WOOL MARKET OPENED WEAK-GROWN WEAKER

Some Purchases of wool, but Quotations Not Yet Made Up for the Season-Boston Doing Nothing.

E. H. Clarke, the well known wool buyer, stated to the East Oregonian this morning that the wool market has not yet assumed shape for quotations to be made. Some purchases have been made but not much has been bought. The situation here appears to be influenced by the inactivity at Boston, where, to use Mr. Clarke's words, "nothing is doing." Although the Boston wool market is in an unsaticfactory condition, he says, there is reason to hope that it will improve, and that before the sea son is much older prices will be upon a higher level. That is true notwithstanding the present tendency is for the market to weaken. The present downward tendency, in his opinion, will be followed by a firmer tone and higher values.

What It Is.

Advertising is the life blood of the business world today, and well directed advertising is like the powerfu searchlight of a river steamer, thrown upon a distant cottage on the bank, cutting it out like a picture painted on a black canvas. The timid buyer and the prospective industry will follow the rays of the searchlight of public-Joseph McCabe, general manager of ity, just as surely as will the eyes of the W. & C. R. R. Company., who was the ateamer's passengers follow the here Saturday from Walla Walla, says light thrown from their vessel. They will not search the surrounding gloom icy of improvement of the roadbed for objects of interest when a beautiand equipment, that proposes to make that system just as perfectly prepared to haul traffic as good conditions will make it. publicity is turned on your own place of business.—Canastota (N.
