An appropriation of funds was made to enable a special committee of the council to investigate the available water power within a radius of 40 miles of Salem, with a view of purchasing the most desirable.

From Helena, Mont., State Game Warden W. E. Scott sent out letters to the game wardens of Oregon, Utah, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, North Dakota and Minnesota, proposing a conference to be held next June in the National Park. Major John Pitcher, superintendent of the park, has endorsed the idea, and promises to make the visit of the wardens pleasant.

A $25,000 BUILDING

WOODMEN WILL BUILD A TEMPLE IN PENDLETON.

Propose to Organize a Stock Company With 25,000 Shares of $1.00 Each.

The local camp and circle, at their last sessions each took action on the "matter of erecting a temple in Pendleton" for a home for Perfected Woodcraft. A special committee has been quietly looking up the matter, and its report on property available having been favorable, the matter received ratification by the local camp and circle. A building association, to be known as the "Temple Fraternity Association," will be incorporated immediately. The amount of capital stock will be 25,000 shares of the par value of one dollar each. The property on which it is proposed to build is situated on the northeast corner of Main and Water streets. Three lots there will be required for the proposed building, which the Woodmen intend shall be the most imposing structure in the city.

Already steps have been taken to secure the necessary stock subscriptions of $25,000, and those who are moving in the matter have no doubt that they will succeed. Indeed, no one else doubts it.

The incorporators for the "Temple of Woodcraft" are: A. D. Stillman, Carrie C. Van Orsdall, J. P. Earle, A. J. Owen, J. P. Walker, A. R. Holmes, Augusta Kimball, Kattie Beam, Ada Ross, Johana Bollerman, Hattie Stanfield, J. E. Krause, V. Strobble, Philip McBride, G. A. Hartman, H. M. Sloan, L. O. Sheek, Martha Greulich, H. O. Cardon, T. F. Howard, Mary Konasek and Mary Johnson.

George K. Rogers will leave tomorrow morning for Portland where he goes to make arrangements for the log-rolling the 21st and 22d, and to arrange for some additional entertainment feature for the occasion. He will return by way of The Dalles, where he will stop, visit the Woodmen and arrive here about next Wednesday.

Commercial Association Assists.

The Commercial Association, which is alive to anything of promise for good to the city, entertained Mr. George K. Rogers, of the Woodmen, at its last session, who gave an interesting talk on the great gatherings which the Woodmen of the World had held in other cities. The magnitude of the scale on which the present one is projected, the advantages which Pendleton is enjoying, by reason of having the grand guardian's office of the Women of Woodcraft located here, was shown at length. The immense amount of mail order business incident to that office, had already been the determining factor in securing a free delivery system for the city. The printing of the official journal of the Women of Woodcraft here, with a present circulation of nearly 30,000 copies per issue, and growing very rapidly, was a tremendous advertisement for the city and for Eastern Oregon, inasmuch as the words "Pendleton, Oregon," appear at the head of every paper. That the Commercial Association appreciates the importance of Perfected Woodcraft in this city, is evidenced by the fact that it appointed a special committee to act in conjunction with the Woodmen in anything that will conduce to the success of the great log-rolling and for the advancement of the city in any way.

Williams Returns.

J. S. Williams, who is visiting camps and circles outside of Pendleton, returned yesterday from his trip among those situated east of here. He reports an almost universal interest, and predicts an immense attendance from those parts. He left this morning for points in Southeastern Washington, where he will continue his mission of personally interesting people in this great movement.

Special Train From Washington.

Communications in the hands of the secretary indicate that a special train from Washington points, will in all probability be arranged. The camps at Dayton, Waitsburg, Walla Walla, Starbuck and Prescott, are confident that they can fill such a train and are actively working with the railroad people on the project. The railroad people themselves are taking great interest in the matter. J. H. O'Neil, traveling passenger agent of the O. R. & N. is making a trip to all points covered by their lines, in order to learn just the amount of equipment which will be necessary to accommodate the visitors. Special rates will be made from all points which will justify it. All points from which it is expected there will be any attendance, should immediately consult with their local railroad agent with regard to rates.

ATHENA WOODCRAFT.

Neighbors Have a Young Log-Rolling of Their Own in That Town.

The Woodmen of the World and Women of Woodcraft of Athena, covered themselves all over with glory last Tuesday evening. An elaborate program was arranged, which included a street parade, beginning at the Opera House and ending at the P. S.

W. Co.'s warehouse, an excellent musical program, exhibition of fancy drills by teams from the Athena camp and circle, addresses from the Grand Guardian, Van Orsdall, and Head Manager Stillman, and a brass band concert.

The attendance from Milton, Weston, Adams and Pendleton was very large. Over a thousand people enjoyed the exercises, and it was pronounced the most successful fraternal demonstration ever seen in that part of the woods.

The new uniform of the camp team set them off in fine shape, and those attending from Pendleton admitted that the Athena camp and circle teams are going to prove dangerous competitors to the local teams at the competitive drills in this city on the 22nd. Capt. Geo. W. Bradley won't be afraid to meet the Pendletonians in any event.

The affair was arranged by Ida M. Gillis, who is chairman of the Athena jubilee committee, and its successful conclusion reflects great credit on herself and fellow neighbors generally.

Last night the Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a twist social at the home of Miss Ona Marsh. About 30 young people were present, and they managed to twist the different features of the program into a very enjoyable time.

Rev. C. A. La Mar, of La Grande, who accepted the call of the Baptist church of this place a short time ago, arrived in Weston with his family Monday. He will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church for the first time next Sunday.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

MAY BE ESTABLISHED

On Puget Sound Within the Next Sixty Days.

Denver, April 2.—The News says: Within the next sixty days citizens of the Pacific coast will be sending wireless telegraphic messages via instruments built in Denver under the personal supervision of Gen. Irving Hale, consulting electrical engineer of the Pacific and Continental Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The messages will pass between the first two commercial stations established by the company. The instruments to be used are the most powerful ever constructed west of Pittsburg, containing improvements over those now in use on the Atlantic coast. They have been tested and worked to entire satisfaction.

General Manager A. L. New, of the company leaves for San Francisco today. While there he will decide just where the instruments are to be placed. Seattle, Tacoma, San Francisco, Portland, Los Angeles and Avalon, on the Santa Catalina Islands, are some of the cities under consideration.

It is quite possible that one of the instruments will be placed in Los Angeles and the other at Avalon.
