ALL ARE AT WORK

THE WORK OF CLEANING PENDLETON HAS BEGUN.

Council's Order Has Hearty Obedience From the Citizens and Business Men in Every Quarter.

Everywhere one looks today, people can be seen cleaning up their back yards and tidying things around their premises. The announcement in the East Oregonian that the city council had instructed the police and street commissioner to look after these things and see that the town was properly cleaned up and kept looking decent, has caused every resident and business man to begin to look around them to see if there is any rubbish that the police could take exceptions to. They have begun to clean up before he gets to them and has a chance to ask them to do so.

Not only has the council asked that householders should clean up about their places over the residence part of town, but the business men have been requested to make a special effort to look after the half of the street in front of their business places and see that no undue amount of trash and rubbish congregates and remains there. In many places along Main street, at the edge of the sidewalk, continually stands a dirty pool of water and the street commissioner has begun to haul gravel and place in the low places and a special effort will be made to fix it, so that this water will run off, instead of standing to stagnate and menace the health of those compelled to pass by them. Men are out cleaning up the streets and scraping all the refuse from the surface. When this is done and the gravel is placed in the low places, it is hoped to keep these stagnant water pools from standing and so increase the looks of Main street.

When once clean and leveled up, it will only be a small matter to keep them clean. With the assistance of each business man, if he will take the proper pride that he should, Pendleton will soon look like a different place and instead of the streets looking like a pig pen they will be a credit to the town.

IN ALL WALKS OF LIFE.

Herpicide is Used to Cure Dandruff. E. H. Lyons, of New York, N. Y., says:

"I am very fond of Herpicide and enjoy using it. It is refreshing." Dr. J. A. Bush, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Newbro's Herpicide has given better satisfaction than anything I have ever used."

Mrs. Borkey, of Chadron, Neb., says of Herpicide: "It cleaned my head of dandruff and stopped my hair from falling out. It is the best remedy for dandruff I ever used, and I have used a great many."

R. S. Coleman, Ann Arbor, Mich., says: "I have used two bottles of Herpicide and derived benefit therefrom."

VICTOR HUGO THE THEME.

Thursday Afternoon Club Reviewed His Life and Works.

The Thursday Afternoon Club held one of the largest meetings of the year at the home of Mrs. James A. Fee, on Thursday. The French writer, Victor Marie Hugo, was discussed. The parlors were decorated with daffodils and the French national tricolor was displayed.

Mrs. Colesworthy read a critical analysis of the author's works, which deserves special mention. It was beautifully worded and evinced careful study and discrimination. Mrs. Sturgis gave a synopsis of "Ninety-Three," telling the story briefly, supplementing with extracts from the work. The superb romance, "Les Miserables," was reviewed by Mrs. Burroughs, who brought out many of the salient points. Several of the poems were read and a discussion on French celebrities followed. The next meeting will be on Thursday, with Miss Raley.

JOLLY CLUB'S JOLLY DANCE.

First Function After the Lenten Season Closed.

The Jolly Club entertained their numerous friends Friday night with one of their dancing parties. Very unique souvenir invitations had been printed and sent out. In response, 75 couples assembled at the LaDow Music Hall and began tripping the light fantastic to the strains of dance music furnished by Kirkman's orchestra. One of the most sociable times that has been had in Pendleton for many a day was the verdict of all who were fortunate enough to attend. The dance continued from 8 to 12 o'clock, at which time a bountiful lunch was served. This was the first dance since the Lenten season closed.

JAMES KIRKLAND DEAD.

Cancer Was the Malady—Buried Today in Milton. James Y. Kirkland, who died at the Walla Walla hospital Thursday evening and was buried in Milton today, was well and favorably known all over Umatilla county. He was at one time deputy sheriff of the county. He was only 40 years of age and has been a sufferer from cancer for a number of years. Some time ago he was taken to the hospital at Walla Walla in the hopes of getting aid from the physicians, but all that could be done could not stay the coming of the grim monster of death. He leaves a wife, but no children.

Attractive Women.

All women sensibly desire to be attractive. Beauty is the stamp of health, because it is the outward manifestation of inner purity. A healthy woman is always attractive, bright and happy. When every drop of blood in the veins is pure a beautiful flush is on the cheek. But when the blood is impure, moroseness, bad temper and a sallow complexion tells the tale of sickness, all too plainly. And women today know there is no beauty without health. Wine of Cardui attracts women with beauty and attractiveness by making strong and healthy those organs which make her a woman. Try Wine of Cardui and in a month your friends will hardly know you.

May Lengthen Ball Season.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 5.—The magnates of the New York State League have gathered here in anticipation of the schedule meeting to be held tomorrow. Besides arranging dates for the coming season, the meeting will have other business to transact. One of the important matters to receive attention is the proposition to have the season extended two weeks. A majority of the club owners seem to be in favor of having the championship contests cease the latter part of September, instead of on September 6, and the change will probably be agreed upon by the meeting.

Young Orators Contest.

Grafton, W. Va., April 5.—The presence of many students and other visitors is evidence of the interest manifested in the annual inter-state normal school oratorical contest, which is to be held in the public school auditorium here tonight. The contestants will include representatives of each of the six normal schools in the state. The contest is for prizes offered by A. J. Wilkinson, of this city. It will be the fourth contest of its kind. The first was held at Parkersburg, the second at Fairmount, and the third at Charleston. The contest tonight promises to be one of great interest.

GAVE THEM PLENTY OF BASEBALL PRACTICE.

Town Picked Team Showed Up Well Against the Regulars—Dupuis' Fine Work.

"One of the best exhibitions of scientific ball playing that been witnessed in Pendleton this season was the practice game yesterday afternoon between the Pendleton nine and a picked nine from the town," said a baseball enthusiast this morning, who witnessed the game on the local diamond Friday, when a picked team from the town played Captain Ziegler's team. At the close the score stood 4 to 0 in favor of Ziegler's team. Ed Dupuis pitched a fine game.
