatilla county and was a merchant in Pendleton when the town was young.

The team of candidates—A. W. Nye for justice of the peace, and J. M. Bentley for constable—offers to Pendleton two men who have had wide experience, perhaps more than any two others in the city, that qualifies them to serve the people in the judicial capacities for which they are proposed.

DR. PEARSON'S GENEROSITY.

He Will Give $50,000 to Whitman if Some Local Money is Secured.

Walla Walla, April 2.—The Union says:

If by June 15 of the present year Whitman college secures enough money to build the basement and first story of the girls' new dormitory, then Dr. Pearson, the benefactor of many colleges, will donate the sum of $50,000 for the completion of the work, to be ready by the first day of July.

The new building is to be three stories in height to be constructed of brick and stone, and will accommodate sixty persons. The plans of the structure are being prepared along the same lines as that of the girls' home at the northwestern University, and when completed will add the third modern building to the already imposing group on the Whitman campus. The new dormitory will be erected on the north side of the quadrangle facing East Main street and the campus.

President S. B. L. Penrose, of the college, has decided to remain in the west during the coming summer to be in touch with the construction of the new building. Mrs. Penrose and the children will visit friends and relatives in the east during the vacation.

Wants to Help Others.

"I had stomach trouble all my life," says Edw. Mehler, proprietor of the Union Bottling Works, Erie, Pa., "and tried all kinds of remedies, went to several doctors and spent considerable money trying to get a moment's peace. Finally I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have been taking it to my great satisfaction. I never found its equal for stomach trouble and gladly recommend it in hope that I may help other sufferers." OBSTRUCT THE FISH.

Deputy Game Warden Wells Visits Milton Officially.

Deputy Game and Fish Warden T. B. Wells, returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Milton and a stream tributary to the Walla Walla river to look after the fish interests. A dam had been placed across the stream, which impeded the path of the salmon and Mr. Wells went up to have a way provided for them to pass the dam. He says that peach trees are in bloom in the immediate vicinity of Milton and everything has the appearance of spring. Peaches will be scarce, however, as most of them were killed during the winter.

A Doctor's Bad Plight.

"Two years ago, as the result of a severe cold, I lost my voice," writes Dr. M. L. Scarborough, of Hebron, Ohio, "then began an obstinate cough. Every remedy known to me as a practicing physician for 35 years, failed, and I daily grew worse. Being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I found quick relief, and for last ten days have felt better than for two years." Positively guaranteed for Throat and Lung troubles of Tallman & Co. 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

The Value of His Father.

Sam Wodtly, as administrator of the estate of his father, Samuel Wodtly, deceased, has filed suit in the state circuit court at Portland against the Northern Pacific Terminal Company, for $5000 damages. The complaint recites that on May 4, 1901, Samuel Wodtly was walking along Northrup street, when he was knocked down and run over by a switch engine and was killed. It is alleged that the company failed to have a helper on the front part of the switch engine, as it approached and crossed the street, to warn Wodtly and others, and that the company was negligent.

New Source for Fuel.

Professors Cooley and Sadler and Messrs. Allen and Anderson, of the engineering department of the University of Michigan, are conducting experiments on a new peat-drying process, with the probability of great success. The process, it is expected, will enable them to produce peat for fuel purposes at considerably less than the price of hard coal.

GREEN GOODS SHIPMENTS BEGIN AT WALLA WALLA.

Vegetables Coming in the Market and Trade Assuming Proportions.

Walla Walla, April 2.—Vegetable shipments are beginning to assume proportions, and each day "green goods" go out in considerable quantities to points in Montana, Idaho and Eastern Washington. Nearly all shipments are by express, and only spinach and the lighter class of green goods in quantities. Nearly half a carload a day goes out to the different points, and the market cannot be fully supplied. It will be several days before shipments will be large, as the late spring has retarded the growth of vegetables and small fruits even in the warmest spots.

It is said that a splendid crop of berries is coming on and unless something happens the local market will be well supplied a little later in the season.

J. Zaring Appointed Deputy Warden.

John Zaring today took the position of deputy warden or captain of the guards at the state penitentiary, in the place of H. S. Young, resigned. Mr. Zaring and J. W. Mackay were the aspirants for the place, Mr. Zar-ing representing the Dovell faction of the republican party, and Mr. Mackay being a strong supporter of Levi Ankeny. The new official is a farmer and has resided in the county for 35 years.
