The United Artisans of Pendleton are feeling quite jubilant over the work during the past month. It was announced last night at their regular meeting that 100 applications for membership had been turned in during that time and the order is in a flourishing condition. A great deal of this good work and additions are due to the personal work of H. G. COMPEL ATTENTION

ANTI-EXPECTORATION LAW TO BE ENFORCED.

Marshal Blakley Says the Ordinance Must Be Respected by Everyone.
For the benefit of those who have the filthy and abominable habit of spitting on the sidewalks and in halls and public buildings, the following ordinance, which passed the common council the 21st day of February, 1900, and which is now in full force, is quoted:
"Section 1.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to expectorate or spit upon the sidewalks or crosswalks of the city of Pendleton, or upon the floor or carpet of any public hall, stairway, meeting house, assembly room or upon the floor of any public vehicle.
"Section 2.—Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction before the recorder of the city of Pendleton, be fined not less than one dollar nor more than ten dollars, or by imprisonment in the city jail not to exceed five days.
"Section 3.—It shall be the duty of the city marshal and each police officer to see that the provisions of this ordinance are strictly enforced."

He Means Business.
In speaking about this ordinance this morning, Marshal Blakley said that he did not intend to be over officious in his duties and did not want it to appear that he was too strict, but that he was sworn to see that the laws passed by the city council of Pendleton were complied with and that he was going to make a special effort to see that this ordinance in regard to expectorating on sidewalks and in public halls is respected and lived up to. Some persons have persistently broken the ordinance. It is no infrequent thing to see places along the sidewalk of Main street besmirched with tobacco juice and filth that comes from the mouths of people who have no regard for the decency and cleanliness of a town.
"This thing must be stopped," said the marshal, "and I am going to see that it is stopped in as far as it is in my power to do so. If a man is caught expectorating on the sidewalk or in a public building, he will be arrested and fined, for it is my duty to see that this ordinance is enforced. If the people do not want it, they will have to repeal it, for I am sworn to enforce all the laws of the city."

E. M. SHUTT BELIEVES HE WILL BE ELECTED.
Is Candidate for Sheriff of Morrow County on an Anti-Lawlessness Platform.
E. M. Shutt, editor of the Heppner Times, and son, were guests of Hotel St. George last night on their way home from Chicago, where they had been to consult an eye specialist in regard to the falling sight of the little boy. Mr. Shutt is candidate for sheriff of Morrow county on the republican ticket and says he stands a good show for election. He has been identified with the upbuilding of Heppner and the county in general since the establishing of the Times, five years ago, and the stand that he has taken personally and through the columns of his paper against the lawless element of the county and his views on enforcing the laws that are on the statute books has made him many warm friends, as people are growing to look at lawlessness with disgust and admired the stand of Mr. Shutt so much that he was placed on the ticket for sheriff and is thought to be the strongest man in the field for any office.
While on their return from Chicago Mr. Shutt and his son were tied up in the blockade on the Great Northern road at Minot, a little station in North Dakota, where they were compelled to remain for three days and nights. The railroad company treated its passengers very kindly though, and, aside from the delay in getting home, little inconvenience was experienced. They were all taken to the hotels and restaurants and fed without cost to the passengers.

RAIN CAME WHEN IT WAS NEEDED FOR THE CROPS.
Moisture Will Improve Conditions Materially and Cause Grain to Grow.
Last night was the first rain that has fallen to lay the dust in Pendleton for more than two weeks. The ground was getting unusually dry for the time of year and the farmers were beginning to feel alarmed about the result. Much of the grain had to be resown this spring and consequently the horrowing of the ground caused it to dry out fast and then no rain falling to wet the earth the grain had not grown as it otherwise would. The rain of last night seemed to be general, and although a great deal of water did not fall, enough fell to make a great difference. Now, with a few more such rains following along at intervals, there will be no need for alarm on the part of the wheat raisers. So far the conditions have not been very flattering, and farmers were beginning to feel somewhat blue, but a few good showers will bring things to the front and a good crop will be assured.

This is expected to be a good game and one of the largest crowds will probably witness it that ever assembled in Athena. Six coach loads will come over from Walla Walla and quite a number are going from here.

VALUES ON HOOF

STOCKMEN AWAIT BETTER PRICES BEFORE SELLING.

Plenty of Stuff in the Country, Values Being Somewhat Lower Than Last Year.
C. J. Mills, livestock agent of the Harriman lines in this part of the world, is here today. Mr. Mills has recently visited most of the centers where livestock is bred and sold, and he states that at this time there appears to be plenty of stuff in the country, but that the owners are holding it for better prices. Just now, there is a good demand, with values somewhat lower than they were at this time last season.
"As is always the case," said Mr. Mills to the East Oregonian, "it is a proposition of bringing the buyer and seller together. The seller thinks his livestock is worth more than is offered, and most of the breeders are in a position financially to assume an independence and refuse to let go before they are thoroughly satisfied that they are receiving all they ought to receive."
Wool Prospects Good.
Regarding the situation of wool, Mr. Mills said:
"According to my information, the wool clip this year will be very fine, both as to quality and quantity, with a tendency towards better values than were paid last year. However, the market is not yet made, and it will be some time before there will be a definite understanding as to just what the wool is worth. The old clips are practically all sold, so that that which will go upon the market this spring will be mostly of the 1902 crop.
"All in all, all classes of livestock—cattle, sheep and horses—are good property now, and those representing these industries are sure to reap a good harvest from their efforts of the past season."

CARGILL HOUSE BURNED.

Alkali Canyon Rancher Loses His Home by Fire.
Word reached Pendleton this afternoon to the effect that the home of William H. Cargill, a prominent farmer living in Alkali canyon, 18 miles southwest, burned to the ground at noon Sunday. The fire caught from a defective stovepipe in the garret and was discovered by one of the little girls just as it was bursting through the top of the house. Mr. Cargill and his brother carried out most of the furniture, but the house was totally destroyed. There was no insurance. The loss was about $900.

R. S. Coleman, Ann Arbor, Mich., says:
